New Directions In Australian Foreign Policy Australia And Indonesia 1945 5:

New Directions in Australian Foreign Policy John David Legge, 1997 The Australian School of International Relations J. Cotton, 2013-07-10 This book offers the first comprehensive account of the emergence of the IR discipline in Australia Initially influenced by British ideas the first generation of Australian international relations practitioners demonstrated in their work a strong awareness of the unique local conditions to which their theorizing should respond JB

Chifley Julie Soares, 2019-03-19 This combined with his rural background and commitment to the labour movement played a major role in the development of his internationalist perspective Often overlooked by historians Chifley believed that the only way to avoid war and economic depression was through the establishment of international rules based economic and collective security institutions These were beliefs he had held since the early 1930s Chifley was a prime minister with a keen interest in post war Asia who understood that the old colonial order was ending He was a great admirer of the Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru This book reveals the extraordinary convergence of worldviews of two fellow internationalists Chifley and Nehru This convergence can be seen in their views on the need to adjust to a changing post colonial world their internationalism their support for the United Nations their opposition to Western colonialism their anti war attitudes and their animosity towards the American and British Cold War framework through which the post war world was viewed Historian Frank Bongiorno wrote about Julie s work on Chifley it is a tremendous achievement to produce such a new vision of a major political figure it is an important contribution to Australian political foreign policy and intellectual history

Rising Power and Changing People David Lowe, Eric Meadows, 2022-09-13 Beginning in 1943 44 Australia s relationship with India is its oldest continuous formal diplomatic relationship with any Asian country The early diplomatic exchanges between Australia and India have teased for their suggestions of potential unrealised for opportunities missed especially when compared with the very recent excitement about the future of Australia India relations How did Australia s representatives and their staff in New Delhi negotiate the many dimensions of Australia India relations This book brings together expert analyses of the work of the Australian High Commission its key people and the challenges they faced in New Delhi The important India Economic Strategy to 2035 report handed to the Australian Government in mid 2018 begins with the comment Timing has always been a challenge in Australia s relationship with India As the Australian Government works to implement some of the ambitious recommendations in the report this book adds to our understanding of why timing has been a challenge and how those at the coalface of the relationship have grappled with it John W. Burton: A Pioneer in Conflict Analysis and Resolution David J. Dunn, Hans Günter Brauch, Pamela Burton, 2024-04-26 This book charts John W Burton s transition from practitioner in diplomacy to pioneer in the theory of peace research thinking on world society and conflict resolution Born in 1915 given his father s name it was assumed that he would follow his father and become a Christian missionary He did not he joined the Australian Public Service From a junior position he rose rapidly He was forthright and some found him irritating or worse He progressed to the highest levels of policy making Amidst some controversy he resigned abruptly in 1951 He then worked on his farm outside Canberra writing avidly He did not intend to become an academic but in 1963 he was offered a position in International Relations at University College in London and he accepted He was key to the foundation of the International Peace Research Association IPRA in 1964 and of the Conflict Research Society in the UK because he thought that words and ideas were not enough there needed to be instruments of change Looking back he was in fact a secular missionary His aim Simple to change the world This book is an exploration of how conflict should be reinterpreted The ideas of his work are a product not of any metaphysical approach but of experience Burton knew the field Cold War diplomacy civil strife reforming organisations resistance to change He had been there and he found much to criticise This book illustrates what he had to offer and explains why These readings reveal shifts in his ideas cohering incrementally integrated into a new framework This book presents his pioneering and relevant work Transcending disciplinary boundaries it will be of interest to students as well as professionals who address conflict at all levels of society from family to state

