Williams, 2019-05-16 Charts a new methodological course in Dead Sea Scrolls scholarship by employing memory theory to inform historical research This is an instructive resource for scholars who are seeking an alternative to currently constructed approaches to the subject and will be of appeal to those interested in the Dead Sea Scrolls more generally

On the Sea of Memory Jonathan Cott, 2005 Handbook on the History and Culture of the Black Sea Region Ninja Bumann, Kerstin S. Jobst, Stefan Rohdewald, Stefan Troebst, 2024-12-30 Following the annexation of Crimea by the Russian Federation in spring 2014 160 years after the Crimean War and the full scale invasion of Ukraine in February 2022 the Black Sea region has again become the focus of world history In this handbook international scholars from various historical and cultural disciplines provide deep historical insights into the structures of conflict cooperation and interrelations between the Balkans the Middle East the Caucasus and Eastern Europe in the space referred to as the Black Sea world The trans maritime communication and intra regional circulations spanning from Antiquity to the present day via Byzantium the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth the Crimean Khanate the Venetian Safavid Ottoman and Romanov empires two World Wars and the Cold War highlight the autonomy of this historical region in the larger transcontinental setting designated in various times and varying languages as the Pontus Euxinus the Mare Maggiore the Kara Deniz the Chernoe More or the Black Sea This voluminous edition sheds real light upon the history of the Black Sea region from antiquity until the end of the 20th century Not only does this first rate book provide a host of excellent historical essays across time it also devotes considerable attention to important questions regarding how the Black Sea region is conceptualized and theorized A very useful contribution James H Meyer Montana State University In the wake of several research projects monographs and journals this is the first groundbreaking handbook on the cohesive history of the Black Sea as a historical meso region It gathers 39 excellent contributions that provide the conceptual apparatus survey the history of the region from a Greek to Byzantine to Ottoman lake to conflicting rivalries to its recent transformation from a quasi Soviet to a quasi NATO lake examine the ideas that underpin the various national ethnic and religious identities research the different mobilities through migration transport infrastructure and take stock of its turbulent history through conflicts and war Maria Todorova University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign Mostly the work of scholars from Central Europe and the Black Sea region this massive volume focuses on the relationship between historical research and memory in particular the difficulty of certain groups living in the region when confronted with empires and nation states whose centers may be quite distant from the Black Sea Attentive readers may thus view the present handbook not merely as a work of reference on history memory and movement but also as a testimony to the historical perspectives developed by a significant number of Central European and Black Sea scholars during the first quarter of the twenty first century Suraiya Faroqhi Ibn Haldun University Istanbul

When Computers Went to Sea David L. Boslaugh, 2003-04-16 When Computers Went to Sea explores the history of the United States Navy's secret development of code breaking computers and their adaptation to solve a critical fleet radar data handling problem in the Navy's first seaborne digital computer system that went to sea in 1962 This is the only book written on the United States Navy's initial application of shipboard digital computers to naval warfare Considered one of the most successful projects ever undertaken by the US Navy the Naval Tactical Data System NTDS was the subject of numerous studies attempting to pinpoint the reason for the system's inordinate success in the face of seemingly impossible technical challenges and stiff resistance from some in the military The system's success precipitated a digital revolution in naval warfare systems Dave Boslaugh details the innovations developed by the NTDS project managers including project management techniques modular digital hardware for ship systems top down modular computer programming techniques innovative computer program documentation and other novel real time computer system concepts Automated military systems users and developers real time process control systems designers automated system project managers and digital technology history students will find this account of a United States military organization's initial foray into computerization interesting and thought provoking

