Our World: Or, the Slaveholder's Daughter F. C. James, 2021-01-13 Excerpt In presenting this work to the public we are fully conscious of the grave charges of misrepresenting society and misconstruing facts which will be made by our friends of the South and its very peculiar institution but earnestly do we enjoin all such champions of things as they are to read and well digest what is here set before them believing that they will find the TRUTH even stranger than fiction And as an incentive to the noble exertions of those either North or South who would rid our country of its darkest foulest blot we would say that our attempt has been to give a true picture of Southern society in its various aspects and that in our judgment the institution of Slavery is directly chargeable with the various moral social and political evils detailed in OUR WORLD Our World; Or, the Slaveholder's Daughter F. Emotions and Social Change David Lemmings, Ann Brooks, 2014-04-24 This edited collection takes a critical perspective on Norbert Elias's theory of the civilizing process through historical essays and contemporary analysis from sociologists and cultural theorists It focuses on changes in emotional regimes or styles and considers the intersection of emotions and social change historically and contemporaneously The book is set in the context of increasing interest among humanities and social science scholars in reconsidering the significance of emotion and affect in society and the development of empirical research and theorizing around these subjects Some have labeled this interest as an affective turn or a turn to affect which suggests a profound and wide ranging reshaping of disciplines Building upon complex theoretical models of emotions and social change the chapters exemplify this shift in analysis of emotions and affect and suggest different approaches to investigation which may help to shape the direction of sociological and historical thinking and research      Catalogue ... Bigelow Library Association, Clinton, Mass,1861      Annual report ,1881      Documents of the Senate of the State of New York New York (State).
