Politics Of Indigeneity In The South Pacific:

Politics of Indigeneity in the South Pacific Erich Kolig, Hermann Mückler, 2002 This book contributes to a field of growing interest in socio political and anthropological circles indigeneity as a form of selfrepresentation and resistance against existing forms of state dominance Developments in indigenous minorities over recent decades in the interpretation of their own traditional history as a source of self confidence form the core of the discussion Revival of tradition re tribalization and the loss of confidence in national governments are causing increasing problems The South Pacific including Australia is on the eve of a new era the 21st Century is opening chances to overcome deep rooted obstacles and prejudices At the same time dangers are emerging in societies where democratic values are often interpreted by indigenous groups as foreign influences which should be replaced by traditional modes of representation With examples drawn from Australia New Zealand Fiji and New Caledonia the book provides a comprehensive overview of a region in transi Politics of Indigeneity in the South Pacific Hermann Mückler, Erich Kolig, 2000 Public Policy and Ethnicity Roger Openshaw, 2006-10-10 Has ethnicity become institutionalized as a political category Drawing on international studies including New Zealand the book shows that this process of public policymaking creates artificial divisions that can become permanent and detrimental as well as being at odds with the social fluidity of modern societies Preface by Jonathan Friedman The Politics of Indigeneity Roger Maaka, Augie Fleras, 2005 Indigenous peoples are increasingly uniting around a commonality of concerns needs and ambitions In both New Zealand and Canada these politics challenge the colonial structures that social and political systems are built upon Both countries have accomplished much in their management of indigenous issues New Zealand has begun to right historical wrongs through treaty settlements and to implement bicultural strategies Canada is experimenting with self government for aboriginal peoples Yet there are still many issues to be addresses with recent statistics showing indigenous peoples in bother these countries struggling to balance functioning in everyday life with preserving their cultures This book casts light on the constitutional politics in both countries that are redefining the relationship of indigenous peoples to the state A unique and timely discussion Urban Indigeneities Dana Brablec, Andrew Canessa, 2023-09-19 Increasing numbers of Indigenous peoples are living in cities yet the vast majority of studies focus solely on rural Indigenous populations This is the first book to look at urban Indigenous peoples globally and present the urban Indigenous experience not as the exception but as the norm Dismissing the false idea that indigeneity is only authentic when it is practiced in remote rural areas these wide ranging essays show that a vigorous vibrant and meaningful indigeneity can be created in urban spaces too and offers perspectives and tools to understand a contemporary Indigenous urban reality Tradition and Agency Ton Otto, Poul Pedersen, 2005-12-31 The publication of the anthology The Invention of Tradition two decades ago generated an intensive productive and sometimes confusing debate about issues of cultural politics and continuity This new book follows up on the debate in two ways In a substantive introduction the editors disentangle some of the conceptual knots and assess the relevance of the scholarship on invented traditions for an understanding of the relationship between culture and agency In addition nine chapters exemplify and develop different aspects of the theoretical discussions through selected case studies from five different regions Europe Africa Indonesia Australia and the Pacific State of Suffering Susanna Trnka,2011-05-02 How do ordinary people respond when their lives are irrevocably altered by terror and violence Susanna Trnka was residing in an Indo Fijian village in the year 2000 during the Fijian nationalist coup The overthrow of the elected multiethnic party led to six months of nationalist aggression much of which was directed toward Indo Fijians In State of Suffering Trnka shows how Indo Fijians lives were overturned as waves of turmoil and destruction swept across Fiji Describing the myriad social processes through which violence is articulated and ascribed meaning including expressions of incredulity circulation of rumors narratives and exchanges of laughter and jokes Trnka reveals the ways in which the community engages in these practices as individuals experience and try to understand the consequences of the coup She then considers different kinds of pain caused by political chaos and social turbulence including pain resulting from bodily harm shared terror and the distress precipitated by economic crisis and social dislocation Throughout this book Trnka focuses on the collective social process through which violence is embodied articulated and silenced by those it targets Her sensitive ethnography is a valuable addition to the global conversation about the impact of political violence on community life The Future of Christianity John Stenhouse,Brett Knowles,Antony Wood,2004 This book written by a group of New Zealand scholars theologians historians and lawyers examines the question of New Zealand s Western culture and Christianity The contributors explore recent debates over secularisation exploring its merits and explanatory power while also showing its limitations Shifting Images of Identity in the Pacific Toon van Meijl,2021-10-25 This book examines how identities emerge persist and change in various Pacific societies The shifting images of identity are explored in pre colonial colonial as well as post colonial circumstances All the essays in this volume address both continuity and discontinuity in the construction of identities in the rapidly changing Pacific region A region increasingly characterized by state formation processes and global influences The introduction provides a theoretical analysis of the changing paradigm in the study of identity over recent decades This is exemplified with a comparative overview of the emergence of a constructivist approach of culture tradition and identity in Pacific studies Nine ethnographic contributions subsequently address the central question from a variety of different angles Some chapters focus on classic topics such as migration and myth while others deal with indigenous peoples in modern nation states tourism economic development global consumerism or electronic communication The societies in question range from relatively isolated groups to communities living dispersed around the globe Each chapter provides valuable insights into the processes of identity in the Pacific over time An epilogue provides a comparative reading of the different theoretical solutions that have been proposed to make sense of the shifting images of identity in the contemporary increasingly transnational Pacific The SAGE Handbook of Social Anthropology Richard Fardon,Oliva

