New Life For The College Curriculum:

New Life for the College Curriculum Jerry G. Gaff, 1991-11-06 Gaff's central thesis that curricular change is a necessary but not sufficient condition for lasting general education reform should be tacked on the door of every faculty committee that ever set out to improve undergraduate education Russell Edgerton President American Association for Higher Education

New Life for Historically Black Colleges and Universities Vann R. Newkirk, 2014-01-10 In December 2008 Georgia state senator Seth Harp ignited controversy when he proposed merging two historically Black colleges with nearby predominantly white colleges to save money Less than a year later Mississippi governor Haley Barbour sought to unite Mississippi's three predominantly Black colleges These efforts kindled renewed interest in historically Black colleges and universities HBCUs across the nation and the globe In this study HBCU officials and faculty attempt to identify the challenges that HBCUs face explore the historic origin of HBCU management systems and identify models of success that will improve the long term viability of the HBCU By analyzing HBCUs within a larger framework of American higher education and the cultural context in which HBCUs operate these essays introduce a new paradigm in the quest to ensure that HBCUs continue to play an important role in the education of Americans of all races Shaping the College

Curriculum Lisa R. Lattuca, Joan S. Stark, 2011-01-11 Shaping the College Curriculum focuses on curriculum development as an important decision making process in colleges and universities The authors define curriculum as an academic plan developed in a historical social and political context They identify eight curricular elements that are addressed intentionally or unintentionally in developing all college courses and programs By exploring the interaction of these elements in context they use the academic plan model to clarify the processes of course and program planning enabling instructors and administrators to ask crucial questions about improving teaching and optimizing student learning This revised edition continues to stress research based educational practices The new edition consolidates and focuses discussion of institutional and sociocultural factors that influence curricular decisions All chapters have been updated with recent research findings relevant to curriculum leadership accreditation assessment and the influence of academic fields while two new chapters focus directly on learning research and its implications for instructional practice A new chapter drawn from research on organizational change provides practical guidance to assist faculty members and administrators who are engaged in extensive program improvements Streamlined yet still comprehensive and detailed this revised volume will continue to serve as an invaluable resource for individuals and groups whose work includes planning designing delivering evaluating and studying curricula in higher education This is an extraordinary book that offers not a particular curriculum or structure but a comprehensive approach for thinking about the curriculum ensuring that important considerations are not overlooked in its revision or development and increasing the likelihood that students will learn and develop in ways institutions hope they will The book brings coherence and intention to what is typically an unstructured haphazard and only partially rational process guided more by beliefs than by empirically grounded substantive information Lattuca and Stark present their material in ways that are accessible and applicable across planning levels course program department and institution local settings and academic disciplines It s an admirable and informative marriage of scholarship and practice and an insightful guide to both Anyone who cares seriously about how we can make our colleges and universities more educationally effective should read this book Patrick T Terenzini distinguished professor and senior scientist Center for the Study of Higher Education The Pennsylvania State University New Life Courses, Social Risks and Social Policy in East Asia Raymond K. H. Chan,Jens Zinn,Lih-Rong Wang,2015-10-30 Social policy in modern industrialised societies is increasingly challenged by new social risks These include insecure employment resulting from ever more volatile labour markets new family and gender relationships resulting from the growing participation of women in the labour market and the many problems resulting from very much longer human life expectancy Whereas once social policy had to be in step with a standardised relatively stable and predictable life course it now has to cope with non standardised individual preferences life courses and families and the consequent increased risks and uncertainties This book examines these new life courses and their impact on social policy across a range of East Asian societies It shows how governments and social welfare institutions have been slow to respond to the new challenges In response we propose a life course sensitised policy as an approach to manage these risks Overall the book provides many new insights which will assist advance social policy in East Asia Towards A New Life , New Life Styles United States. Department of State,1977 Modernising Social Policy for the New Life Course OECD,2007-12-06 This seminar proceedings examines whether The fundamental policy question addressed in the seminar was whether the current designs of social protection systems in OECD societies are well suited to contemporary life course realities A New Life Bernard Malamud,2004-09-13 An overlooked masterpiece It may still be undervalued as Malamud s funniest and most embracing novel Jonathan Lethem In A New Life Bernard Malamud generally thought of as a distinctly New York writer took on the American myth of the West as a place of personal reinvention When Sy Levin a high school teacher beset by alcohol and bad decisions leaves the city for the Pacific Northwest to start over it s no surprise that he conjures a vision of the extraordinary new life awaiting him there He imagined the pioneers in covered wagons entering this valley for the first time Although he had lived little in nature Levin had always loved it and the sense of having done the right thing in leaving New York was renewed in him Soon after his arrival at Cascadia College however Levin realizes he has been taken in by a mirage The failures pile up anew and Levin fired from his post finds himself back where he started and little the wiser for it A New Life as Jonathan Lethem s introduction makes clear is Malamud at his best with his belief in luck and new beginnings Sy Levin embodies the thwarted yearning for transcendence that is at the heart of all Malamud s work New Life for Archaeological Collections Rebecca Allen,Ben Ford,2019-05-01 New Life for Archaeological Collections explores solutions to what archaeologists are calling the curation crisis that is too much stuff with too little research analysis and public interpretation This volume demonstrates how archaeologists are taking both large and small steps toward not only solving the dilemma of storage but recognizing the value of these collections through inventorying and cataloging curation rehousing artifact conservation volunteer and student efforts and public exhibits Essays in this volume highlight new questions and innovative uses for existing archaeological collections Rebecca Allen and Ben Ford advance ways to make the evaluation and documentation of these collections more accessible to those inside and outside of the scholarly discipline of archaeology Contributors to New Life for Archaeological Collections introduce readers to their research while opening new perspectives for scientists and students alike to explore the world of archaeology These essays illuminate new connections between cultural studies and the general availability of archaeological research and information Drawing from the experience of university professors government agency professionals and cultural resource managers this volume represents a unique commentary on education research and the archaeological community

