Creativity for a New Curriculum 5 11 provides an account of what creativity really means in the context of children s learning in the primary school and describes in practical terms what teachers can do to foster it At a time of curriculum development and change it focuses on the opportunity to build a new curriculum that is inclusive of creativity and is fit for the twenty first century The value of fostering creative thinking and problem solving abilities in education is widely recognised for its capacity to confer an independence and ability to function effectively in life As such encouraging children to be creative thinkers and problem solvers should be an integral part of everyday teaching and learning across all subjects Building upon the research and practices of a group of educators studying creativity across the curriculum and coordinated by the author this book provides primary teachers and trainee teachers with easy to understand explanations of what creativity means in the context of the subjects of the curriculum for young children It introduces ideas for how to nurture and support it and explores issues associated with fostering it such as assessment Chapters cover areas including A brief history of creativity and pedagogy including common misconceptions Strategies for creative learning as well as creative teaching Creativity in English Creativity in Mathematics Creativity in Science and Design and Technology Creativity in Art and Music Creativity in History and the Humanities Creativity in ICT International perspectives on creativity Creativity for a New Curriculum 5 11 is an ideal source of information for teachers teacher trainers students on teaching programmes and anyone interested in developing opportunities for creativity across the primary school curriculum New Curriculum for New Times Neal A.

Glasgow,1997 Clear examples show how to develop and assess your school s problem based curriculum Involve mentors from the community to help manage student projects across a wide range of subjects New Pathways to Medical Education D. C. Tosteson,S. J. Adelstein,Susan T. Carver,1994 This book describes efforts made at Harvard Medical School during the past to reorient general medical education Harvard s New Pathway has received national attention since its inception including a multipart special on PBS s Nova because it offers a radical restructuring of the traditional medical school curriculum

New Literacies and Teacher Learning Michele Knobel,Judy Kalman,2016-03-30 New Literacies and Teacher Learning examines the complexities of teacher professional development today in relation to new literacies and digital technologies set within the wider context of strong demands for teachers to be innovative and to improve students learning outcomes Contributors hail from Argentina Australia Canada Finland Mexico Norway and the U S and work in a broad range of situations grade levels activities scales and even national contexts Projects include early year education through to adult literacy education and university contexts describing a range of approaches to taking up new literacies and digital technologies within diverse learning practices While the authors present detailed descriptions of using various digital resources like movie editing software wikis video conferencing Twitter and YouTube they all agree that digital stuff while important is not the central concern Instead what they foreground in their discussions are theory informed pedagogical orientations collaborative learning theories the complexities of teachers workplaces and young people s interests Thus a key premise in this collection is that teaching and learning are about deep engagement representing meanings in a range of ways These include acknowledging relationships and knowledge thinking critically about events phenomena and processes and participating in valued social and cultural activities The book shows how this kind of learning doesn t simply occur in a one off session but takes time commitment and multiple opportunities to interact with others to explore play make mistakes and get it right

The New Global Universities Bryan Penprase, Noah Pickus, 2023-12-05 Reimagining higher education around the world lessons from the creation of eight new colleges and universities in Africa Asia the Middle East and North America Higher education is perpetually in crisis buffeted by increasing costs and a perceived lack of return on investment campus culture that is criticized for stifling debate on controversial topics and a growing sense that the liberal arts are outmoded and irrelevant Some observers even put higher education on the brink of death The New Global Universities offers a counterargument telling the story of educational leaders who have chosen not to give up on higher education but to reimagine it The book chronicles the development and launch of eight innovative colleges and universities in Africa Asia the Middle East and North America describing the combination of intellectual courage entrepreneurial audacity and adaptive leadership needed to invent educational institutions today The authors both academic leaders who have been involved in launching ventures similar to the ones described offer a unique inside perspective on these efforts Bryan Penprase and Noah Pickus show how the founders of new colleges and universities establish distinctive brands in a sector dominated by centuries old institutions secure creative sources of funding attract stellar faculty and students and design appealing curriculums and campuses all while managing tradeoffs and setbacks balancing local needs and global aspirations and wrestling with challenges to academic freedom These new educational institutions include two universities in Asia and the Middle East built by well established American parent institutions others in Africa and North America that offer holistic reform from the ground up and leverage new technologies to lower costs and still others that adapted the American liberal arts model to Asian and African contexts Their experiences offer lessons for future founders of new universities and for those who want to renew and rejuvenate existing ones

Education in China Sude,Mei Yuan,Fred Dervin,2020-04-10 Chinese ethnic minority education is virtually unknown to readers outside China Based on extensive qualitative and quantitative data this book examines the basic education policies for ethnic minorities in China and describes policy implementation It also discusses successful case studies restrictive factors existing gaps and challenges as well as the associated problems highlighting teacher training and the role of policymakers The authors propose recommendations to address the challenges faced by Chinese education and to develop and implement culturally sensitive basic education for ethnic minorities in the country Offering a rare glimpse inside minority schools in different parts of the country the book appeals to educators scholars decision makers and anyone interested in diversity education intercultural multicultural global education Revisiting New Public Management and its Effects Abbas

