Seams Art As A Philosophical Context:

Seams Stephen Melville, Jeremy Gilbert-Rolfe, 2013-07-04 Jeremy Gilbert Rolfe brings to Melville's work the insight not only of an art critic and theorist but of a practicing artist as well. Navigating through the complexity of contemporary thought and philosophy, Gilbert Rolfe unravels the Gordian knot of the diverse discourses that circumscribe Melville's views, revealing the practicality and clarity of Melville's speculative narratives. Stephen Melville is one of the most thoughtful critics to emerge in recent years. He has applied the tools developed by Jacques Derrida and Jacques Lacan to the problems of contemporary art. With his roots in Kant, Hegel and Heidegger, he reopens questions of art's reception, interpretation and commentary. Not only does he articulate the limitations of these categories and how they are set into motion, stasis and balance are not the goal. He demonstrates how the territory of each of these discourses is maintained by their relationship to one another. Melville's texts not only represent the complexity of his subject.

The Handbook of Visual Culture Ian Heywood, Barry Sandywell, 2017-04-20 Visual culture has become one of the most dynamic fields of scholarship, a reflection of how the study of human culture increasingly requires distinctively visual ways of thinking and methods of analysis. Bringing together leading international scholars to assess all aspects of visual culture, the Handbook aims to provide a comprehensive and authoritative overview of the subject. The Handbook embraces the extraordinary range of disciplines which now engage in the study of the visual: film and photography, television, fashion, visual arts, digital media, geography, philosophy, architecture, material culture, sociology, cultural studies and art history. Throughout, the Handbook is responsive to the cross-disciplinary nature of many of the key questions raised in visual culture around digitization, globalization, cyberculture, surveillance, spectacle and the role of art. The Handbook guides readers new to the area as well as experienced researchers into the topics, issues and questions that have emerged in the study of visual culture since the start of the new millennium, conveying the boldness, excitement and vitality of the subject.

Liotard and the 'figural' in Performance, Art and Writing Kiff Bamford, 2012-06-14 This original study offers a timely reconsideration of the work of French philosopher Jean-François Lyotard in relation to art, performance and writing. How can we write about art whilst acknowledging the transformation that inevitably accompanies translations of both media and temporality? That is the question that persistently dogs Lyotard's own writings on art and to which this book responds through reference to artists from the recently formed canon of performance art history, including the myths of seminal figures Marina Abramovic and Vito Acconci and the controlled documentation of Gina Pane's actions. Through the unstable, untranslatable element that Lyotard calls the figural, his thought is brought to bear on attempts to write a history of performance art and to question the paradoxically prescriptive demand for rules to govern re-performance. Kiff Bamford contextualises Lyotard's writings and approach with reference to both his contemporaries, including Deleuze and Kristeva, and the contemporary art about which they wrote whilst arguing for the pertinence of Lyotard's provocations today.

Media Research Marshall McLuhan, 2014-01-02 Herbert Marshall McLuhan 1911-1980 received his PhD in English literature from Cambridge University and taught in the United States and Canada. He is best known, however, as the founding father of media studies. McLuhan was Director of the Center for Culture and Technology at the University of Toronto. Among his ground-breaking works on the psychic and social dimensions of communication technology are The Gutenberg Galaxy (1962), Understanding Media: the Extensions of Man (1964), and The Medium Is the Message: An Inventory of Effects (1967). Michel Moos' premise is that Marshall McLuhan's importance derives from his achievements in rethinking the entire process of education and training, itself not with his popular fame as media guru, but he analyzes McLuhan's work from the feedback effect; his vision continues to provide rather than from the perspective of interpreting McLuhan's pronouncements on the electronic media. Moos contrasts McLuhan's thoughts with those of such thinkers as Roland Barthes, Fredric Jameson, Friedrich Kittler, Donna Haraway, and Deleuze and Guattari and renders an updated account of the effect of the mass media on our society and ourselves. The concept 'the medium is the message' is the hub around which Marshall McLuhan's explorations revolved. McLuhan's interests ranged from sixteenth-century literature to twentieth-century business practices. With wit and literary flair, he reported the media's influence on society and on the individual. He concluded that we could not escape being transformed by the forces that are hidden deeply within the electronic telecommunications revolution of the sixties. For McLuhan, the new mediums of film, television, and the emerging realm of the digital were the modern equivalent of Gutenberg's printing press.

Essays by M. McLuhan, Edited and with a Commentary by M. A. Moos.

Difference / Indifference Moira Roth, Jonathan D. Katz, 2014-04-08 First Published in 1999. For the first time gathered together in book form, here are the influential writings of Moira Roth: articles, lectures, and interviews on the two men who for so long embodied the very spirit of the avant-garde: Marcel Duchamp and John Cage. For almost thirty years, Duchamp and Cage, who seemed to live on the border of modernism and later of postmodernism, alternately have fascinated, irritated, inspired, and daunted the author. Since her initial engagement with Duchamp and Cage in the early seventies, Roth increasingly focused on the work of many American artists, primarily women, only to return to Duchamp and Cage intermittently. At first, they were an inspiration for her writing and teaching. However, as they transformed themselves into classical figures, she came to reconsider and re-evaluate them. This collection offers a wide variety of literary forms: analytic, diaristic, art historical, and autobiographical, all of which Roth has used in her work. Collectively, these writings form the subject of a compelling and unique critical exchange between Moira Roth, who holds the Trefethen Chair of Art History at Mills College, Oakland, and Jonathan D. Katz, who is Chair of the Department of Gay and Lesbian Studies at City College, San Francisco.

Arguing that place oriented inquiries allowed poets and artists to develop new experimental models of historiography and ethnography Lytle Shaw draws out the shifting terms of this practice from World War II to the present through a series of illuminating case studies. Beginning with the alternate national genealogies unearthed by William Carlos Williams in Paterson and Charles Olson in Gloucester Shaw demonstrates how subsequent poets sought to ground such inquiries in concrete social formations to in effect live the poetics of place. Gary Snyder in his back to the land familial compound Kitkitdizze Amiri Baraka in a black nationalist community in Newark Robert Creeley and the poets of Bolinas California in the capacious now of their poet run town. Turning to the work of Robert Smithson who called one of his essays an appendix to Paterson and who in turn has exerted a major influence on poets since the 1970s Shaw then traces the emergence of site specific art in relation both to the poetics of place and to the larger linguistic turn in the humanities considering poets including Clark Coolidge Bernadette Mayer and Lisa Robertson. By putting the poetics of place into dialog with site specificity in art Shaw demonstrates how poets and artists became experimental explicators not just of concrete locations and their histories but of the discourses used to interpret sites more broadly. It is this dual sense of fieldwork that organizes Shaw's groundbreaking history of site specific poetry Music/ideology Jean-François Lyotard, 1998 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Framing Formalism Richard Woodfield, 2013-10-23 Alois Riegl 1858 1905 was one of the founding fathers of modern formalist criticism.
