The Early History of the Ancient Near East, 9000-2000 B.C. Hans J. Nissen, Kenneth J. Northcott, 2011-03-04 Hans J Nissen here provides a much needed overview of 7000 years of development in the ancient Near East from the beginning of settled life to the formation of the first regional states His approach to the study of Mesopotamian civilization differs markedly from conventional orientations which impose a sharp division between prehistoric and historic literate periods Nissen argues that this approach is too rigid to explain the actual development of that civilization He deemphasizes the invention of writing as a turning point viewing it as simply one more phase in the evolution of social complexity and as the result of specific social economic and political factors With a unique combination of material culture analysis written data Nissan traces the emergence of the earliest isolated settlements the growth of a network of towns the emergence of city states and finally the appearance of territorial states From his synthesis of the prehistoric and literate periods comes a unified picture of the development of Mesopotamian economy society and culture Lavishly illustrated The Early History of the Ancient Near East 9000 2000 B C is an authoritative work by one of the most insightful observers of the evolution and character of Mesopotamian civilization

The Archaeomusicology of the Ancient Near East Richard J. Dumbrill, 2005 This volume is a massive leap forward over any previous synthesis of the subject and includes at the very minimum so much information that its academic and scientific value is self evident The freshness and profundity of Dumbrill's approach to the subject exceeds anything attempted before The mythology of ancient Mesopotamia proves readable as tonal allegory when its numerology is decoded as tuning theory By the third millennium BC both pentatonic and heptatonic tunings were quantified throughout the entire 12 tone gamut Richard Dumbrill has documented the massive empirical experience with strings and pipes that makes this early musicalization of the universe believable The volume consists in 4 parts with foreword by Prof Ernest McClain The first is about the decipherment translation and interpretation of the few theoretical cuneiform texts dating from the Old Babylonian period about 2000 BC to Neo Assyrian up to the mid first millennium BC Dumbrill undertakes comparative analyses and criticism of various interpretations having preceded his own and introduces new material The second part is about the Hurrian hymns the earliest music ever written circa 1400 BC and are produced in their integrality Attempts to the interpretation of Hymn H 6 are compared and followed by Dumbrill's methodology and interpretation Each fragment of the collection is analyzed separately The part concludes with statistical analyses attempting at the reconstruction of some Hurrian rules of composition The third part consists in the organology with relevant philology and is the largest collection of the Mesopotamian instrumentarium The last part is a unique lexicon of all known Mesopotamian terminology with quotation of texts in which the philology appears The book had been previously published under the title of The Musicology and Organology of the Ancient Near East and now appears under its new title The Royal City of Susa Musée du Louvre,1992 A rich production followed of objects for daily use ritual and luxury living finely carved in various materials or fashioned of clay Monumental sculpture was made in stone or bronze and dramatic friezes were composed of brilliantly glazed bricks Among the discoveries are tiny intricately carved cylinder seals and splendid jewelry Clay balls marked with symbols offer fascinating testimony to the very beginnings of writing clay tablets from later periods bearing inscriptions in cuneiform record political history literature business transactions and mathematical calculations A very important group of finds from Susa is made up of objects brought back as booty from conquests in Mesopotamia These works many of them the royal monuments of Akkadian and Babylonian monarchs for instance the great stele of Naram Sin are among the best known of all objects from the ancient Near East Das Archiv des Silwa-Tessup Diana Stein,Gernot Wilhelm,1993 Walking with the Unicorn: Social Organization and Material Culture in Ancient South Asia Dennys Frenez,Gregg M. Jamison,Randall W. Law,Massimo Vidale,Richard H. Meadow,2018-08-13 This volume a compilation of original papers written to celebrate the outstanding contributions of Jonathan Mark Kenoyer to the archaeology of South Asia over the past forty years highlights recent developments in the archaeological research of ancient South Asia with specific reference to the Indus Civilization Essays on Ancient Anatolia and Its Surrounding Civilizations Mikasa no Miya Takahito (principe del Giappone.),1995 The Storm-god in the Ancient Near East Alberto Ravinell Whitney Green,2003 Green traces these motifs through the Mesopotamian Anatolian Syrian and Levantine regions he argues that in the end Yahweh of the Bible can be identified as a storm god though certain unique characteristics came to be associated with him he was the creator of all that is created and the self existing god who needs no other BOOK JACKET Identifying Biblical Persons in Northwest Semitic Inscriptions of 1200-539 B.C.E. Lawrence J. Mykytiuk,2004 The first comprehensive system for associating persons mentioned in the Hebrew Bible with persons mentioned in Northwest Semitic inscriptions This book applies this system in detail to a small number of Hebrew inscriptions the Mesa Inscription and the Tel Dan stele Appendixes updated through mid 2002 briefly evaluate