Britain, Southeast Asia and the Impact of the Korean War Nicholas Tarling, 2005 A sequel to the author's Britain Southeast Asia and the Onset of the Pacific War Cambridge University Press 1996 and Britain Southeast Asia and the Onset of the Cold War Cambridge University Press 1998 this book discusses Britain's policy towards Southeast Asia in the period 1950-55 when it was crucially affected by the struggle in Korea The phases in that struggle briefly described and placed in a world context provide a context for discussing Britain's relations with Burma Thailand Indonesia and Indochina Covering the dispute over West New Guinea and the Chinese Nationalist incursion into Burma the book gives a full account of the Geneva conference 50 years ago which reached a settlement in Vietnam Laos and Cambodia and of the creation of the SEATO alliance The focus of the work is on British policy and it is largely based on a study of British official records

1997 Massimo Mastrogregori, 2013-05-08 Annually published since 1930 the International bibliography of Historical Sciences IBOHS is an international bibliography of the most important historical monographs and periodical articles published throughout the world which deal with history from the earliest to the most recent times The works are arranged systematically according to period region or historical discipline and within this classification alphabetically The bibliography contains a geographical index and indexes of persons and authors

Alan the Red Fox Reid Ross Fitzgerald, Stephen Holt, 2010 Arguably Australia's most influential political journalist Alan The Red Fox Reid covered Australian politics from the 1930s to the 1980s During his career he was both a chronicler of and a player in Australian politics In this book Ross Fitzgerald and Stephen Holt take us into a Machiavellian behind the scenes world of recurrent plots crises and leadership challenges and show how it was possible for a skilled journalist to help shape both public perceptions and actual outcomes of political power plays

Designing Social Service Markets Gabrielle Meagher, Adam Stebbing, Diana Perche, 2022-09-15 Governments of both right and left have been introducing market logics and instruments

into Australian social services in recent decades Their stated goals include reducing costs increasing service diversity and in some sectors empowering consumers This collection presents a set of original case studies of marketisation in social services as diverse as family day care refugee settlement employment services in remote communities disability support residential aged care housing and retirement incomes Contributors examine how governments have designed these markets how they work and their outcomes with a focus on how risks and benefits are distributed between governments providers and service users Their analyses show that inefficiency low quality services and inequitable access are typical problems Avoiding simplistic explanations that attribute these problems to either a few bad apple service providers or an amorphous neoliberalism that is the sum of all negative developments in recent years the collection demonstrates the diversity of market models and examines how specific market designs make social service provision susceptible to particular problems The evidence presented in this collection suggests that Australian governments market making policies have produced fragile and fragmented service systems in which the risks of rent seeking resource leakage and regulatory capture are high Yet the design of social service markets and their implementation are largely under political control Consequently if governments choose to work with market instruments they need to do so differently working with principles and practices that drive up both quality and equality

The Return of the Exiles Frank C. Bennett, 2003 In assisting the return of Indonesian political dissidents who had received refuge in Australia during the Second World War the Australian government in effect supported the independence movement in Indonesia much to the consternation of Dutch colonial interests This book tells the story of the politics surrounding one return voyage Australian National Bibliography: 1992 National Library of Australia, 1988

Facing North Volume 1 David Goldsworthy, 2012-11-27 Facing North is the first substantial history of Australia's relations with Asia since Federation Volume 1 chronicles Australian Asian relations from 1901 to the 1970s and Volume 2 in preparation will carry the story through the last decades of the century just ended Both make extensive use of official government sources and of the private collections of ministers and public servants Debate about engagement with Asia is not a recent phenomenon Ever since Federation Australians in public life have expressed diverse views on our foreign policy and on areas with major domestic consequences such as immigration In this volume Australia faces up to many changes in Asia Japan an expanding military power during the 1930s becomes an economic partner during the 1950s The Pacific war and decolonisation open Australia's regional horizons and the Vietnam war necessitates active engagement with Southeast Asia Failure to recognise China during the 1950s and 1960s shifts after 1972 to a vigorous search for relationship Other key developments include the initiation of the Colombo Plan in the 1950s and gradual abolition in the 1960s and 1970s of the White Australia Policy The story is not a simple one of smoothly evolving engagement The challenges presented by Asian realities have evoked complex responses which this history analyses and clarifies It explains the major changes in official Australian policies towards Asia together with the broader cultural challenges Facing North tells us what was done in the past and why It is essential reading for anyone who wants to better understand Australia's present relations with Asian countries and our future choices The Australia-Japan Defence and Security Relationship 1945-2021 Peter McDermott, 2022-05-05 McDermott examines the origins development and prospects for the Australia and Japan Defence and Security Relationship In 1945 Japan and Australia were foes today they are partners in security defence and military matters each the other's most important strategic ally after the United States As the region faces threats from an increasingly assertive China there is a growing prospect of conflict particularly in Northeast Asia McDermott discusses how Japan and Australia may cooperate in military action Using previously classified government documents and interviews with those involved in the decisions as well as his own experiences McDermott examines how political imperatives have shaped the security side of the AJDSR He offers new insights into the history and future of the relationship An essential read for students and scholars of Asia Pacific and Indo Pacific security

