Portrait of a Patron Susan Jenkins, 2017-03-02 Once described as England's Apollo James Brydges first Duke of Chandos 1674-1744 was an outstanding patron of the arts during the first half of the eighteenth century Having acquired great wealth and influence as Paymaster General of Queen Anne's forces abroad Chandos commissioned work from leading artists architects poets and composers including Godfrey Kneller William Talman Sir John Vanbrugh Sir James Thornhill John Gay and George Frederick Handel Despite his associations with such renowned figures Chandos soon gained a reputation for tasteless extravagance This reputation was not helped by the publication in 1731 of Alexander Pope's poem Of Taste which was widely regarded as a satire upon Chandos and Cannons the new house he was building near Edgware The poem destroyed Chandos's reputation as a patron of the arts and ensured that he was remembered as a man lacking in taste Yet as this book shows such a judgement is plainly unfair when the Duke's patronage is considered in more depth and understood within the artistic context of his age By investigating the patronage and collections of the Duke through an examination of documentary sources and contemporary accounts it is possible to paint a very different picture of the man Rather than the epitome of bad taste described by his enemies it is clear that Chandos was an enlightened patron who embraced new ideas and strove to establish a taste for the Palladian in England which was to define the Georgian era

Roman Strigillated Sarcophagi Janet Huskinson, 2015-11-05 This is the first full study of Roman strigillated sarcophagi which are the largest group of decorated marble sarcophagi to survive in the city of Rome Characterized by panels of carved fluting hence the description strigillated after the curved strigil used by Roman bathers to scrape off oil and limited figure scenes they were produced from the mid second to the early fifth century AD and thus cover a critical period in Rome from empire to early Christianity Roman Strigillated Sarcophagi focuses on their rich potential as an historical source for exploring the social and cultural life of the city in the later empire The first part of the volume examines aspects of their manufacture use and viewing emphasizing distinctive features The second part looks at the figured representations carved on the sarcophagi and at their social significance and creativity concentrating on how their various arrangements allowed viewers to develop their own interpretations. The subjects represented by the figures and the flexibility with which they might be read provide invaluable insights into how Romans thought about life and death during these changing times. The final part of the volume surveys how later societies responded to Roman strigillated sarcophagi. From as early as the fifth century AD, their distinctive decoration and allusions to the Roman past made them especially attractive for reuse in particular contemporary contexts, notably for elite burials and the decoration of prominent buildings. The motif of curved fluting was also adopted and adapted; it decorated neo-classical memorials to Captain Cook, Napoleon's sister-in-law Christine Boyer and Penelope Boothby, and its use continues into this century, well over one and a half millennia since it first decorated Roman sarcophagi.