potential identifications of over 75 biblical persons in over 90 Northwest Semitic inscriptions which are mostly contemporary with the person Resulting identifications and non identifications appear in six categories of strength or weakness from unmistakable to disqualified The final product is a first ever corpus consisting only of inscriptions that name biblical persons This technical book will appeal to scholars graduate students seminarians religious leaders and others who have a working knowledge of at least one Northwest Semitic language and to nonspecialists interested in questions about biblical historicity On Art in the Ancient Near East Volume II Irene Winter,2009-11-27 This second volume of collected essays complement to volume one focuses upon the art and culture of the third millennium B C E in ancient Mesopotamia Stress is upon the ability of free standing sculpture and public monuments not only to reflect cultural attitudes but to affect a viewing audience Using Sumerian and Akkadian texts as well as works the power of visual experience is pursued toward an understanding not only of the monuments but of their times and our own These beautifully produced volumes bring together essays written over a 35 year period creating a whole that is much more than the sum of its parts No library should be without this impressive collection J C Exum Bulletin, 1977 The Emergence of Civilization Charles Keith Maisels, 2003-12-16 The Emergence of Civilisation is a major contribution to our understanding of the development of urban culture and social stratification in the Near Eastern region Charles Maisels argues that our present assumptions about state formation based on nineteenth century speculations are wrong His investigation illuminates the changes in scale complexity and hierarchy which accompany the development of civilisation The book draws conclusions about the dynamics of social change and the processes of social evolution in general applying those concepts to the rise of Greece and Rome and to the collapse of the classical Mediterranean world Elam and Persia Javier Álvarez-Mon, Mark B. Garrison, 2011-06-30 The late 7th and 6th centuries B C were a period of tremendous upheaval and change in ancient western Asia marked by the destruction of the Assyrian Empire the rise and collapse of the Neo Babylonian state and the stunning ascent of what was to become the Achaemenid Persian Empire the largest polity the world had yet seen Of the major cultural entities involved in these far reaching events Elam has long remained the least understood The essays contained in this book are part of a continuing reassessment of the nature and significance of Elam in the early 1st millennium B C with a focus on the relationship between Elamite culture of the Neo Elamite period and the emerging Persian culture in southwestern Iran in the 7th and 6th centuries B C The conception of this volume goes back to the 2003 meeting of the American Schools of Oriental Research that took place in Philadelphia Pennsylvania where two sessions were dedicated to the rich cultural heritage of ancient Iran It was also the first time that Iranian archaeology was represented at ASOR since the Iranian Revolution This volume contains 14 contributions by leading scholars in the discipline organized into 3 sections archaeology texts and images art history The volume is richly illustrated with more than 200 drawings and photographs Revolution and Evolution in Private Law Sarah Worthington, Andrew Robertson, Graham Virgo, 2018-01-11 The development of private law across the common law world is typically portrayed as a series of incremental steps each one delivered as a result of judges dealing with marginally different factual circumstances presented to them for determination This is said to be the common law method According to this process change might be assumed to be gradual almost imperceptible If this were true however then even Darwinian style evolution which is subject to major change inducing pressures such as the death of the dinosaurs would seem unlikely in the law and radical and revolutionary paradigms shifts perhaps impossible And yet the history of the common law is to the contrary The legal landscape is littered with quite remarkable revolutionary and evolutionary changes in the shape of the common law The essays in this volume explore some of the highlights in this fascinating revolutionary and evolutionary development of private law The contributors expose the nature of the changes undergone and their significance for the future direction of travel They identify the circumstances and the contexts which might have provided an impetus for these significant changes The essays range across all areas of private law including contract tort unjust enrichment and property No area has been immune from development That fact itself is unsurprising but an extended examination of the particular circumstances and contexts which delivered some of private law s most important developments has its own special significance for what it might indicate about the shape and the shaping of private law regimes in the future The Seal of the Sanga Michel Tanret,2010 This study assembles and examines all available documentation on the first and second sangas of ama of the Ebabbar temple in Old Babylonian Sippar as well as on those in the Edikuda temple in neighbouring Sippar Amn num Their succession family links and the length of their careers are discussed and newly completed drawings of their seals are provided described and analyzed The author addresses the evolving patterns of sealing and the changes in the seal legends which yield information on the growing influence of the Marduk circles and thus of the kings of Babylon The seal