In Search of the Immortals Howard Reid, 2014-05-06 Everyone knows that the ancient Egyptians were great mummifiers and their sarcophagi and bandage wrapped corpses are familiar images to us all Yet across the vast sweep of history we find many other great cultures in which the bodies of the dead were preserved as a matter of course In coastal Peru were the Chinchorros whose mummifying culture flowered several millennia before Egypt's and in the Andes were the Chachapoyas the Cloud People a lost civilization which has only recently begun to be understood In China's Taklamakan desert the oddly Caucasian looking people who established the Silk Route which made possible the first trade between East and West have left behind stunningly lifelike mummies The ritually sacrificed bodies preserved in the peat bogs of northern Europe give us an extraordinary insight into life in the Dark Ages And in the Canary Islands perhaps most surprisingly of all lived the Guanches whose sophisticated mummification techniques and whose cultural links with the Egyptians Howard Reid explores here for the first time Taking his extraordinary first hand experiences of discovering and filming mummies all over the world as his starting point Howard Reid brings these ancient cultures vividly to life And in so doing In Search of the Immortals comes to represent his personal quest to find an answer to that most epic and timeless of human problems the meaning of death

Egyptology: The Missing Millennium Okasha El Daly, 2016-07-01 Egyptology The Missing Millennium brings together for the first time the disciplines of Egyptology and Islamic Studies seeking to overturn the conventional opinion of Western scholars that Moslems Arabs had no interest in pre Islamic cultures This book examines a neglected period of a thousand years in the history of Egyptology from the Moslem annexation of Egypt in the seventh century CE until the Ottoman conquest in the 16th century Concentrating on Moslem writers as it is usually Islam which incurs blame for cutting Egyptians off from their ancient heritage the author shows not only the existence of a large body of Arabic sources on Ancient Egypt but also their usefulness to Egyptology today Using sources as diverse as the accounts of travelers and treasure hunters to books on alchemy the author shows that the interest in ancient Egyptian scripts continued beyond classical writers and describes attempts by medieval Arab scholars mainly alchemists to decipher the hieroglyph script He further explores medieval Arab interest in Ancient Egypt discussing the interpretations of the intact temples as well as the Arab concept of Egyptian kingship and state administration including a case study of Queen Cleopatra that shows how the Arabic romance of this queen differs significantly from Western views This book will be of great interest to academics and students of archaeology Islamic studies and Egyptology as well as anyone with a general interest in Egyptian history Searching for Home Abroad Jeff of Punt: In Search of the Divine Land of the Egyptians Dhani Irwanto, 2019-03-22 The Land of Punt was an ancient trading partner of Egypt. It was known for producing and exporting gold, incense, aromatic resins, ebony, ivory, tortoise shells, and wild animals. The region is known from ancient Egyptian records of trade expeditions to it. The ancient Egyptians called the Land of Punt the Divine Land or the Land of Gods. When interpreted as holy land or land of the ancestors, meant that the ancient Egyptians viewed the Land of Punt as their ancestral homeland and its location is toward the sunrise, the abode of the sun god Ra. The exact location of the Land of Punt is unknown. Through the centuries, debate goes on with scholars and historians on every side offering plausible supports for their claims. After gathering abundance of converging evidence, the author argues that the Land of Punt is located in Sumatera, Indonesia. In connection with the Land of Punt as the ancestral land of the ancient Egyptians, it can be concluded that the Divine Land or the ancestral land of the Egyptians is Sumatera.