Strømmen-Bakhtiar,Konstantin Timoshenko,2021 Although over time numerous articles and books have been published on New Public Management NPM it is still being investigated with a sense of great urgency as its effects whether positive or negative have not yet been fully gauged and comprehended Given the rather controversial nature of the phenomenon of interest the purpose of this edited volume is to re invigorate and revisit the ongoing debate on NPM by providing a fresh perspective and novel insights into how NPM driven changes have been approached and more importantly the effects they have produced in the context of Norway The current volume comprises seven contributions penned by scholars and experts from all over Norway with a keen interest in NPM Five of them are geared towards assessing the effects of NPM style reforms on the Norwegian public healthcare sector in general and nursing in particular one deals with the impacts of NPM on Norwegian primary and lower secondary education and one traces the relationship between NPM and the most influential management accounting innovations of the last few decades It is our profound hope that the book will trigger fruitful discussions and broaden our understanding of NPM and its effects by providing lessons from the empirical evidence presented in the different chapters Captivating and instructive it will be of great interest for all readers keeping an eye on NPM including but not limited to students and scholars of public administration practitioners and policymakers

N E A Research Bulletin ,1925 Educating for the Knowledge Economy? Hugh Lauder,Michael Young,Harry Daniels,Maria Balarin,John Lowe,2012-01-06 The promise embraced by governments around the world is that the knowledge economy will provide knowledge workers with a degree of autonomy and permission to think which enables them to be creative and to attract high incomes What credence should we give to this promise The current economic crisis is provoking a reappraisal of both economic and educational policy Policy makers and educationists across the world see education as central to economic competitiveness However this book asks fundamental questions about the relationship between the economy and education since in contrast to policy makers rhetoric the relationship between the two sectors is not straightforward An unorthodox account of the knowledge economy and economic globalisation suggests that autonomy in the workplace and permission to think will be only given to the elite In this view many aspirant well educated middle class young workers are doomed to disappointment In this book leading scholars from the US the UK Australia and New Zealand discuss these issues and interrogate the assumptions and links between the different elements of education and how they might relate to the economy Even if we assume that the official view of the knowledge economy is correct are we educating young people to be autonomous creative thinkers Are current policies relating to knowledge learning and assessment consistent with the kinds of workers and skills required for the knowledge economy Educating for the Knowledge Economy will appeal to academics policy makers teachers and students interested in the central role of education in the knowledge economy

Innovative Practices in Pre-Service Teacher Education ,2019-02-11 Pre service teacher education is a crucial component of the lifelong process of the professional development of teachers as it equips prospective teachers with the necessary and sufficient competencies to design meaningful and authentic learning environments that engage students in the learning process If done well it enhances the quality and improves upon the retention of teachers in the profession This book is important because it attempts to deconstruct the nature and describe the practice of current pre service courses and programs in the Asia Pacific region examine new paradigms of pre service teacher education and their implications for practice and explore emerging innovative practices Moreover this book s particular focus on engaging new partners and on harnessing required resources and capacities in the process together with the particular role that new technologies may play in the new partnerships is especially valuable Drawing upon leading scholars of teacher education from the Asia Pacific region the 12 chapters in this book are divided into three main sections to revitalize and inform the scholarship and debate on teacher education Examining Pre Service Teacher Education Engaging Partners in Pre Service Teacher Education Emerging Practices in Pre Service Teacher Education

Language Education Policy: The Arab Minority in Israel M. Amara,2002-05-31 The Israeli reality points to a number of deep divisions among the population such as between Sephardi Ashkenazi Orthodox secular men women Arab Jew most of which in our opinion are progressively decreasing as time passes The Arab Jewish divide is the deepest of all and there is still no solution In spite of its intensity it did not enjoy a centrality whether in public debates or in academia This subject has only come on the agenda after sharp tensions between Arabs and Jews In this book we will explore in more detail some aspects of the Arab Jewish divide which raise fundamental questions regarding the place of the Arabs and Arab language education in the Jewish State More specifically the aim of this book is to describe and analyze language education in the Arab society in Israel from the establishment of the state in 1948 until today For this purpose internal processes which are embedded within the Arab population itself were examined such as the socio economic condition of the population the diglossic situation in the Arabic language and the wide use of Hebrew among Arabic speakers Furthermore the book also deals with external processes such as the policy of control and inspection of the Ministry of Education over the Arab education system in general and on language education in particular the dominance of Hebrew and the definition and perception of Israel as a Jewish State The influence of both internal and external processes on language education and learning achievements will also be extensively discussed A comprehensive examination was made of Arabic Hebrew and English as well as the teaching of French in a number of community schools The target group for this book are people who are concerned with sociolinguistics language education and language policy and planning This book will be also of special interest to Arab language teachers and policy makers in Israel
