Ourika Claire de Durfort duchesse de Duras, 2021-05-19 In Ourika Claire de Durfort duchesse de Duras intricately weaves a poignant tale that explores themes of identity race and social exclusion in early 19th century France Through the life of its eponymous protagonist a Senegalese girl raised by a French aristocratic family the novella offers a profound commentary on the complexities of belonging and the harsh realities of societal prejudice Duras employs a lyrical and introspective literary style characterized by philosophical reflections and emotional depth which invites readers to examine the intersection of culture and individual experience in a post Enlightenment context Claire de Duras a prominent figure in the Romantic literary movement was deeply influenced by her own experiences in a society marked by rigid class structures and evolving notions of race and gender Her aristocratic background alongside her progressive views informed her exploration of marginalized voices Ourika stands as a significant work of the time prefiguring later discussions of colonialism and identity while revealing Duras's commitment to social justice and empathy through her writing This novella is highly recommended for readers interested in understanding the historical narratives surrounding race and gender as well as those seeking a rich emotionally resonant story Ourika not only illuminates the struggles of its protagonist but also encourages a critical analysis of contemporary social issues making it an essential read for scholars and casual readers alike

Ourika Claire de Duras, 2014-01-01 John Fowles presents a remarkable translation of a nineteenth century work that provided the seed for his acclaimed novel The French Lieutenant's Woman and that will astonish and haunt modern readers Based on a true story Claire de Duras's Ourika relates the experiences of a Senegalese girl who is rescued from slavery and raised by an aristocratic French family during the time of the French Revolution Brought up in a household of learning and privilege she is unaware of her difference until she overhears a conversation that suddenly makes her conscious of her race and of the prejudice it arouses From this point on Ourika lives her life not as a French woman but as a black woman who feels cut off from the entire human race As the Reign of Terror threatens her and her adoptive family Ourika struggles with her unusual position as an educated African woman in eighteenth century Europe A best seller in the 1820s Ourika captured the attention of Duras's peers including Stendhal and became the subject of four contemporary plays The work represents a number of firsts the first novel set in Europe to have a black heroine the first French literary work narrated by a black female protagonist and as Fowles points out in the foreword to his translation the first serious attempt by a white novelist to enter a black mind

Ourika Claire Duras, 2021-03-16 Ourika; a Tale, from the French. ... Claire de Durfort Duras (duchesse de), 1829 Edward, tr. from the Fr. of the author of Ourika Claire Louise R.B. de Durfort (duchesse de Duras.), 1826 Translating Slavery: Ourika and its progeny Doris Y. Kadish, Françoise Massardier-Kenney, 2009 This is a new revised and expanded edition of a translation studies classic Translating Slavery explores the complex interrelationships that exist between translation gender and race by focusing on antislavery writing by or about French women in the French revolutionary period Now in a two volume collection Translating Slavery closely examines what happens when translators translate and when writers treat issues of gender and race The volumes explore the theoretical linguistic and literary complexities involved when white writers especially women took up their pens to denounce the injustices to which blacks were subjected under slavery Volume 1 Gender and Race in French Abolitionist Writing 1780 1830 highlights key issues in the theory and practice of translation by providing essays on the factors involved in translating gender and race as well as works in translation A section on abolitionist narrative poetry and theater has been added with a number of new translations excerpts and essays in addition to an interview with the new member of the translating team Norman R Shapiro Volume 2 Ourika and Its Progeny will contain the original translation and analyses of Claire de Duras Ourika by Massardier Kenney and Salardenne and new essays and translations

Through Strangers' Eyes Sylvie Romanowski, 2005 Considering the stranger as a figure of ambiguity Sylvie Romanowski explains why the genre was so useful to the Enlightenment The question of why showing ambiguous strangers is important in that period is addressed in the book's introduction by setting the Enlightenment in the historical context of the seventeenth century Romanowski then examines Montaigne's Des Cannibales showing how these first outsiders relate to their eighteenth century successors She next considers Montesquieu's Lettres persanes in its entirety studying the voices of the men the women and the eunuchs She also studies other examples of the genre Jacket Between Totem and Taboo Roger Little, 2001 Between Totem and Taboo picks its way judiciously through a minefield of prejudice myth and stereotypes It is the first book to explore the literary representation by authors black and white male and female of interracial relations between France and her former territories in West Africa through the special nexus of the white woman and the black man Presented as a text based chronological exploration of the relationship from 1740 to the present day it reveals how racism distorted such relations for a quarter of a millennium It will fascinate anyone seriously interested in Black studies Women's studies and Postcolonial studies who will find in it not only many unknown or unconsidered texts but a new angle of approach to their research All quotations are in French and English The French Atlantic Triangle Christopher L. Miller, 2008-01-11 A study of representations of the French Atlantic slave trade in the history literature and film of France and its former colonies in Africa and the Caribbean French Global Christie McDonald, Susan Suleiman, 2010-10-25 Recasting French literary history in terms of the cultures and peoples that interacted within and outside of France's national boundaries this volume offers a new way of looking at the history of a national literature along with a truly global and contemporary understanding of language literature and culture The relationship between France's national territory and other regions of the world where French is spoken and written most of them former colonies has long been central to discussions of Francophonie Boldly expanding such discussions to the whole range of French literature the essays in this volume explore spaces mobilities and multiplicities from the Middle Ages to today They rethink literary history not in terms of national boundaries as traditional literary histories have done but in terms of a global paradigm that emphasizes border crossings and encounters with others Contributors offer new ways of reading canonical texts and considering other texts that are not part of the traditional canon By emphasizing diverse conceptions of language text space and nation these essays establish a model approach that remains sensitive to the specificities of time and place and to the theoretical concerns informing the study of national literatures in the twenty first century The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1887

