Ruth Compton Brouwer

Out Of Thin Air The Story Of Cfcy The Friendly Voice Of The Maritimes:

All Things in Common Ruth Compton Brouwer, 2021-06-28 The Canadian Social History Series is devoted to in depth studies of major themes in our history exploring neglected areas in the day to day existence of Canadians The emphasis of this innovative series is on increasing the general appreciation of our past and opening up new areas of study for students and scholars The editor of the series is Gregory S Kealey Professor of History University of New Brunswick A leading historian of the Canadian working class Dr Kealey was the founding editor of Labour Le Travail Book jacket Listening In Mary Vipond, 1992-09-28 Mary Vipond's approach is based on the idea that the development of radio broadcasting was a process that involved equipment manufacturers broadcasters and audiences customers She charts the expansion of these three groups surveys the development of advertising and networking as methods of financing and analyses the evolution of programming From 1922 to 1932 radio administration was the responsibility of the Radio Branch of the federal Department of Marine and Fisheries Vipond discusses the regulatory policies of the branch She completes her study with an analysis of the period from the formation of the Aird Royal Commission on Radio Broadcasting in 1928 to the passage of the Radio Broadcasting Act of 1932 Between 1922 and 1932 virtually all Canadian broadcasting was in the private sector The campaign in the early 1930s to institute a broadcasting system oriented more toward public service and the promotion of a national identity was partially successful Vipond reveals however that the act that in 1932 set up the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission now the CBC was much weaker than has generally been recognized She argues that this weakness was a consequence of the fact that over the course of the 1920s broadcasters listeners and politicians alike had built up certain expectations of radio which could not easily be disregarded Don Messer's Violin Li Robbins, 2005-10 The story of Don Messer and his fiddle that made him a nation figure in Canadian music history Canadian Books in Print, 1991

Swashbucklers Knowlton Nash, 2001 From its beginnings broadcasting in Canada has been a battlefield with the larger than life entrepreneurs who fell in love with the new medium locked in battle with government and meddling do gooders impressed by the cultural power of radio The first fight of the radio pioneers was over advertising and initially the private broadcasters won commercials were here to stay making radio an immensely profitable industry But the biggest battle of the early years was between private broadcasters and those who lobbied against the new commercial adventurers should the airwaves be used to sell things and entertain or to enrich and educate Canadians The struggle consumed both sides for years even after the establishment of national public radio in 1936 The advent of television in the early 1950s merely moved the war to fresh terrain By the early 1980s the private broadcasters appeared to have won but a new player arrived on the scene the cable industry The proliferation of specialty channels threatened the end of mass national audiences for television but in an ironic twist the small specialty audiences for cable awoke private broadcasters to the need for specialized Canadian programming The swashbucklers who battled for control of the airwaves and over what is broadcast on them have left behind them a rich record one that Nash brings to life in this vivid and entertaining story of the men the Sedgwicks of Toronto the Siftons of the Prairies the Thomsons of Ontario the Bassetts and the Rogers of Toronto the Aspers of Winnipeg the Shaws of Calgary the Chandlers of Vancouver the Peladeaus of Quebec along with Moses Znaimer of CITY TV and Ivan Fecanof CTV who together have entertained us and tried to sell us things in the privacy of our living rooms for much of this century
