New Gender Studies From Cameroon And The Caribbean Gender Issues In Development:

New Gender Studies Joyce Bayande Mbongo Endeley,Richard A. Goodridge,Eudine Barriteau,2004 This collection of studies is the first title published by the Department of Women the voices representing a wide range of men and women of the faith communities The volume provides examples of research undertaken by the Department of Women Gender Studies in different parts of Cameroon on poverty reduction women plantation workers gender relations within the university and on masculinity in a major city Douala The papers further consider the role of international NGOs and work done by the church in and conclude with two papers on labour relations in Barbados The book is the result of a collaborative international research project Two of the editors both of whom have had long association with Cameroon are from Oxford University and the University of the West Indies The English Speaking Mbos of Cameroon Fonsah, Esendugue G.,Fonkeng, Epah F.,2016-06-13 The Mbos are a large ethnic group in present day Cameroon and were an important and powerful group until the Anglo French partition Following the defeat of the colonial power Germany in the First World War the League of Nations in a March 1916 Mandate partitioned the territory into two unequal halves among the victorious imperial powers of England and France to be governed in trust as from 1922 As a result of the partition the Mbos who happened to find themselves right along the lines of division were thrust under French and English administrations Roughly two thirds of the Mbos found themselves in what had then become French East Cameroon while the remaining one third was placed under British West Cameroon rule Today the Mbos as a whole occupy parts of the Littoral and Western Francophone and Southwest Anglophone regions of Cameroon While the Francophone Mbos have over the decades benefited from all aspects of economic social political and agricultural development the Anglophone Mbos have been isolated and deprived of all the outward and physical tangible aspects of socio economic and political progress The persistence of such colonial divisions makes for inequality among the Mbos despite their common ancestry ethnicity and cultural heritage This book seeks to update diverse aspects of the study conducted on the British Mbos by J W C Rutherford and others as a first step toward a comprehensive publication on the Anglophone Mbos Civil Society and the Search for Development Alternatives in Cameroon Yenshu Vudo,2008-03-15 This book is a call to reform the framework of civil society and assess its components and roles in shaping the future of Africa Identity and Networks Deborah Fahy Bryceson,Judith Okely,Jonathan Meir Webber,2007 Contrary to the negative assessments of the social order that have become prevalent in the media since 9 11 this collection of essays focuses on the enormous social creativity being invested as collective identities are reconfigured It emphasizes on the reformulation of ethnic and gender relationships and identities in public life The Challenges of Nongovernmental Organisations in Anglophone Cameroon Lotsmart N. Fonjong,2007 It is widely recognised that non governmental organisations NGOs have undertaken an increasingly important role in both human development and environmental conservation efforts in the less developed nations during the past three decades Much of the literature on NGOs focuses on or is sponsored by large Western based international NGOs which themselves undertake or direct many of the development and conservation efforts This book cuts through sensitive subjects including government corruption and manipulation the misuse of NGOs and the limitations of small under funded local development organisations to identify the crucial role of local NGOs in the challenging context of rural development in Sub Saharan African His observations and insights are highly useful and provide important contextual understanding for future human development and environment conservation projects in rural African settings Encounter, Transformation, and Identity Ian Fowler,Verkijika G. Fanso,2009-07-01 Bringing together key historical and innovative ethnographic materials on the peoples of the South West Province of Cameroon and the Nigerian borderlands this volume presents critical and analytical approaches to the production of ethnic political religious and gendered identities in the region The contributors examine a range of issues relating to identity including first encounters and conflict as well as global networking trans national families enculturation gender resistance and death In addition to a number of very striking illustrations of ethnographic and material culture this volume contains key maps from early German sources and other original cartographical materials English - Lekongho Dictionary Sentemong Mehpah,Greg Fonsah,2019-10-22 In 2005 a United Nations study reported that half of the worlds languages estimated at 6 000 would disappear by the end of this century A third of these endangered languages are in Africa where according to the same study nearly 250 languages have disappeared in the last century Language is the heart identity storage system for the collective and unique memory and experience of every culture people including their natural habitat Loss of language means loss of the ability to retain and pass on not just a belief system but also invaluable knowledge to future generations This English Lekongho Lekongho English Dictionary is a modest first attempt to minimize the envisaged sad phenomenon of language loss Nkongho Mbo people speak Lekongho one of the five variants of the Mbo language of the Mbo ethnic group of Cameroon with their ancestral home in the Kupe Muanenguba Administrative Area of the South west Region With this book the authors fervent hope is that there will no longer surface any justification to continue to refrain from speaking Lekongho on a daily basis This effort will help to regionalize nationalize and internationalize the Lekongho language since Nkongho people are spread all over the country Africa and the world Saving the Environment in Sub-Saharan Africa William T. Markham,Lotsmart Fonjong,2016-04-29 This book describes how NGOs efforts to promote sustainable development are affected by their funding management strategies and relationships with government communities and other NGOs The authors explore implications for theory and offer suggestions for increasing NGO effectiveness The African Book Publishing Record ,2005 Feminist Africa ,2006 ALA Bulletin ,2002 Women and Gender Equity in Development Theory and Practice Jane S. Jaquette,Gale Summerfield,2006-03-27 DIVCollection of essays on issues of women and development attempting to bridge theory and practice in the post 9 11 era to reflect debates in various realms from the environment land rights and identity to information technology employment and poverty div Under Development: Gender

