Outcomes Comm Care For Serv U S A Social Services Perspective:

International Perspectives on Health and Social Care Jon Glasby, Helen Dickinson, 2009-11-09 Partnership Working in Health and Social Care adopts a thematic approach to health and social care partnerships With chapters by leading international commentators the book covers key topics in partnership with a dual focus on both policy and practice

Outcomes of Community Care for Users and Carers Andrew Nocon, Hazel Qureshi, 1996 What effects do community care services have on the people who use them Detailed attempts to measure impacts on service users and their carers have been largely confined to research exercises designed to compare different forms of social care provision In contrast performance measurement by social services has focused on activity indicators inputs and processes rather than outcomes for users The need for a shift of focus within agencies routine practice is being increasingly recognized However the task is not straightforward This book offers some ways forward for people working in agencies delivering social care It examines the meaning of outcomes considers potential service contexts for measuring them and explores service users and carers views It gives an overview of measures already used in research and considers the issues involved in developing methods suitable for practice in relation to the main groups of people receiving community care services BOOK JACKET Title Summary field

Equity and Efficiency Policy in Community Care Bleddyn Davies, José Fernández, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2000 Equity and Efficiency Policy provides a completely new perspective on post reform community care analyzes its fairness effectiveness and efficiency in a new way and uses its powerful new techniques applied to a major national collection of evidence to suggest how to develop the Modernization Agenda It describes for the first time how differences in the levels of each of the main services alone and in combination affect a wide range of user and carer benefits uses this knowledge to analyze in a new way and make policy proposals about some of the pressing policy issues of the government s Modernization Agenda

Social Care Practice in Context Malcolm Payne, Lena Dominelli, 2008-10-06 In this clear and insightful book best selling author Malcolm Payne analyses the major elements of social care practice explaining how caring and social work skills and values are crucial to effective social care Through theory research evidence and skill development Payne identifies the varying contexts in which social care takes place the agencies that provide it and the relationships at its heart The book explains the key practical social care skills How to be receptive to users and carers own understanding of their needs How to develop continuity in service provision How to use effective interpersonal engagement with users and carers to ensure a positive future for them in which they have as much control over their care as possible How to work in partnership with colleagues and other agencies With practice and case examples research boxes further reading and reflection activities this book is a stimulating read for social work and community care students and practitioners

Adult social care Great Britain: Law Commission, 2011-05-11 This report on Adult Social Care recommends the most far reaching reforms of adult social care law seen for over 60 years Under the proposals older people disabled people those with mental health problems and carers will for the first time be clear about their legal rights to care and support services And local councils across England and Wales will have clear and concise rules to govern when they must provide services Since the National Assistance Act 1948 adult social care law has been the subject of countless piecemeal reforms including new Acts of Parliament and a constant stream of regulations circulars directions approvals and guidance The proliferation of law has led to inefficiency in the system Complex law also has the effect of stifling innovation and make it difficult to promote flexibility and new policy approaches in practice The report is divided into twelve Parts Part 2 defines adult social care and Part 3 the structure of reform adopted Parts 4 through to 8 set out core recommendations Part 4 considers the role of statutory principles in providing an overall framework for decision making Part 5 covers the role of community care assessments in determining a person s needs Part 6 considers eligibility for services Part 7 explores the equivalent assessment and eligibility processes for carers and Part 8 considers the provision of services Part 9 considers local authority adult protection functions Finally Parts 10 to 12 consider other issues including ordinary residence and portability areas where adult social care overlaps with other areas of law and other outstanding issues

Community Mental Health Steve Morgan,2013-12-20 The client group referred to as the long term mentally ill the persistently severely mentally distressed the chronically psychotic ill or people with long term mental health problems have generally received a poor deal from the traditional psychiatric services Help has largely rested on custodial and medical treatments The main focus of rehabilitative approaches has often been dictated by predetermined expectations which are usually set quite low The assumption is often made that people in this client group are treatment resistant and unlikely to make good use of opportunities to develop personal skills towards restructuring their lives Though the emphasis of treatment has often followed medical approaches and many non medical people have sought to lay blame on the medical model as characterized by diagnosis and medical treatments it would be wrong and greatly over generalized to follow this line of criticism entirely In reality some psychiatrists have been the pioneers and advocates of the diversity of approaches to community support medical and non medical It is they who have often supported the development of other professionals and non professionals and who often lead the pioneering efforts of research into methods of treatment and support

Open Dialogue Around the World - Implementation, Outcomes, Experiences, and Perspectives David Mosse, Raffaella Pocobello, Rob Saunders, Jaakko Seikkula , Sebastian von Peter, 2025-07-30

Open Dialogue OD is a low hierarchical mental health service model that originated in Finland in the 1980s following a change on two different levels First a culture of dialogical communication between staff users and caregivers was established Secondly community based multi disciplinary teams were organized to offer primarily outpatient services Immediate help in crisis continuity of support by the same team a low medication and primarily psychotherapeutically oriented approach are key principles of OD that have been further elaborated upon overtime during the past decades OD promotes mutual trust and open exchange between the involved stakeholders It is based on a mental health care epistemology that prioritizes human values everyday relationships and context bound understandings over symptoms and clinical diagnostics Transparency is of high value All information is shared and all voices are to be heard thereby recognizing diversity and reflecting power differentials during the whole process of support OD is now practiced in various regions around the globe i e in several countries in Europe as well as in Australia Japan Latin America and the USA Studies in Western Lapland demonstrated various outcomes such as reducing the prevalence and incidence of so called chronic mental illness need for disability benefits and intake of neuroleptic medication while increasing functional remission and taking up work on the first labour market However these outcomes primarily originate in studies that have investigated the OD in countries of its origin leading to the question of whether they are transferrable to other healthcare contexts This question is crucial since OD varies internationally in its adaption to local health care systems and contingencies instead of representing a clearly demarcated intervention This Research Topic is interested in gaining an international perspective on OD It will assemble papers and contributions that report and comment on local OD practices describe and analyze their outcomes and impact and inform future directions worldwide Manuscripts that are co authored by peers survivors and user researchers are especially welcomed All manuscripts will be peer reviewed We are interested in Qualitative quantitative and mixed method original research on OD reporting on empirical research such as the results of intervention studies clinical or pilot trials Systematic reviews or mini reviews that summarize the results of empirical studies on OD Case reports that highlight an unexpected situation or outcome of an OD course of support Policy and practice reviews on local regulations and guidelines that are relevant for OD Hypotheses papers that present novel arguments interpretations or theoretical models in relation to OD Perspective articles that present a viewpoint on a specific area of investigation in relation to OD Conceptual analysis articles that explore the concepts and issues behind OD Papers on training and instructions that describe innovative curricula courses and teaching formats concerning OD Data report presenting a description or a research dataset on OD Brief research report that presents original research and or preliminary findings on OD with fewer detail Commentary and opinion papers that provide critical comments or contribute viewpoints on recent research findings
