It takes the help of his wife, the farmhand, the maid, his daughter, the dog, the cat, and the mouse to finally pull up an enormous plant with heaps of huge potatoes on it. When Cody Became a Mouse Potato Bonnie Nygard, Susan Koonce, 2002 *The church mouse, by Mrs. F.J. Imaginings Cameron McNaughton, 2019-04-10 Imaginings is a book I have had the utmost pleasure in writing and producing. Imaginings covers a variety of topics of all types for all types of people to enjoy and study if you wish. The various topics that are discussed were actually created as coping mechanisms for me personally as the writer to get through my own struggles by understanding the perspectives of other people. That's what Imaginings is: it's based on other people's perspectives. I believe we can all have our favourites though I have no connection to the book in its entirety. I can emotionally connect and relate to many poems. Other people will as well, just with their own unique poem and taste. I have always had the idea, and this is where I got the name from, that Imaginings would surround people with different feelings, images and ideas that only they can feel. That's what I want, and that's what Imaginings are. From the bottom of my heart, dear reader, I hope you find your special poem/s and I would love for you to express your ideas. This is a message from me, Cameron. I hope you enjoy.

Lexical Creativity, Texts and Contexts Judith Munat, 2007 The coining of novel lexical items and the creative manipulation of existing words and expressions is heavily dependent on contextual factors including the semantic, stylistic, textual and social environments in which they occur. The twelve specialists contributing to this collection aim to illuminate creativity in word formation with respect to functional discourse roles but also examine critical creativity determined by language policy as well as diachronic phonetic variation in creatively coined words. The data, based either on large corpora or smaller hand collected samples, is drawn from advertising, the daily press, electronic communication, literature, spoken interaction, cartoons, lexical ontologies and style guides. Smith,2020-02-19 From obscure Pre Columbian beginnings in the Andes Mountains to global popularity today the story of the potato is one of rags to riches In Potato esteemed culinary historian Andrew F Smith reveals the captivating story of a once lowly vegetable that has changed and continues to change the world First domesticated by prehistoric people in the Andes the potato has since been adopted by cultures around the globe For instance the potato was aggressively adopted by cooks in India and China where it has become a dietary staple In fact these two countries now stand as the world s largest potato producers Nonetheless despite its popularity in this era of both fast food and health consciousness the potato is now suffering negative publicity regarding its low nutritional value Its health benefits continue to be debated especially considering that the potato is most often associated with the ubiquitous but high calorie french fry Potato is a captivating read that provides a concisely written but thoroughly researched account of the history economy politics and gastronomy behind this beloved starch as well as recipes As loaded with goodies as a well dressed baked potato this book is comforting and satisfying Digital Lethargy Tung-Hui Hu,2022-10-04 The exhaustion disappointment and listlessness experienced under digital capitalism explored through works by contemporary artists writers and performers Sometimes interacting with digital platforms we want to be passive in those moments of dissociation when we scroll mindlessly rather than connecting with anyone for example or when our only response is a shrugging lol Despite encouragement by these platforms to be yourself we want to be anyone but ourselves Tung Hui Hu calls this state of exhaustion disappointment and listlessness digital lethargy This condition permeates our lives under digital capitalism whether we are users who are what they click or racialized workers in Asia and the Global South Far from being a state of apathy however lethargy may hold the potential for social change Hu explores digital lethargy through a series of works by contemporary artists writers and performers These dispatches from the bleeding edge of digital culture include a fictional dystopia where low wage Mexican workers laugh and emote for white audiences a group that invites lazy viewers to strap their Fitbits to a swinging metronome faking fitness and earning a discount on their health insurance premiums and a memoir of burnout in an Amazon warehouse These works dwell within the ordinariness and even banality of digital life redirecting our attention toward moments of thwarted agency waiting and passing time Lethargy writes Hu is a drag it weighs down our ability to rush to solutions and forces us to talk about the unresolved present
