Ouvertures Sur Un Comparatisme Planétaire:

All the Difference in the World Natalie Melas, 2007 This book is about culture and comparison Starting with the history of the discipline of comparative literature and its forgotten relation to the positivist comparative method it inquires into the idea of comparison in a postcolonial world Comparison was Eurocentric by exclusion when it applied only to European literature and Eurocentric by discrimination when it adapted evolutionary models to place European literature at the forefront of human development This book argues that inclusiveness is not a sufficient response to postcolonial and multiculturalist challenges because it leaves the basis of equivalence unquestioned The point is not simply to bring more objects under comparison but rather to examine the process of comparison The book offers a new approach to the either/or of relativism and universalism in which comparison is either impossible or assimilatory by focusing instead on various forms of incommensurability comparisons in which there is a ground for comparison but no basis for equivalence Each chapter develops a particular form of such cultural comparison from readings of important novelists Joseph Conrad Simone Schwartz Bart poets Aim C saire Derek Walcott and theorists Edouard Glissant Jean Luc Nancy Universal Localities Galin Tihanov, 2022-07-02 The volume features the work of leading scholars from the US UK Germany China Spain and Russia and presents an important contribution to current debates on world literature The contributions discuss various facets of the historically changing role and status of language in the construction of notions of universality and locality of difference foreignness and openness they explore the relationship between world literature and bilingualism supranational languages dialects and linguistic inbetweenness They also examine the larger social and political stakes behind both foundational and more recent attempts to articulate ideas of world literature Mapping the space between philology anthropology and ec humanities the essays in this volume approach world literature with sophisticated methodological toolkits and open up new opportunities for engaging with this important discursive framework Aesthetics and the Literature of Ideas François Jost, Melvin J. Friedman, 1990 This collection explores the aesthetic principles that pervade all sectors of human activities involving intellectual perceptiveness The three areas of investigation are aesthetics and rationality in the realm of literary history and criticism the genres and meanings in the metamorphosis of the arts and aesthetics in literature society and politics Mediating Languages and Cultures Dieter Buttjes, Michael Byram, 1991 The history of language teaching is shot through with methods and approaches to language learning most recently with communicative language teaching but this book demonstrates that a more differentiated and richer understanding of learning a foreign language is both necessary and desirable Languages and cultures are interlinked and interdependent and their teaching and learning should be too Learning another language is part of a complex process of learning and understanding other people's ways of life ways of thinking and socio-economic experience Comparing the Literatures David Damrosch, 2022-02-08 Paperback reprint Originally published 2020 Studying Transcultural Literary History Gunilla Lindberg-Wada, 2006 Today's spectrum of research in literary studies is characterized by a sense of openness to the methods of comparative literature and cultural studies along with a wide range of interdisciplinary crossover The spectrum Literaturwissenschaft series is intended to be a forum for this pluralistic new model of literary studies It presents papers that are informed by methodologically innovative frequently comparative approaches and whose findings are of importance well beyond the narrow boundaries of national philological horizons Europa Provincia Mundi, Joseph Theodoor Leerssen, Karl Ulrich Syndram, 1992 The Routledge Companion to World Literature Theo D'haen, David Damrosch, Djelal Kadir, 2022-09-30 This fully updated new edition of The Routledge Companion to World Literature contains ten brand new chapters on topics such as premodern world literature migration studies world history artificial intelligence global Englishes remediation crime fiction Lusophone literature Middle Eastern literature and oceanic studies Separated into four key sections the volume covers the history of world literature through significant writers and theorists from Goethe to Said Casanova and Moretti the disciplinary relationship of world literature to areas such as philology translation globalization and diaspora studies theoretical issues in world literature including gender politics and ethics and a global perspective on the politics of world literature Comprehensive yet accessible this book is ideal as an introduction to world literature or for those looking to extend their knowledge of this essential field The Princeton Sourcebook in Comparative Literature David Damrosch, Natalie Melas, Mbongiseni Buthelezi, 2021-06-08 Key essays on comparative literature from the eighteenth century to today As comparative literature reshapes itself in today's globalizing age it is essential for students and teachers to look deeply into the discipline's history and its present possibilities The Princeton Sourcebook in Comparative Literature is a wide ranging anthology of classic essays and important recent statements on the mission and methods of comparative literary studies This pioneering collection brings together thirty two pieces from foundational statements by Herder Madame de Staël and Nietzsche to work by a range of the most influential comparatists writing today including Lawrence Venuti Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak and Franco Moretti Gathered here are manifestos and counterarguments essays in definition and debates on method by scholars and critics from the United States Europe Asia Africa and Latin America giving a unique overview of comparative study in the words of some of its most important practitioners With selections extending from the beginning of comparative study through the years of intensive theoretical inquiry and on to contemporary discussions of the world's literatures The Princeton Sourcebook in Comparative Literature helps readers navigate a rapidly evolving discipline in a dramatically changing world Reframing Critical, Literary, and Cultural Theories Nicoletta Pireddu, 2018-09-04 This book participates in the ongoing debate about the alleged death of theory and the current post theoretical condition arguing that the finitude of theoretical projects does not mean end but rather contingency and transformation of thinking beyond irreconcilable doctrines Contributors from different cultural and scholarly backgrounds and based in three different continents propose new areas of investigation and interpretive possibilities reopening dialogues with past and present discourses from a plurality of perspectives and locations After a first section that reassesses the status and scopes of critique theory and literature the book foregrounds new or neglected critical vocabulary literary paradigms and narrative patterns to reread texts at the intersection with other branches of the humanities history philosophy religion and pedagogy It then explores geopolitical cultural and epistemological domains that have been historically and ideologically overdetermined such as postsocialist postcolonial and cosmopolitan spaces recodifying them as unstable sites of both conflicts and convergences By acknowledging the spatio temporal and cultural delimitations of any intellectual practice the book creates awareness of our own partiality and incompleteness but treats boundaries as zones of contact exchange and conceptual mobility that promote crossings and connections