C. Verschuur,I. Guérin,H. Guétat-Bernard,2016-04-30 Despite various decades of research and claim making by feminist scholars and movements gender remains an overlooked area in development studies Looking at key issues in development studies through the prisms of gender and feminism the authors demonstrate that gender is an indispensable tool for social change   Bibliographie Internationale D'anthropologie ,2002-12 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences   Gender and Social Protection in the Developing World Rebecca Holmes,Nicola Jones,2013-03-14 Millions of pounds of international development funds are invested annually in social protection programmes to tackle poverty Poverty is perpetuated by risk and vulnerability much of which is gendered Despite this little attention has been paid to gender sensitive policy and programme design and implementation Gender and Social Protection in the Developing World introduces a much needed gender lens to these debates Drawing on empirical evidence from poor households and communities in Africa Asia and Latin America the book provides rich insight into the effects of a range of social protection instruments It concludes that with relatively simple changes to design and with investment in implementation capacity social protection can contribute to transforming gender relations at the individual intrahousehold and community levels With a foreword by Stephen Devereux   Cities, Slums and Gender in the Global South Sylvia Chant,Cathy McIlwaine,2015-12-22 Developing regions are set to account for the vast majority of future urban growth and women and girls will become the majority inhabitants of these locations in the Global South This is one of the first books to detail the challenges facing poorer segments of the female population who commonly reside in slums It explores the variegated disadvantages of urban poverty and slum dwelling from a gender perspective This book revolves around conceptualisation of the gender urban slum interface which explains key elements to understanding women s experiences in slum environments It has a specific focus on the ways in which gender inequalities are can be entrenched but also alleviated Included is a review of the demographic factors which are increasingly making cities everywhere feminised spaces such as increased rural urban migration among women demographic ageing and rising proportions of female headed households in urban areas Discussions focus in particular on education paid and unpaid work access to land property and urban services violence intra urban mobility and political participation and representation This book will be of use to researchers and professionals concerned with gender and development urbanisation and rural urban migration   Toward Gender Equality ,1995-01-01 3 Public policies matter   Globalizing the Postcolony Claire H. Griffiths,2010-12-18 Globalizing the Postcolony Contesting Discourses of Gender and Development in Francophone Africa is a study of development in the former French colonies of West Africa It takes as its starting point the international community s reporting on human and social development and gender in the developing areas which began systematically in 1990 and which has provided a framework for policy making in this field International reports suggest that the francophone African countries have been experiencing low levels of social development throughout the past two decades These levels fall dramatically when the factor of gender is introduced to the point where statistically speaking francophone African women have had less access to social development than any other population in the world This study analyzes current thinking on the challenges facing gender and development in Africa before moving on to examine the historical factors marking the gender and development profile of the francophone West African region Through an analysis of gender politics in the region from pre colonial to postcolonial times the book examines the gradual incursion of exogenous gender policies into the region throughout the 20th century The discussion concludes by arguing that despite the tendency of the international community and their colonial administrative forebears to pursue one size fits all solutions to what they identified as the main development challenges of the day the impact of standardized solutions remains subject to the unique historical and cultural context in which they are implemented Adapting formula driven policies to unique cultural contexts constitutes a major challenge for gender and development politics in the second decade of the new century Meanwhile the book coincides with the introduction of a new international development agenda in Africa articulated around issues of security and globalization While civil unrest continues to destabilize vast regions of the continent making the prospe   Global Monitoring Report 2007 World Bank Publications,2007-01-01 The 2007 Global Monitoring Report on the Millennium Development Goals MDGs assesses the contributions of developing countries developed countries and international financial institutions toward meeting universally agreed development commitments Fourth in a series of annual reports leading up to 2015 this year s report reviews key developments of the past year emerging priorities and provides a detailed region by region picture of performance in the developing regions of the world drawing on indicators for poverty education gender equality health and other goals Subtitled Confronting the Challenges of Gender Equality and Fragile States this year s report highlights two key thematic areas gender equality and empowerment of women the third MDG and the special problems of fragile states where extreme poverty is increasingly concentrated The report which is jointly issued by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund argues that gender equality and the empowerment of women are central to the development agenda This is because gender equality makes good economic sense and because it helps advance the other development goals including education nutrition and reducing child mortality Rapid progress has been made in some areas such as achieving educational parity for girls in primary and secondary school in most countries But in many other dimensions including political representation and participation in nonagricultural employment performance still falls short Better monitoring and efforts at mainstreaming gender equality requires realistic goals strong leadership technical expertise and financing   The Routledge Handbook of Gender and Development Anne Coles,Leslie Gray,Janet Momsen,2015-02-20 The Routledge Handbook of Gender and Development provides a comprehensive statement and reference point for gender and development policy making and practice in an international and multi disciplinary context Specifically it provides critical reviews and appraisals of the current state of gender and development and considers future trends It includes theoretical and practical approaches as well as empirical studies The international reach and scope of the Handbook and the contributors experiences allow engagement with and reflection upon these bridging and linking themes as well as the examining the politics and policy of how we think about and practice gender and development Organized into eight inter related sections the Handbook contains over 50 contributions from leading scholars looking at conceptual and theoretical approaches environmental resources poverty and families women and health related services migration and mobility the effect of civil and international conflict and international economies and development This Handbook provides a wealth of interdisciplinary information and will appeal to students and practitioners in Geography Development Studies Gender Studies and related disciplines