Australian Indonesian Relations Since 1945 Robert Catley, Vinsensio Dugis, 1998 An account of relations between Australia and Indonesia during the period between 1945 and 1997 Indonesia and Australia while not each other's closest neighbours are geographically close to one another This geographic proximity however has not resulted in their sharing of many characteristics It has often been argued that the enormous differences between the two countries has been a major factor behind the uneven and erratic history of their relationship This study explores the extent to which this has remained the case in the 1990s In approaching the theme it adopts historical and systematic approaches and argues that interactions between two such middle powers cannot be understood separately from the overall trends of global politics It also adopts the view that despite the large differences in size culture wealth and political systems geography has dictated that the two countries share similar geo political interest and on that basis a decent working relationship has been painstakingly built against a difficult background

Irian Jaya, 30 Years of Indonesian Control Susan J. Browne, Steven Drakeley, 1998 The question central to this paper is why after 30 years of Indonesian control has West Papuan nationalism persisted and what prospects do nationalist groups have of achieving their aim of an independent West Papua This paper contends that the answer to these questions are to be found in Indonesian politico economic policies

APAIS, Australian Public Affairs Information Service, 2000 Vol for 1963 includes section Current Australian serials a subject list

Pacific Power? Joanne Wallis, 2017-07-17 Australia is much larger and has significantly more military and economic power than its Pacific Island neighbours As a result it is frequently described as having a natural right to lead in the region Yet Australia has found it difficult to effectively influence Pacific Island states in pursuit of its strategic interests It provides the definitive account of how and how effectively Australia has sought to influence Pacific Island states in pursuit of its strategic interests since 1975 the year that Papua New Guinea Australia's former colonial territory gained independence Informed by interviews with key decision makers Pacific Power analyses why Australia has had difficulty exercising influence in the Pacific Islands and identifies how Australia can more effectively influence Pacific Island states in pursuit of its strategic interests and how Australia can present itself more as a Pacific partner than power

East Timor and Australia James Cotton, 1999

Middle Power Statecraft Jonathan H. Ping, 2017-11-30 Jonathan Ping's volume establishes a unifying theory for the concept of middle power MP. MPs are states which have an innate form of statecraft and perceived power as a result of their size. The book presents hybridization theory as a basis for analysis, policy development and prediction of MP statecraft and perceived power. A prerequisite to the founding of hybridization theory is the new statistical method of definition which identifies sixteen MPs of Asia and the Pacific. The volume takes a comparative focus on Indonesia and Malaysia to inform and test hybridization theory as well as to provide a historical analysis of Southeast Asia from a statecraft and perceived power perspective. It offers researchers and scholars of international relations and international political economy a theory that can be applied to the practical study of all middle sized states while middle sized states can apply the same theory to enhance their own ability to re create their state

Size and Survival Anthony Payne, Paul Sutton, 2014-02-04 This book provides the first comparative survey of the security problems faced by the small island and enclave developing states of the two major regions in the world characterised by the presence of such states the Caribbean and the Pacific. It both contributes to the theoretical debate about size and security and offers an up to date and comprehensive analysis of the politics of security in these regions