What Is World Literature? David Damrosch, 2018-06-05 World literature was long defined in North America as an established canon of European masterpieces but an emerging global perspective has challenged both this European focus and the very category of the masterpiece The first book to look broadly at the contemporary scope and purposes of world literature What Is World Literature probes the uses and abuses of world literature in a rapidly changing world In case studies ranging from the Sumerians to the Aztecs and from medieval mysticism to postmodern metafiction David Damrosch looks at the ways works change as they move from national to global contexts Presenting world literature not as a canon of texts but as a mode of circulation and of reading Damrosch argues that world literature is work that gains in translation When it is effectively presented a work of world literature moves into an elliptical space created between the source and receiving cultures shaped by both but circumscribed by neither alone Established classics and new discoveries alike participate in this mode of circulation but they can be seriously mishandled in the process From the rediscovered Epic of Gilgamesh in the nineteenth century to Rigoberta Menchú's writing today foreign works have often been distorted by the immediate needs of their own editors and translators Eloquently written argued largely by example and replete with insightful close readings this book is both an essay in definition and a series of cautionary tales

1793 Lord George Macartney and an enormous delegation including diplomats doctors scholars painters musicians soldiers and aristocrats entered Beijing on a mission to open China to British trade But Macartney s famous refusal to perform the traditional kowtow before the Chinese Emperor was just one sign that the two empires would not see eye to eye and the trade talks failed The inability to develop a trade relation would have enormous consequences for future relations between China and the West Peyrefitte s vivid narrative of this fascinating encounter is based on extraordinary source materials from each side including the charming and candid diary of Thomas Staunton the son of one of Macartney s aides An example of history at its finest The Immobile Empire recaptures the extraordinary experience of two great empires in collision sizing each other up for the first time

A Cosmopolitan Approach to Literature Didier Coste, 2022-12-30 This cross disciplinary approach to literary reading of any provenance based on an experimental cosmopolitan epistemology de and recontextualizes the texts from the points of view of multiple cultures and historical moments enriching interpretation and aesthetic experience beyond the backgrounds of the present reader and the origin of a particular literary discourse Trusting the authority of an author or an original text and ignoring the fundamental plurilingualism of the literary experience obstructs the wealth of cosmopolitan reading in a globalized and fragmented world A thorough critique of both local and overarching theories in clear dissent from the binaries of decolonial theory and the overextension of nomadic theory supports a precise research and teaching methodology at