stones have been reconstructed from the impressions and conclusions are drawn concerning the choice of seal scenes by the different sangas as well as the use of family seals A Companion to Assyria Eckart Frahm,2017-03-24 A Companion to Assyria is a collection of original essays on ancient Assyria written by key international scholars These new scholarly contributions have substantially reshaped contemporary understanding of society and life in this ancient civilization The only detailed up to date introduction providing a scholarly overview of ancient Assyria in English within the last fifty years Original essays written and edited by a team of respected Assyriology scholars from around the world An in depth exploration of Assyrian society and life including the latest thought on cities art religion literature economy and technology and political and military history Excavations at Gilund Vasant Shinde,Teresa P. Raczek,Gregory L. Possehl,2014-05-27 Located in the Mewar region of Rajasthan India Gilund is the largest known site of the Ahar Banas Cultural Complex a large agropastoral group that was contemporaneous with and flanked by the Indus Civilization Occupied during the Chalcolithic and Early Historic periods the ancient site of Gilund holds significant clues to understanding third millennium B C E cultural interactions in South Asia and beyond Excavations at Gilund provides a full analysis of the artifacts recovered during the five year excavation project conducted by the University of Pennsylvania and Deccan College The excavators investigated the regional development of early farming villages their shifting subsistence practices their economy and trade with other cultures and the traces of Gilund s transition from the Chalcolithic to the Iron Age Their findings shed light on the extent and nature of early trade networks the rise of early complex societies and the symbolic and ideological beliefs of this region This volume synthesizes new discoveries with previous findings and considers Gilund in a broader regional and global context making it the most comprehensive presentation of archaeological data for this region to date Contributors Marta Ameri Shweta Sinha Deshpande Debasri Dasgupta Ghosh Lorena Giorgio Praveena Gullapalli Julie Hanlon Peter Johansen Matthew Landt Gregory L. Possehl Teresa P. Raczek Vasant Shinde University Museum Monograph 138 Archaic Bookkeeping Hans J. Nissen,Peter Damerow,Robert K. Englund,1993 This work brings together current scholarship on the earliest true writing system in human history Invented by the Babylonians at the end of the fourth millennium BC this script called proto cuneiform survives in the form of clay tablets that have until now posed formidable barriers to interpretation Many tablets excavated in fragments from ancient dump sites lack a clear context In addition the purpose of the earliest tablets was not to record language but to monitor the administration of local economies by means of a numerical system

Ancient Near Eastern Cylinder Seals from the Marcopoli Collection Beatrice Teissier, 2023-11-15 The Marcopoli Collection of ancient Near Eastern cylinder and stamp seals offers a remarkable window into the art and history of Syria and surrounding regions Established in the late 19th century by the Marcopoli family hereditary Italian consuls in Aleppo this collection is a testament to their fascination with archaeology and commitment to preserving relics of the past Under Paolo Marcopoli's stewardship the collection expanded significantly and stands today as a treasure trove of artifacts particularly rich in Syrian seals from the third and early second millennia These seals are invaluable for enhancing our understanding of Syrian glyptic art adding new layers of iconographical data and exceptional artistry to the historical record This catalogue focuses primarily on the collection's cylinder seals providing detailed descriptions and insights into their styles and iconography and classifies the seals based on established conventions The seals' broad geographic origins from Syria to southern and northern Mesopotamia and potentially Iran further enrich the collection's diversity This work is essential for scholars and enthusiasts of ancient Near Eastern history and art offering a glimpse into the region's cultural heritage complete with meticulous documentation and cross references to other significant collections A forthcoming catalogue will explore the equally fascinating stamp seals of this collection This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1984

The Domain of Images James Elkins, 2018-08-06 In the domain of visual images those of fine art form a tiny minority This original and brilliant book calls upon art historians to look beyond their traditional subjects painting drawing photography and printmaking to the vast array of nonart images including those from science technology commerce medicine music and archaeology Such images James Elkins asserts can be as rich and expressive as any canonical painting Using scores of illustrations as examples he proposes a radically new way of thinking about visual analysis one that relies on an object's own internal sense of organization Elkins begins by demonstrating the arbitrariness of current criteria used by art historians for selecting images for study He urges scholars to adopt instead the far broader criteria of the young field of image studies After analyzing the philosophic underpinnings of this interdisciplinary field he surveys the entire range of images from calligraphy to mathematical graphs and abstract painting Throughout Elkins blends philosophic analysis with historical detail to produce a startling new sense of such basic terms as pictures writing and notation
