

Sea Fever

BY JOHN MASEFIELD

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by;
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking,
And a grey mist on the sea's face, and a grey dawn breaking,

I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the sea-gulls crying.

I must go down to the seas again, to the vagrant gypsy life,
To the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like a whetted knife;
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover,
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

Design and Spirituality Stuart Walker, 2020-12-30 Design and Spirituality examines the philosophical context of our current situation and its implications for design. It explores how modernity and our constricted notions of progress have contributed to today's crisis of values and argues for a re-establishment and re-affirmation of self-transcending priorities together with an ethos of moderation and sufficiency. A wide range of topics are covered including material culture and spiritual teachings, sustainability and the spiritual perspective, traditional and indigenous knowledge, technology and spirituality, notions of meaningful design and how particular material things can have deeper symbolic significance. There are also reflections on areas such as the language of design, business and its relationship to wisdom, design and social disparity and traditional sacred practices. While not avoiding issues that are controversial and sometimes hard hitting, Design and Spirituality gets to the heart of the key issues affecting us today and presents them in a highly readable and accessible format. The author is a leading thinker in the field and he presents his arguments in a manner that invites the reader to reflect and think about where we are going, why we are going there and what really matters. The Traveler's Book of Verse Frederick Earle Emmons, Thomas Waterman Huntington, 1928

The Columbia Anthology of British Poetry Carl R. Woodring, James Shapiro, 1995-12-07 A sweeping compendium of British verse from Old and Middle English to the present including the best work of poets from every corner of the British Isles. The Columbia Anthology of British Poetry offers the most up-to-date and comprehensive single volume available. Carl Woodring and James Shapiro, the same experienced editorial team who brought students and lovers of literature The Columbia History of British Literature, now present a volume that resonates with contemporary significance yet also takes into account the centuries-old poetic tradition that planted Great Britain centrally in the canon of Western Literature. The Columbia Anthology pays tribute to the renowned works that any include Chaucer, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Blake, Eliot, Auden. But the book also resurrects the voices of excellent poets, particularly women such as Queen Elizabeth I, Anne Ingram and Christina Rossetti who have been unjustifiably ignored until recently. Contemporary British poetry is fully represented as well with the work of Thom Gunn, Seamus Heaney, Liz Lochhead and Paula Meehan bringing The Columbia Anthology up to the minute. Unencumbered by extensive notes that divert attention from the spirit of verse, The Columbia Anthology of British Poetry allows readers to discover the poems for themselves. It is a collection poetry lovers will want on their shelves for years to come to read and enjoy again and again.

Mentoring Poems 4 Mary Anneeta Mann, 2010 This Anthology of Poetry is for educational use. It covers the period from Shakespeare's age to the present. In these four centuries civilization has undergone a sea change in its shift to accelerated knowledge and technological capability. Poets are struggling to express it. There was great redeeming human awareness that grew out of the 20th century: a recognition of the inalienable value of the single human life living freely and the need for reverence for it This is clearly illustrated in the difference between After Blenheim by Robert Southey born in 1774 and Anthem for Doomed Youth by Wilfred Owen born in 1893 Concerning war Why twas a very wicked thing said little Wilhelmine Nay Nay My little girl quoth he It was a famous victory compared with What passing bells for these who die as cattle Poets are historians of the heart the organ of love They adjust to the best of their ability to their surroundings mundane or otherwise to their environment inspiring or depressing to our advancing civilization at whatever level they perceive it However there is a recognition of the fragility of life emerging in the 21st century despite the technological revolution or perhaps because of it Each human being is struggling to find and hold on to individual harmony with the Life Force the love of the Universe amid a plethora of conflicting peripheral yet powerful passions many still violating the hard earned reverence for life So the poems in this Anthology have been selected for their spiritual wisdom and harmony their dramatic use of the cadences and beauty of the English Language as well as their pure simplicity and their ability to be part of the healing process soothing the soul mentoring the heart and encouraging us to find meaning in our lives and to understand our role in the universe for example from William Davies Nature s Friends Say what you like all things love me I pick no flowers that wins the bee

A fizzing, exhilarating book. Sebastian Faulks, Sunday Times. What is poetry? If music is sound, organized in a particular way, poetry is a way of organizing language. It is language made special so that it will be remembered and valued. It does not always work over the centuries: countless thousands of poems have been forgotten. But this Little History is about some that have not. John Carey tells the stories behind the world's greatest poems from the oldest surviving one written nearly four thousand years ago to those being written today. Carey looks at poets whose works shape our views of the world, such as Dante, Chaucer, Shakespeare, Whitman and Yeats. He also looks at more recent poets like Derek Walcott, Marianne Moore and Maya Angelou who have started to question what makes a poem great in the first place. For readers both young and old, this little history shines a light for readers on the richness of the world's poems and the elusive quality that makes them all the more enticing. Oceanic Connections Ellen Howley, 2025-09-15 Oceanic Connections is a first of its kind comparative study of Anglophone Irish and Caribbean poets who write widely about the sea, revealing the similarities across the poetic traditions of both regions. In turning to the sea, Ellen Howley applies a blue humanities lens to the work of major poets from Ireland and the Anglophone Caribbean, such as Derek Walcott, Kamau Brathwaite, Seamus Heaney and Medbh McGuckian. She demonstrates how the sea is more than a backdrop or metaphor; it is a generative space of creative and historical meaning. Through careful analysis, Howley shows how poets from these geographically distant but culturally resonant regions engage with the ocean's material realities and mythic depths Howley navigates between concrete maritime experiences sailors shipwrecks coastal labor and the sea's profound metaphorical potential Poets become cartographers of both physical and imaginative spaces mapping connections that span continents and centuries Oceanic Connections reveals how the ocean simultaneously represents historical trauma cultural memory and a site of transformative artistic expression Building on studies of Irish Caribbean connections by Michael Malouf Lee M Jenkins Stephanie Pocock Boeninger Allison Donnell Maria McGarrity and Evelyn O Callaghan this study furthers the comparative conversation through its emphasis on poetic resemblances illuminating surprising commonalities while honoring each tradition's unique voice
