Hunting and the Ivory Tower Douglas Higbee, David Bruzina, 2018-05-11 Seventeen hunter scholars explore the hunting experience and question common negative stereotypes Despite the academy having a reputation for supporting broad and open inquiry in scholarship some academics have not extended this open minded support to colleagues personal pursuits A variety of scholars enjoy hunting which has been stereotyped by some as an activity of the unsophisticated In Hunting and the Ivory Tower Douglas Higbee and David Bruzina present essays by seventeen hunter scholars who explore the hunting experience and question negative assumptions about hunting made by intellectuals and academics who do not hunt Higbee and Bruzina suspect most academics' understanding of hunting is based on brief television news reports of hunter politicians and commercials for reality TV shows such as Duck Dynasty The editors contend that few scholars appreciate the complexities of hunting or give much thought to its ethical ecological and cultural ramifications Through this anthology they hope to start a conversation about both hunting and academia and how they relate The contributors to this anthology are academics from a variety of disciplines each with firsthand hunting experience Their essays vary in style and tone from the scholarly to the personal and represent the different ways in which scholars engage with their avocation The essays are grouped into three sections the first focuses on the often fraught relation between hunters and academic culture the second section offers personal accounts of hunting by academics and the third portrays hunting from an explicitly academic point of view whether in terms of value theory metaphysics or history Combined these essays render hunting as a culturally rich deeply personal and intellectually satisfying experience worthy of further discussion A foreword is provided by Robert DeMott the Edwin and Ruth Kennedy Distinguished Professor at Ohio University in Athens Ohio He is a teacher writer critic and internationally respected expert on novelist John Steinbeck Index de Périodiques Canadiens, 1999 Bibliography of McClelland and Stewart Ltd. Imprints, 1909-1985 McClelland and Stewart Limited, Carl Spadoni, Judy Donnelly, 1994-05 A Bibliography of McClelland and Stewart Ltd Imprints 1909 1985 contains bibliographic records of all books and other materials published by McClelland and Stewart publishing company from 1909 when the first books were published to 1985 when Jack McClelland ceased to be associated with the company Carl Spadoni and Judith Donnelly have included all manner of books in this compilation fiction poetry drama biography history and other non fiction as well as textbooks at all levels A good portion of the company's books in the pre World War II period were imported from the United States and England the compilers have therefore listed not only Canadian books but also works by non Canadian writers in Canadian issues