The Log from the Sea of Cortez John Steinbeck, 1951-11-01 A Penguin Classic In the two years after the 1939 publication of Steinbeck's masterful The Grapes of Wrath Steinbeck and his novel increasingly became the center of intense controversy and censorship In search of a respite from the national stage Steinbeck and his close friend biologist Ed Ricketts embarked on a month long marine specimen collecting expedition in the Gulf of California which resulted in their collaboration on the Sea of Cortez In 1951 after Ricketts' death Steinbeck reissued his narrative portion of the work in memory of his friend and the inspiration for Cannery Row's Doc This exciting day by day account of their journey together is a rare blend of science philosophy and high spirited adventure This edition features an introduction by Richard Astro For more than seventy years Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world With more than 1 700 titles Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators

Recovering Memory Hedda Friberg, Irene Gilsenan Nordin, Lene Yding Pedersen, 2009-03-26 Various ways of collecting storing and recovering memories have been the focus of the most recent joint research project carried out by a group of Irish Studies scholars all based in the Nordic countries and members of the Nordic Irish Studies Network NISN The result of the project Recovering Memory Irish Representations of Past and Present is a collection of essays which examines the theme of memory in Irish literature and culture against the theoretical background of the philosophical discourse of modernity Offering a wide range of perspectives this volume examines a plurality of representations past and present of memory both public and private and the intersection between collective memory and individual in modern Ireland Also explored is the relation between memory and identity national and private as well as questions of subjectivity and the construction of the self Given Ireland's tragic past and its long history of colonisation it is inevitable that various aspects of memory in terms of nationality post colonialism and politics also have bearing on this study The volume is divided into five sections each of which examines one broadly defined aspect of memory The introductory section focuses on memory and history and is followed by sections on memory and autobiography place identity and memory in the work of novelist John Banville Within each section the individual writers engage in a fruitful dialogue with each other and with the approaches of such theorists as Arendt Husserl Merleau Ponty Ricoeur and Baudrillard

Regions of Memory Simon Lewis, Jeffrey Olick, Joanna Wawrzyniak, Malgorzata Pakier, 2022-08-17 Regions of memory are a scale of social and cultural memory that reaches above the national yet remains narrower than the global or universal The chapters of this volume analyze transnational constellations of memory across and between several geographical areas exploring historical political and cultural interactions between societies Such a perspective enables a more diverse field of possible comparisons in memory studies studying a variety of global memory regions in parallel Moreover it reveals lesser known vectors and mechanisms of memory travel such as across Cold War battle lines across the Indian Ocean or between Southeast Asia and western Europe Chapters 1 and 6 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com

The Devil from over the Sea Sarah Covington, 2022-03-24 In Ireland few figures have generated more hatred than Oliver Cromwell whose seventeenth century conquest massacres and dispossessions would endure in the social memory for ages to come The Devil from over the Sea explores the many ways in which Cromwell was remembered and sometimes conveniently forgotten in historical religious political and literary texts according to the interests of different communities across time Cromwell's powerful afterlife in Ireland however cannot be understood without also investigating his presence in folklore and the landscape in ruins and curses Nor can he be separated from the idea of the Cromwellian a term which came to elicit an entire chain of contemptuous associations that would begin after his invasion and assume a wholly new force in the nineteenth century What emerges from all these memorializing traces is a multitudinous Cromwell who could be represented as brutal comic sympathetic or satanic He could be discarded also tellingly from the accounts of the past and especially by those which viewed him as an embarrassment or worse In addition to exploring the many reasons why Cromwell was so vehemently remembered or forgotten in Ireland Sarah Covington finally uncovers the larger truths conveyed by sometimes fanciful or invented accounts Contrary to being damaging examples of myth making the memorializations contained in martyrologies folk tales or newspaper polemics were often productive in cohering communities or in displaying agency in the form of counter memories that claimed Cromwell for their own and reshaped Irish history in the process

