Queer Youth Histories Daniel Marshall, 2022-01-01 This pioneering collection provides for the first time an international and transdisciplinary reflection on youth history and queer sexualities and genders Since the 1970s there has been an explosion in research focusing on LGBTQ history and on the lives of LGBTQ young people but these two research areas have seldom been brought together explicitly Bridging LGBTQ historical scholarship and contemporary queer youth cultural studies this book marks out pathways for thinking more about youth in LGBTQ history and more about history in contemporary understandings of LGBTQ youth Examining histories from the nineteenth century through to the recent past contributors examine queer youth histories in continental Europe Britain the United States of America New Zealand Australia Canada Ireland India Malaysia and Hong Kong

In Search of Ireland Brian Graham, 2002-11-01 In Search of Ireland argues that Ireland's political problems are created by conflicts and confusions of identity It brings together a number of distinguished contributors each of whom examines a particular aspect of Ireland's diverse cultural geography and history Issues covered include the changing definitions of Irishness the roles of class and gender in constructing traditional alignments of identity the role of ethnicity in Irish society the invention and imagining of Irish place the political implications of a pluralistic Ireland The contributors demonstrate that many people both inside and outside of Ireland continue to define themselves and their conflicts through simple sectarian stereotypes The authors argue that politicians and others must reject these outdated either/or representations and accommodate instead the fluidity of Irish identity James Anderson University of Newcastle Upon Tyne S J Connolly Queens's University Belfast Neville Douglas Queen's University Belfast Brian Graham

University of Ulster Representations of Loss in Irish Literature Deirdre Flynn, Eugene O'Brien, 2018-07-30 This is the first book on Irish literature to focus on the theme of loss and how it is represented in Irish writing It focuses on how literature is ideally suited to expressions and understanding of the nature of loss given its ability to access and express emotions sensations feelings and the visceral and haptic areas of experience Dealing with feelings and with sensations poems novels and drama can allow for cathartic expressions of these emotions as well as for a fuller understanding of what is involved in loss across all situations The main notion of loss being dealt with is that of death but feelings of loss in the wake of immigration and of the loss of certainties that defined notions of identity are also analysed This volume will be of interest to scholars students and researchers in Irish Studies loss memory trauma death and cultural studies Changing Ireland Christine St. Peter, 2000-03-17 During the past twenty five years Ireland has seen an explosion of women's fiction hundreds of published works that reimagine the inherited literary traditions and the social contexts of women's lives Changing Ireland examines women's use of historical fiction exile literature Northern war narratives speculative fiction and classic realism and looks at the local Irish forms of international women's genres like the romance novel and feminist fiction Re-reading Spare Rib Angela Smith, 2017-09-07 Spare Rib remains one of the most iconic symbols of Second Wave Feminism its influence far out living the span of its publication 1972 1993 This collection examines various aspects of the magazine based on the digitised publication by the British Library in 2015 in order to explore the ways in which it has influenced society in the twentieth and twenty first centuries as well as the lives of individual readers By analysing several articles from a modern post feminist perspective and using cross generational interviews of Spare Rib readers and reflective accounts of reading the publication the significance and endurance of the publication is demonstrated Written by both academics experienced researchers and independent scholars alike the interdisciplinary nature of the text results in a multi dimensional reading of Spare Rib suitable for both an academic and general readership interested in cultural and media studies Two Irelands Rebecca Pelan, 2005-06-27 The very different histories of the North and South are reflected in their literature While women in the Republic of Ireland have tended to write about social issues sexism crime unemployment and domestic violence women in Northern Ireland focused on their society's historical tension and primarily nationalist and unionist politics However Pelan maintains that feminist ideology has provided contemporary Irish women with an alternate political stance that incorporates gender and nationality ethnicity and allows them to move beyond the usual binaries of politics history and language Irish and English In an analysis enriched by a sophisticated but accessible engagement with contemporary feminist and gender theory Pelan concludes that Irish women's writing whether at the community or mainstream level North or South consistently articulates political issues of direct relevance to the lives of Irish women today As a result such work retains close links with the initial impetus of the second wave of feminism as a political movement and questions the legitimacy of long standing social religious and political conventions From within the framework provided by this second wave argues Pelan Irish women can critique certain masculine ideologiesnationalist unionist imperialist and capitalistwithout forfeiting their own sense of gender and national or ethnic identity The book s significance lies in its placement of women s writing in the center of contemporary political discourse in Ireland and in ensuring that the writing from this periodmuch of it long out of printcontinues to exist as sociological as well as literary records It will be of interest to a general and scholarly audience especially those in the fields of contemporary Irish writing feminism and literary history
