A Supreme Desire to Please Him E.D. Burns,2016-12-09 Adoniram Judson was not only a historic figurehead in the first wave of foreign missionaries from the United States and a hero in his own day but his story still wins the admiration of Christians even today Though numerous biographies have been written to retell his life story in every ensuing generation until now no single volume has sought to comprehensively synthesize and analyze the features of his theology and spiritual life His vision of spirituality and religion certainly contained degrees of classic evangelical piety yet his spirituality was fundamentally rooted in and ruled by a mixture of asceticism and New Divinity theology Judson s renowned fortitude emerged out of a peculiar missionary spirituality that was bibliocentric ascetic heavenly minded and Christocentric The center of Adoniram Judson s spirituality was a heavenly minded self denying submission to the sovereign will of God motivated by an affectionate desire to please Christ through obedience to his final command revealed in the Scriptures Unveiling the heart of his missionary spirituality Judson himself asked What then is the prominent all constraining impulse that should urge us to make sacrifices in this cause And he answered thus A supreme desire to please him is the grand motive that should animate Christians in their missionary efforts John McGahern and the Art of Memory Dermot McCarthy,2010 The concepts of Ireland and Irishness are in constant flux in the wake of an ever increasing reappraisal of the notion of cultural and national specificity in a world assailed from all angles by the forces of globalisation and uniformity Reimagining Ireland interrogates Ireland s past and present and suggests possibilities for the future by looking at Ireland s literature culture and history and subjecting them to the most up to date critical appraisals associated with sociology literary theory historiography political science and theology order to enrich and facilitate emotional growth Drawing on four decades of clinical practice and a critical reading of creativity literature Sophia Richman presents a new theory of the creative process whose core components are relational conceptualizations of dissociation and witnessing This is an interdisciplinary book which draws inspiration from life histories clinical case material neuroscience and interviews with creators as well as from various art forms such as film literature paintings and music Some areas of discussion include art born of genocide confrontation with mortality in illness and aging and the clinical implications of memoirs written by psychoanalysts Visual images are interspersed throughout the text that illustrate the reverberations of trauma and its creative transformation in the work of featured artists Mended by the Muse Creative Transformations of Trauma powerfully articulates how creative action is one of the most effective ways of coping with trauma and its aftershocks it is in art in all its forms that sorrow is given shape and meaning Here Sophia Richman shows how art helps to master the chaos that follows in the wake of tragedy how it restores continuity connection and the will for a more fully lived life This book is written for psychoanalysts as well as for other mental health professionals who practice and teach in academic settings It will also be of interest to graduate and post graduate students and will be relevant for artists who seek a better understanding of the creative process The Politics of Memoir and the Northern Ireland Conflict Stephen Hopkins,2013 This book examines memoir writing by many of the key political actors in the Northern Irish Troubles 1969-1998 and argues that memoir has been a neglected dimension of the study of the legacies of the violent conflict It investigates these sources in the context of ongoing disputes over how to interpret Northern Ireland's recent past A careful reading of these memoirs can provide insights into the lived experience and retrospective judgments of some of the main protagonists of the conflict The period of relative peace rests upon an uneasy calm in Northern Ireland Many people continue to inhabit contested ideological territories and in their strategies for shaping the narrative telling of the conflict key individuals within the Protestant Unionist and Catholic Irish Nationalist communities can appear locked into exclusive and self justifying discourses In such circumstances while some memoirists have been genuinely self critical many others have utilised a post conflict language of societal *Out of Focus . . . the notion of liminality in postcolonial critical discourse today By visiting Mashriqi writers of memoir Bugeja offers a unique intervention in the understanding of in between and threshold states in present day postcolonialist thought His analysis situates liminal space as a fraught form of consciousness that mediates between conditions of historical contingency and the memorializing present Within the present Mashriqi memoir form liminal spaces may be read as articulations of representational spaces narrative spaces that based as they are within the histories of local communities are nonetheless redolent with memorial and imaginary elements Liminal consciousness today Bugeja argues is a direct consequence of the impact of volatile present day memories on the re conception of the open wounds of history Incisive readings of life writings by Mourid Barghouti Amin Maalouf Orhan Pamuk Amos Oz and Wadad Makdisi Cortas demonstrate the double edged representational chasm that opens up when present acts of memorializing are brought to bear upon the elusive histories of the early twentieth century Mashriq Sifting through the wide ranging theoretical literature on liminality and challenging received views of the concept this book proposes a nuanced materialist and original rethinking of the liminal as a more vigilant outlook onto the political literary and historical predicaments of the contemporary Middle East