The Dead Sea Scrolls Charlotte Hempel, 2010-07-26 This volume presents the proceedings of an international conference of the same title held at the University of Birmingham in 2007 The contributors are drawn from the ranks of leading international specialists in the field writing alongside promising younger scholars The volume includes studies on the contribution of the Scrolls to Second Temple Jewish history the archaeological context the role of the temple and its priesthood as well as treatments on selected texts and issues These proceedings offer a timely and up to date assessment of the Dead Sea Scrolls and the material remains unearthed at Qumran in their wider context and not infrequently challenge prevailing lines of interpretation Helen Jacobus has won the Sean Dever Memorial Prize with her contribution to this volume Commenting on the Dever prize Professor Carol Meyers of Duke University North Carolina said The judges thought highly of Helen s meticulous scholarship and careful presentation of the data in her discussion of the zodiac and its role in Jewish calendars The Sea in the Literary Imagination Ekaterina V. Kobeleva, Ben P. Robertson, Shannon W.

Thompson, 2019-01-03 This collection explores nautical themes in a variety of literary contexts from multiple cultures Including contributors from five continents it emphasizes the universality of human experience with the sea while focusing on literature that spans a millennium stretching from medieval romance to the twenty first century reimagining of classic literary texts in film These fresh essays engage in discussions of literature from the UK the USA India Chile Turkey Spain Japan Colombia and the Caribbean Scholars of maritime literature will find the collection interesting for the unique insights it offers on individual literary texts while general readers will be intrigued by the interconnectedness that it reveals in human experience with the sea

Afrasian Transformations, 2020-08-31 African Asian interactions contribute to the emergence of a decentred multi polar world in which different actors need to redefine themselves and their relations to each other Afrasian Transformations explores these changes to map out several arenas where these transformations have already produced startling results development politics South South cooperation cultural memory mobile lifeworlds and transcultural connectivity The contributions in this volume neither celebrate these shifting dynamics as felicitous proof of a new age of South South solidarity nor do they debunk them as yet another instance of burgeoning geopolitical hegemony Instead they seek to come to terms with the ambivalences contradictions and potential benefits entailed in these transformations that are also altering our understanding of trans area in an increasingly globalized world Contributors include Seifudein Adem Nafeesah Allen Jan Beek Tom De Bruyn Casper Hendrik Claassen Astrid Erll Hanna Getachew Amare John Njenga Karugia Guive Khan Mohammad Vinay Lal Pavan Kumar Malreddy Jamie Monson Diderot Nguempjouw Satwinder S Rehal Ute R schenthaler Alexandra Samokhvalova Darryl C Thomas and Sophia Thubauville

Reading the Dead Sea Scrolls George J. Brooke, 2013-10-01 The Dead Sea Scrolls which have long captured the public imagination are now all available in principal editions and accessible translations This book addresses the next stage in their analysis by raising questions about how they should be read and studied The essays collected here illustrate two approaches First some essays argue that traditional methods of studying ancient texts need to be refined and broadened in the light of the Scrolls The volume thus contains studies on text criticism literary traditions lexicography historiography and theology Second the book also argues that innovative methods of study applied fruitfully in other areas now also need to be applied to the Scrolls such as studies that consider the relevance for the Scrolls of deviance theory cultural memory hypertextuality intertextuality genre theory spatial analysis and psychology Many of the examples in these studies relate to how authoritative scripture was handled and appropriated by the groups that gathered the Scrolls together in the caves at and near Qumran so some of the same texts are analyzed from several different perspectives      Sea Urchins John M. Lawrence,2020-01-09 Sea Urchins Biology and Ecology Fourth Edition Volume 43 expands its coverage to include the entire class of Echinoidea making this new edition an authoritative reference of the entire class of species This is a valuable resource that will help readers gain a deep understanding of the basic characteristics of sea urchins the basis of the great variation that exists in sea urchins and how sea urchins are important components of marine ecosystems Updated coverage includes sections on reproduction metabolism endocrinology larval ecology growth digestion carotenoids and disease Includes pertinent tables and graphs within chapters to visually summarize information Provides case studies with research applications to provide potential solutions Includes the entire class of Echinoidea and the effect of climate change on the biology and ecology of the species
