Meaning in the Arts Louis Arnaud Reid, 2014-02-04 This is Volume II of three in a collection on Aesthetics Originally published in 1969 this volume of the Muirhead library of philosophy After distinguishing and relating the functions of Criticism and Aesthetics in Part I Part II develops the basic thesis of the book which is that the central defining characteristic of the aesthetic is embodiment rather than expression Part III tests this out in examples from the different arts representative and abstract with very special attention to music as an abstract art in which the problem of art s apparently contradictory characters of being both autonomous and yet expressive of life outside art is seen in its most acute form Part IV is a philosophical analysis of the main concepts so far involved meaning symbolism knowledge truth standards in art as distinct from other discursive knowledge It concludes with a discussion of the question whether art is in any sense a revelation Part V considers the bearing of the arguments of the book on aesthetic education

Symmetry Marc J. Straus, 2000 In this second book of poems oncologist Marc J Straus addresses the hopes and the tragedies of his profession The work is a commentary on his experience in the medical field and a collection of rich vivid monologues written from the points of view of both doctor and patient These poems show a rare sensitivity not only to those who are suffering but also to the details that distinguish each life Psychologism and Psychoaesthetics John Fizer, 1981-01-01 Unlike studies which confine psychologism to the second half of the nineteenth century and to an explicit claim of psychology as a Grundwissenschaft during that period this work attempts to trace psychologism s emergence in Greek antiquity in hedonistic tendencies of the Renaissance and in British Empiricism Thus psychologism figures as a generic concept embracing a variety of both positivistic and idealistic arguments concerning the localization of normative sciences particularly aesthetics and literary theory in psychological space This study also considers the implicit psychologism of even those psychoaesthetic theories which claimed to be against the exclusive status of psychology In their actual treatment of aesthetic and literary facts such theories inadvertently did indeed resort to psychologistic arguments The position from which I have chosen to look at psychologically committed aesthetics and literary theory is essentially phenomenological The author seeks to present psychologism as a central tendency of psychoaesthetics as well as to assert critically psychologism's basic assumptions Out of the Shadow Rinda West, 2007 In western culture the separation of humans from nature has contributed to a schism between the conscious reason and the unconscious dreaming psyche or internal human nature Our increasing lack of intimacy with the land has led to a decreased capacity to access parts of the psyche not normally valued in a capitalist culture In Out of the Shadow Ecopsychology Story and Encounters with the Land Rinda West uses Jung's idea of the shadow to explore how this divorce results in alienation projection and often breakdown Bringing together ideas from analytical psychology environmental thought and literary studies West explores a variety of literary texts including several by contemporary American Indian writers to show through a sort of geography of the psyche how alienation from nature reflects a parallel separation from the nature that constitutes the unconscious Through her analysis of narratives that offer images of people confronting shadow reconnecting with nature and growing psychologically and ethically West reveals that when characters enter into relationship with the natural world they are better able to confront and reclaim shadow By writing from the shadows West argues that contemporary writers are exploring ways of being human that have the potential for creating more just and honorable relationships with nature and more sustainable communities For ecocritics conservation activists scholars and students of environmental studies and American Indian studies and ecopsychologists Out of the Shadow offers hope for humans wishing to reconcile with themselves with nature and with community An Introduction to the
