Evans, Richard Schmalensee, 2016-05-03 A different kind of matchmaker Many of the most dynamic public companies from Alibaba to Facebook to Visa and the most valuable start ups such as Airbnb and Uber are matchmakers that connect one group of customers with another group of customers Economists call matchmakers multisided platforms because they provide physical or virtual platforms for multiple groups to get together Dating sites connect people with potential matches for example and ride sharing apps do the same for drivers and riders Although matchmakers have been around for millennia they re becoming more and more popular and profitable due to dramatic advances in technology and a lot of companies that have managed to crack the code of this business model have become today s power brokers Don t let the flashy successes fool you though Starting a matchmaker is one of the toughest business challenges and almost everyone who tries to build one fails In Matchmakers David Evans and Richard Schmalensee two economists who were among the first to analyze multisided platforms and discover their principles and who ve consulted for some of the most successful platform businesses in the world explain how matchmakers work best in practice why they do what they do and how entrepreneurs can improve their chances for success Whether you re an entrepreneur an investor a consumer or an executive your future will involve more and more multisided platforms and Matchmakers rich with stories from platform winners and losers is the one book you ll need in order to navigate this appealing but confusing world

Shannon Jung's gifts as theologian, ethicist, pastor, and eater extraordinaire. In this deeply thoughtful but very lively book, he encourages us to see our humdrum habits of eating and drinking as a spiritual practice that can renew and transform us and our world. In a fascinating sequence that takes us from the personal to the global, Jung establishes the religious meaning of eating and shows how it dictates a healthy order of eating. He exposes Christians' complicity in the face of widespread eating disorders we experience personally, culturally, and globally, and he argues that these disorders can be reversed through faith. Christian practices, attention to habitual activities like cooking and gardening, the church's ministry, and transforming our cultural policies about food.

Food Politics Marion Nestle, 2007-10-15. An accessible and balanced account. Food Politics laid the groundwork for today's food revolution and changed the way we respond to food industry marketing practices. Now a new introduction and concluding chapter bring us up to date on the key events in that movement. This pathbreaking prize-winning book helps us understand more clearly than ever before what we eat and why.

Food Politics Marion Nestle, 2002-03-04. Chapters include: Politics versus science; opposing the food pyramid; influencing government food lobbies; lobbyist exploiting kids; corrupting schools; and degulating dietary supplements.

Michael Broadbent's Vintage Wine Michael Broadbent, John Michael Broadbent, 2002. The ultimate report on the world's vintage wines is offered by the man the Wine Spectator calls the world's most experienced taster.

Gastronomy, Tourism and the Media Warwick Frost, Jennifer Laing, Gary Best, Kim Williams, Paul C. Strickland, Clare Lade, 2016-07-27. This book examines and analyses the connections between gastronomy, tourism, and the media. It argues that in the modern world, gastronomy is increasingly a major component and driver of tourism, and that destinations are using their cuisines and food cultures in marketing to increase their competitive advantage. It proposes that these processes are interconnected with film, television, print, and social media. The book emphasises the notion of gastronomy as a dynamic concept, in particular how it has recently become more widely used and understood throughout the world. The volume introduces core concepts and delves more deeply into current trends in gastronomy, the forces which shape them, and their implications for tourism. The book is multidisciplinary and will appeal to researchers in the fields of gastronomy, hospitality, tourism, and media studies.

Food and Culture Carole Counihan, Penny Van Esterik, 2013. This reader reveals how food habits and beliefs both present a microcosm of any culture and contribute to our understanding of human behaviour. Particular attention is given to how men and women define themselves differently through food choices.

Dangerous Crossings Claire Jean Kim, 2015-04-09. Dangerous Crossings offers an interpretation of the impassioned disputes that have arisen in the contemporary United States over the use of animals in the cultural practices of nonwhite peoples. It examines three controversies: the battle over the cruelty of the live animal markets in San Francisco's Chinatown; the uproar over the conviction of NFL superstar Michael Vick on dogfighting charges; and the firestorm over the Makah tribe's decision to resume whaling in the Pacific Northwest after a hiatus of more than seventy years. Claire Jean Kim shows that each dispute demonstrates how race and species operate as conjoined logics or mutually constitutive taxonomies of power.

Analyzing each case as a conflict between single optics the optic of cruelty and environmental harm vs the optic of racism and cultural imperialism she argues for a multi optic approach that takes different forms of domination seriously and thus encourages an ethics of avowal among different struggles