Translation and the Arts in Modern France Sonya Stephens, 2017-07-10 Translation and the Arts in Modern France sits at the intersection of transposition translation and ekphrasis finding resonances in these areas across periods places and forms Within these contributions questions of colonization subjugation migration and exile connect Benin to Brittany and political philosophy to the sentimental novel and to film Focusing on cultural production from 1830 to the present and privileging French culture the contributors explore interactions with other cultures countries and continents often explicitly equating intercultural permeability with representational exchange In doing so the book exposes the extent to which moving between media and codes the very process of translation and transposition is a defining aspect of creativity across time space and disciplines

Holy People of the World Phyllis G. Jestice, 2004-12-15 A cross cultural encyclopedia of the most significant holy people in history examining why people in a wide range of religious traditions throughout the world have been regarded as divinely inspired The first reference on the subject to span all the world's major religions Holy People of the World A Cross Cultural Encyclopedia examines the impact of individuals who through personal charisma and inspirational deeds served both as glorious examples of human potential and as envoys for the divine Holy People of the World contains nearly 1 100 biographical sketches of venerated men and women Written by religious studies experts and historians each article focuses on the basic question How did this person come to be regarded as holy In addition the encyclopedia features 20 survey articles on views of holy people in the major religious traditions such as Islam Buddhism and African religions as well as 64 comparative articles on aspects of holiness and veneration across cultures such as awakening and conversion experiences heredity gender asceticism and persecution Whether exploring by religion culture or historic period this extensively cross referenced resource offers a wealth of insights into one of the most revealing and least explored common denominators of spiritual traditions

Slaves in Paris Miranda Spieler, 2025-06-17 Mistaking Paris for a haven of freedom slaves sought refuge there only to be hunted down arrested and deported Through the biographies of enslaved people who came to Paris from Africa the West Indies and the Indian Ocean Spieler's study reveals the emergence of a new racialized legal culture in the last years of the Old Regime

The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1995 Mountain Environments Romola Parish, 2014-06-03 This book breaks the ground in Geographical texts by transcending a strictly regional or topical focus It presents the opportunities and constraints that mountains and their resources offer to local and global populations the impacts of environmental and economic change development and globalisation on mountain environments Part of the Ecogeography series edited by Richard Hugget

Having It All in the Belle Epoque Rachel Mesch, 2023-05-25 In this entertaining academic history of these rival magazines Mesch explores the emergence of the working woman in France Publishers Weekly At once deeply historical and surprisingly timely Having It All in the Belle Epoque shows how the debates that continue to captivate high achieving women in America and Europe can be traced back to the early 1900s in France The first two photographic magazines aimed at women Femina and La Vie Heureuse created a female role model who could balance age old convention with new equalities Often referred to simply as the modern woman this captivating figure embodied the hopes and dreams as well as the most pressing internal conflicts of large numbers of French women during what was a period of profound change. Full of never before studied images of the modern French woman in action, Having It All shows how these early magazines exploited new photographic technologies, artistic currents, and literary trends to create a powerful model of French femininity, one that has exerted a lasting influence on French expression. This book introduces and explores the concept of Belle Époque literary feminism, a product of the elite milieu from which the magazines emerged. Defined by its refusal of political engagement, this feminism was nevertheless preoccupied with expanding women's roles as it worked to construct a collective fantasy of female achievement. Through an astute blend of historical research, literary criticism, and visual analysis, Mesch's study of women's magazines and the popular writers associated with them offers an original window onto a bygone era that can serve as a framework for ongoing debates about feminism, femininity, and work-life tensions.

Ourika New Expanded Edition: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. Ourika New Expanded Edition : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Ourika New Expanded Edition : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
