Mad City:

New York Magazine, 1997-11-24 New York Magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea.

The films of Costa-Gavras Homer B. Pettey, 2020-06-11 Costa Gavras is a seminal figure in French and international cinema. A master of the political thriller, he explores historical events through individual human stories, thereby involving his audience in past and contemporary traumas from the horrors of the Holocaust through mid-century international state terrorism and totalitarianism to the current global financial crisis. With a career spanning half a century, he remains one of cinema's most intriguing and enduring storytellers, theorists, and political commentators. This collection of original essays charts and re-examines Costa Gavras's career from Un homme de trop (1967) to Le capital (2012). Readable and carefully researched, it will appeal to students and scholars of film as well as fans of the director's work.

New Media and Learning in the 21st Century Tzu-Bin Lin, Victor Chen, Ching Sing Chai, 2015-02-25 This volume brings together conceptualizations and empirical studies that explore the socio-cultural dimension of new media and its implications on learning in the 21st century classroom. The authors articulate their vision of new media enhanced learning at a global level. The high level concept is then re-examined for different degrees of contextualization and localization, for example, how a specific form of new media, e-reader, changes specific activities in different cultures. In addition, studies based in Singapore classrooms provide insights as to how these concepts are being transformed and implemented by a constructive effort on the part of researchers, teachers, and students. Singapore classrooms offer a unique environment to study the theory-practice nexus in that they are high achieving, implicitly grounded in the eastern cultural values, and well equipped with ICT infrastructure. While these studies are arguably the state of the art exemplars that synergize socio-cultural and technological affordances of the current learning environments, they also serve as improvable ideas for further innovations. The interplay between theory and practice lends support to the reciprocal improvements for both. This book contributes to the continuing debate in the field and will lead to better learning environments in the 21st century.
