scholars of Colin Wilson's work worldwide and is published in his honour to mark the author's 80th birthday. Each contributor has provided an essay on their favourite Wilson book or the one they consider to be the most significant. The result is a varied and stimulating assessment of Wilson's writings on philosophy, psychology, literature, criminology and the occult, with critical appraisals of four of his most thought-provoking novels. Altogether a fitting tribute to a writer. Sex, Class and Realism John Hill, 2019-07-25 Hugely impressive in its scope with introductory chapters on social history, the film industry and theories of realism, this indispensable history of these vital years contains unusually fresh discussions of films justly regarded as important alongside those unjustly ignored. The extensive filmography which accompanies Sex, Class and Realism will also prove to be an invaluable reference source in the teaching of British cinema history. Black British Literature Mark Stein, 2004 In this fascinating book Mark Stein examines black British literature, centering on a body of work created by British-based writers with African, South Asian or Caribbean cultural backgrounds. Linking black British literature to the bildungsroman genre, this study examines the transformative potential inscribed in and induced by a heterogeneous body of texts. Capitalizing on their plural cultural attachments, these texts portray and purvey the transformation of post-imperial Britain. Stein locates his wide-ranging analysis in both a historical and a literary context. He argues that a cross-cultural and interdisciplinary approach is essential to understanding post-colonial culture and society. The book relates black British literature to ongoing debates about cultural diversity and thereby offers a way of reading a highly popular but as yet relatively uncharted field of cultural production. With the collapse of its empire with large-scale immigration from former colonies and with ever-increasing cultural diversity, Britain underwent a fundamental makeover in the second half of the twentieth century. This volume cogently argues that black British literature is not only a commentator on and a reflector of this makeover but that it is simultaneously an agent that is integral to the processes of cultural and social change. Conceptualizing the novel of transformation, this comprehensive study of British black literature provides a compelling analytic framework for charting these processes. The Anti-Hero in the American Novel D. Simmons, 2008-05-26 The Anti-Hero in the American Novel rereads major texts of the 1960s to offer an innovative re-evaluation of a set of canonical novels that moves beyond entrenched post-modern and post-structural interpretations towards an appraisal which emphasizes the specifically humanist and idealist elements of these works. Britannica Concise Encyclopedia Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc., 2008-05-01 Britannica Concise Encyclopedia is the perfect resource for information on the people, places and events of yesterday and today. Mors Britannica Douglas J. Davies, 2015-11-12 A people's lifestyle is one thing their death style another The proximity or distance between such styles says much about a society not least in Britain today Mors Britannica takes up this style issue in a society where cultural changes involve distinctions between traditional religion secularisation and emergent forms of spirituality all of which involve emotions where fear longing and a sense of loss rise in waves when death marks the root embodiment of our humanity These world orientations evident in older and newer ritual practices engage death in the hope and desire that love relationships community and human identity be not rendered meaningless Yet both emotions and ritual have an uneasiness to them because death is a slippery topic as the twenty first century gets under way in Britain In this work Douglas J. Davies draws from a largely anthropological sociological perspective with consideration of history literature philosophy psychology and theology to provide a window into British life and insights into the foundation links between individuals and society across the spectrum of traditionally religious views through to humanist and secular alternatives He considers memorial sites from churchyards to roadside memorials forms of corporeal disposal from cremation to composting and death rites in a range of religious and secular traditions

Art and Masculinity in Post-War Britain Gregory Salter, 2020-05-18 In this book Gregory Salter traces how artists represented home and masculinities in the period of social and personal reconstruction after the Second World War in Britain Salter considers home as an unstable entity at this historical moment imbued with the optimism and hopes of post war recovery while continuing to resonate with the memories and traumas of wartime Artists examined in the book include John Bratby Francis Bacon Keith Vaughan Francis Newton Souza and Victor Pasmore Case studies featured range from the nuclear family and the body to the nation Combined they present an argument that art enables an understanding of post war reconstruction as a temporally unstable long term phenomenon which placed conceptions of home and masculinity at the heart of its aims Art and Masculinity in Post War Britain sheds new light on how the fluid concepts of society nation masculinity and home interacted and influenced each other at this critical period in history and will be of interest to anyone studying art history anthropology sociology history and cultural and heritage studies
