Hrudey, Elizabeth J. Hrudey, 2004-05-31 Drinking water provides an efficient source for the spread of gastrointestinal microbial pathogens capable of causing serious human disease The massive death toll and burden of disease worldwide caused by unsafe drinking water is a compelling reason to value the privilege of having safe drinking water delivered to individual homes On rare occasions that privilege has been undermined in affluent nations by waterborne disease outbreaks traced to the water supply Using the rich and detailed perspectives offered by the evidence and reports from the Canadian public inquiries into the Walkerton 2000 and North Battleford 2001 outbreaks to develop templates for understanding their key dimensions over 60 waterborne outbreaks from 15 affluent countries over the past 30 years are explored as individual case studies Recurring themes and patterns are revealed and the critical human dimensions are highlighted suggesting insights for more effective and more individualized preventive strategies personnel training management and regulatory control Safe Drinking Water aims to raise understanding and awareness of those factors that have most commonly contributed to or caused drinking water transmitted disease outbreaks essentially a case history analysis within the multi barrier framework It contains detailed analysis of the failures underlying drinking water transmitted disease epidemics that have been documented in the open literature by public inquiry in investigation reports in surveillance databases and other reliable information sources The book adopts a theme of converting hindsight into foresight to inform drinking water and health professionals including operators managers engineers chemists and microbiologists regulators as well as undergraduates and graduates at specialty level Key Features Contains details and perspectives of major outbreaks not widely known or understood beyond those directly involved in the investigations Technical and scientific background associated with case studies is offered in an accessible summary form Does not require specialist training or experience to comprehend the details of the numerous outbreaks reviewed By providing a broad spectrum review using a consistent approach several key recurring themes are revealed that offer insights for developing localized tailor made prevention strategies

Dark Allure of the Côte d'Azur, 2025-01-27 This is the first critical work on the history of the French Riviera from its origins in the eighteenth century to the present day in the English language It makes the argument that multi faceted power and violence war murder land dispossession and other privations targeted at the poor imperialism and ecological degradation land sea rivers and air has been integral to the making of the Côte d'Azur Invariably this has been downplayed in previous general histories that tend to focus on the personal lives and loves of famous outsiders In effect the complex general history of the place is rarely told Bryant seeks to set that record straight in an innovative work

Dark Data David J. Hand, 2022-02-15 Data describe and represent the world However no matter how big they may be data sets don't indeed cannot capture everything Data are measurements and as such they represent only what has been measured They don't necessarily capture all the information that is relevant to the questions we may want to ask If we do not take into account what may be missing unknown in the data we have we may find ourselves unwittingly asking questions that our data cannot actually address come to mistaken conclusions and make disastrous decisions In this book David Hand looks at the ubiquitous phenomenon of missing data He calls this dark data making a comparison to dark matter i.e. matter in the universe that we know is there but which is invisible to direct measurement He reveals how we can detect when data is missing the types of settings in which missing data are likely to be found and what to do about it It can arise for many reasons which themselves may not be obvious for example asymmetric information in wars time delays in financial trading dropouts in clinical trials deliberate selection to enhance apparent performance in hospitals policing and schools etc What becomes clear is that measuring and collecting more and more data big data will not necessarily lead us to better understanding or to better decisions We need to be vigilant to what is missing or unknown in our data so that we can try to control for it How do we do that We can be alert to the causes of dark data design better data collection strategies that sidestep some of these causes and we can ask better questions of our data which will lead us to deeper insights and better decisions