Higher Education in the United States James J. F. Forest, Kevin Kinser, 2002-06-21 Surveys the changing landscape of American higher education from academic freedom to virtual universities from campus crime to Pell Grants from the Student Privacy Act to student diversity In the years following World War II college and university enrollment doubled students revolted faculty unionized and community colleges evolved Tuition and technology soared as did the number of first generation minority and women students These changes radically transformed the American system of postsecondary education Today that system is in trouble Its aging professoriate prepares for retirement but low academic salaries can no longer attract the best minds to replace them A flood of corporate dollars funds commercial research but money for basic research the seedbed of American scientific preeminence has dried up Colleges and universities also face heated competition with for profit education providers for students faculty and external financial support along with the costs of providing remedial education to growing numbers of students who are unprepared for postsecondary education Higher Education in the United States provides a comprehensive analysis of these issues and others that scholars and practitioners of higher education study discuss and grapple with on a daily basis

A Flight Through Life - An Aviator's Memoir Albert J. DeGroote, 2013-04-10 A Flight Through Life begins with a boy growing up during World War II and records his youthful fascination with aviation It follows his career in aviation from becoming a private pilot through his eventful life as an Aviation Cadet and his careers in both the Air Force and commercial aviation Al DeGroote's captivating descriptions of his experiences give both pilots and non pilots a feel for the excitement and wonder of flying while sharing with them the experience of being part of aviation's transition from the piston to the jet age While aviation is the central theme of the narrative Al's wide ranging experience in command and staff positions brings the non flying reader into his life as a war planner accident investigator and international affairs specialist As the U S Air Attach at the embassy in Laos he and his family experienced the tragedy of the fall of Southeast Asia first hand and he provides a ringside seat for the reader to observe the many blunders and few triumphs of that debacle

