Outsmarting Your Karma And Other Preordained Conditions:

No Regrets Barry Neil Kaufman, 2011-02-08 Barry Kaufman's life has been spent helping others cope with severe adversities and traumas. When he learned of his father's cancer diagnosis, he had to summon all of his strength. That struggle and the surprising rewards that came from it are the subject of No Regrets. Kaufman's father Abe was a man of simple tastes, modest aspirations, and respectable accomplishments who dares at age eighty-five to open his heart in the face of a terminal illness. His son was not ready for it at first, having limited emotional reserves after his own son was diagnosed as irreversibly autistic. This moving book about the unbreakable bond between a father and son shows how one man learned to confront and finally celebrate life's transitions.

Peace and Joy Handbook Sina Meas, Narong Hul, 2021-01-07 The law of nature and the law set by society are equally important. In this case, Karma is a natural law. The law of karma is one of the most important laws governing our lives. Karma refers to the idea that intentional actions have consequences for the agent in this life and in future lives in fact it is karma that leads to rebirth It is the law of cause and effect whereby everything that exists arises due to specific conditions In this sense the law of karma is a sort of natural law so that actions are naturally followed by consequences not as the result of divine judgment Evil actions like killing stealing lying and so on are bad karmas and will lead to rebirth in an unpleasant human situation or in hell Good actions on the other hand such as generosity make merit and leads to good rebirth in a pleasant human situation or in heaven When we understand the law of Karma and live our understanding when we act on what we know then we experience a sense of peace and joy If we live in a way that is out of harmony ignoring the nature of things we then experience dissonance pain and confusion The law of karma is one of the fundamental natural laws through which we create these vastly different realities It is as though we are all artists but instead of canvas and paint or marble or music as our medium our very bodies minds and life experience are the materials of our creative expression A great sense of fulfillment in dharma practice comes from knowing this and from actively creating and fashioning our lives A person may not escape the consequences of his actions but he will suffer if he himself has made the conditions ripe for his suffering Ignorance of the law is no excuse whether the laws are human made or universal When we choose actions that bring happiness and success to others the fruit of our karma is happiness and success      Look at Your Karma Arthur Burge Robson,1947