Harris, Trevor H J Marchand, Cris Shore, Veronica Strang, Richard Wilson, Mark Nuttall, 2012-07-25 In two volumes the SAGE Handbook of Social Anthropology provides the definitive overview of contemporary research in the discipline It explains the what where and how of current and anticipated work in Social Anthropology With 80 authors contributing more than 60 chapters this is the most comprehensive and up to date statement of research in Social Anthropology available and the essential point of departure for future projects The Handbook is divided into four sections Part I Interfaces examines Social Anthropology's disciplinary connections from Art and Literature to Politics and Economics from Linguistics to Biomedicine from History to Media Studies Part II Places examines place region culture and history from regional area studies to a globalized world Part III Methods examines issues of method from archives to war zones from development projects to art objects and from ethics to comparison Part IV Futures anticipates anthropologies to come in the Brain Sciences in post Development in the Body and Health and in new Technologies and Materialities Edited by the leading figures in social anthropology the Handbook includes a substantive introduction by Richard Fardon a think piece by Jean and John Comaroff and a concluding last word on futures by Marilyn Strathern The authors each at the leading edge of the discipline contribute in depth chapters on both the foundational ideas and the latest research Comprehensive and detailed this magisterial Handbook overviews the last 25 years of the social anthropological imagination It will speak to scholars in Social Anthropology and its many related disciplines

Native on the Net Kyra Landzelius, 2004-11 The Internet is increasingly being used by marginalized ethnic groups to create a form of community and unified political voice This book explores the lives and agendas of these web users and the political effects of their online activity

Changing Properties of Property Franz von Benda-Beckmann, Keebet von Benda-Beckmann, Melanie Wiber, 2009 As an important contribution to debates on property theory and the role of law in creating disputing defining and refining property rights this volume provides new theoretical material on property systems as well as new empirically grounded case studies of the dynamics of property transformations The property claimants discussed in these papers represent a diverse range of actors including post socialist states and their citizens those receiving restitution for past property losses in Africa Southeast Asia and in eastern Europe collectives corporate and individual actors The volume thus provides a comprehensive anthropological analysis not only of property structures and ideologies but also of property and its politics in action

Tourism in Pacific Islands Stephen Pratt, David Harrison, 2015-02-20 Pacific Island Countries have been shown to be especially vulnerable to such external influences as natural disasters political unrest and downturns in the global economy and their tourism industries have been notably affected In particular they typically have a narrow resource base and a fragile and often vulnerable natural environment While there is some research on islands and small states there is a dearth of information on the South Pacific and very little research is being undertaken in the region compared to other geographical regions in the world This volume brings together current work in Pacific Island tourism In this collection three main themes arise Images of the South Pacific Socio economic Impacts of Tourism and Pacific Island Countries and the Outside World The first focus is on the question of image namely stereotypes of a destination held by tourists and potential tourists the extent to which residents for their part really welcome visitors and the role tourism might play in changing pre established images The second theme is tourism s impacts notably the economic and socio cultural effects of international tourism s intrusion in the region which though often hotly debated have attracted relatively little empirical research The third focus is on the challenges of how PICs articulate with their external geo political and physical environment These involve existing relations with formal colonial centres geographical isolation the need for greater air access to the outside world and for more tourists and the continuing threat to several PICs of global warming which increased air travel will inevitably exacerbate This text will be of interest to tourism students researchers and academics in the fields of tourism development studies and cultural studies The Neoliberal State, Recognition and Indigenous Rights Deirdre Howard-Wagner, Maria Bargh, Isabel Altamirano-Jiménez, 2018-07-25 The impact of neoliberal governance on indigenous peoples in liberal settler states may be both enabling and constraining This book is distinctive in drawing comparisons between three such states Australia Canada and New Zealand In a series of empirically grounded interpretive micro studies it draws out a shared policy coherence but also exposes idiosyncrasies in the operational dynamics of neoliberal governance both within each state and between them Read together as a collection these studies broaden the debate about and the analysis of contemporary government policy The individual studies reveal the forms of actually existing neoliberalism that are variegated by historical geographical and legal contexts and complex state arrangements At the same time they present examples of a more nuanced agential bottom up indigenous governmentality Focusing on intense and complex matters of social policy rather than on resource development and land rights they demonstrate how indigenous actors engage in trying to govern various fields of activity by acting on the conduct and contexts of everyday neoliberal life and also on the conduct of state and corporate actors Oceania Alfred Reginald Radcliffe-Brown, Raymond Firth, Adolphus Peter Elkin, 2012 Gender, Property and Politics in the Pacific Rebecca Monson, 2023-01-26 Outlines how land disputes are entangled with gender ethnicity and territoriality shaping public authority and state formation Anthropos , 2007
