Peace can also be defined as a state or situation where there is no war or no serious conflict.

There was no longer that intense engineering incentive and there was no longer any plans. The representatives from most of the 48 countries decided that they must do something to establish peace and a very important document was signed. The document was made up of four very important agreements. The document was:

- To ensure that international goods and services
- To ensure that the interests among nations based on respect for equal rights
- To reduce the national government's role in solving international problems
- To be a catalyst for harmonizing the values of nations in the advancement of these goals