The New Life Jeremy Varon, 2014-06-01 Jewish Displaced Persons DPs survived in concentration and death camps in hiding and as exiles in the Soviet interior After liberation in the land of their persecutors some also attended university to fulfill dreams of becoming doctors engineers and professionals In The New Life Jewish Students of Postwar Germany Jeremy Varon tells the improbable story of the nearly eight hundred young Jews mostly from Poland and orphaned by the Holocaust who studied in universities in the American Zone of Occupied Germany Drawing on interviews he conducted with the Jewish alumni in the United States and Israel and the records of their Student Union Varon reconstructs how the students built a sense of purpose and a positive vision of the future even as the wounds of the past persisted Varon explores the keys to students renewal including education itself the bond they enjoyed with one another as a substitute family and their efforts both to reconnect with old passions and to revive a near vanquished European Jewish intelligentsia The New Life also explores the relationship between Jews and Germans in occupied Germany Varon shows how mutual suspicion and resentment dominated interactions between the groups and explores the subtle ways anti-Semitism expressed itself just after the war Moments of empathy also emerge in which Germans began to reckon with the Nazi past Finally The New Life documents conflicts among Jews as they struggled to chart a collective future while nationalists both from Palestine and among DPs insisted that Zionism needed pioneers not scholars and tried to force the students to quit their studies Rigorously researched and passionately written The New Life speaks to scholars students and general readers with interest in the Holocaust Jewish and German history the study of trauma and the experiences of refugees displaced by war and genocide With liberation nearly seventy years in the past it is also among the very last studies based on living contact with Holocaust survivors Linked Courses for General Education and Integrative Learning Margot Soven, Dolores Lehr, Siskanna Naynaha, Wendy Olson, 2023-07-03 Research indicates that of the pedagogies recognized as high impact learning communities one approach to which the linked course is the subject of this book lead to an increased level of student engagement in the freshman year that persists through the senior year and improve retention This book focuses on the learning community model that is the most flexible to implement in terms of scheduling teacher collaboration and design the linked course The faculty may teach independently or together coordinating syllabi and assignments so that the classes complement each other and often these courses are linked around a particular interdisciplinary theme Creating a cohort that works together for two paired courses motivates students while the course structure promotes integrative learning as students make connections between disciplines This volume covers both linked courses in which faculty may work to coordinate syllabi and assignments but teach most of their courses separately as well as well as paired courses in which two or more courses are team taught in an integrated program in which faculty participate as learners as well as teachers Part One Linked Course Pedagogies includes several case studies of specific linked courses including a study skills course paired with a worldview course a community college course that challenges students compartmentalized thinking and a paired course whose outcomes can be directly compared to parallel stand alone courses Part Two Linked Course Programs includes a description of several institutional programs representing a variety of linked course program models Each chapter includes information about program implementation staffing logistics and concerns curriculum development pedagogical strategies and faculty development Part Three Assessing Linked Courses highlights the role of assessment in supporting maintaining and improving linked course programs by sharing assessment models and describing how faculty and administrators have used particular assessment practices in order to improve their linked course programs From New Mills to New Life Joshua Spencer, 2009-10-28 In this scintillating heart wrenching and tear eliciting autobiography From New Mills to New Life Joshua Spencer shares his extraordinary experiences from birth to his fiftieth year It starts in Albion

Montego Bay where the author was born but where he spent the least of his life of half of a century It then extends to several other areas of his native land but finds as its pivot a small impoverished district known as New Mills where he spent much time in a little shamble he called home with his grandmother A home that lacked the basic facilities and necessities such as electricity and water From New Mills to New Life radiates back and forth to its pivot but in an orderly sequential fashion until it culminates in Canada It exposes all the challenges and successes that the author experiences in both jurisdictions including family challenges being on the verge of bankruptcy and so on It describes quite liberally his weaknesses and his strengths those challenges he conquers and those he approaches optimistically in the future You will cry intermittently laugh regularly and even get deeply saddened sporadically as you share in this masterpiece From New Mills to New Life The Writing Program Administrator's Resource Stuart C. Brown,Theresa Jarnagi Enos,2005-04-11 The role of the writing program administrator is one of diverse activities and challenges and preparation for the position has traditionally come through performing the job itself As a result uninitiated WPAs often find themselves struggling to manage the various requirements and demands of the position and even experienced WPAs often encounter situations on which they need advice The Writing Program Administrator s Resource has been developed to address the needs of all WPAs regardless of background or experience It provides practical applicable tools to effectively address the differing and sometimes competing roles in which WPAs find themselves Readers will find an invaluable collection of articles in this volume addressing fundamental practices and issues encountered by WPAs in their workplace settings and focusing on the hows and whys of writing program administration With formal preparation and training only now beginning to catch up to the very real needs of the WPA this volume offers guidance and support from authoritative and experienced sources educators who have established the definitions and standards of the position who have run into obstacles and surmounted them and who have not just survived but thrived in their roles as WPAs Editors Stuart C Brown and Theresa Enos contribute their own experience and bring together the voices of their colleagues to delineate the intellectual scope and practices of writing program administration as an emerging discipline Established and esteemed leaders in the field offer insights advice and plans of action for the myriad scenarios encountered in the position encouraging WPAs and helping them to realize that they often know more than they think they do This resource is required reading for the new WPA and an essential reference for all who serve in the WPA role As a guidebook for WPAs it is destined to become a fixture on the desk of every educator involved with or interested in administrating writing programs writing centers and writing across the curriculum efforts Resources in Education ,1998 School Life ,1921 Developing Student Capability Through Modular Courses Alan Jenkins,Lawrie Walker,2014-05-22 Higher education in the UK has recently been transformed due to the introduction of module style degree programmes This collection of essays and case studies reviews the experiences of both students using the new modules and teachers integrating modular systems into their curricula
