Seabird Numbers and Breeding Success in Britain and Ireland, 2004 ,2005      Tracking marine megafauna for conservation and marine spatial planning Jorge M. Pereira, Ana M. M. Sequeira, Yan Ropert-Coudert, Tommy Clay, Ryan Rudolf Reisinger, 2023-02-09      The Status of Birds in Britain and Ireland David Parkin, Alan Knox, 2010-01-01 A detailed and up to date assessment of the status and distribution of every species of bird in Britain and Ireland      Birds of Essex Simon Wood, 2009-01-01 The County Avifaunas are a growing series giving full details of the status and range of every species recorded in the county in question Each title covers all species on the county list with a detailed breakdown of rarity records and each has introductory sections describing the county s general ecology climate weather patterns its ornithological history and conservation record Essex is of national and international importance to many migrating and wintering wildfowl and waders which can be found on the estuaries Further inland the Lea Valley harbours important populations of several species within the complex of reservoirs and gravel pits Elsewhere the diverse habits of woodland and parkland heaths and commons agricultural land and urban areas mean that at all times of year there is the opportunity to see upwards of 100 species in a day with little effort This book analyses and summarises all the data collated and documented over the last 200 years and includes available records to the end of 2004 Introductory chapters discuss the geology and habitats of Essex and the amazing fossil bird record The individual accounts provide an up to date status of each species and patterns of occurrence within Essex A distribution map is included for most breeding species A breakdown and analysis are provided for all county rarities Superb line drawings and photographs illustrate the book all by talented local artists and photographers This book is an essential reference for anybody who has watched birds in this amazing county      The Changing Wildlife of Great Britain and Ireland David L. Hawksworth, 2003-06-26 Periodic comprehensive overviews of the status of the diverse organisms that make up wildlife are essential to determining trends threats and future prospects Just over 25 years ago leading authorities on different kinds of wildlife came together to prepare an assessment of their status of a wide range of organisms in Great Britain and Ireland in The Changing Flora and Fauna of Britain also edited by Professor David L Hawksworth CBE Now in The Changing Wildlife of Great Britain and Ireland he has gathered together some of the original and also new contributors to review changes since that time and look to the future Contributions range from viruses diatoms fungi lichens mites and nematodes through butterflies dragonflies flies and slugs to flowering plants ferns mammals birds and fish The state of knowledge in different groups is assessed and the effectiveness of statutory and other measures taken to safeguard wildlife considered The picture is far from bleak ameliorating sulphur dioxide levels have benefited sensitive lichens and mosses in a dramatic way water quality improvement has been beneficial there have been few certain extinctions and rediscoveries of species thought to have been lost Biodiversity Action Plans have also benefited targeted species but habitat restoration and management for some is not always good for others But there are worrying trends in declining populations with an increasing number being regarded as threatened or endangered especially in agricultural areas and where woodland management has changed particular threats from introduced species and concern over the effects of climate change Some of the smaller organisms remain poorly known a situation unlikely to change as expertise in many is scant or being lost This stock check and look to the future will be a key source book to conservationists naturalists and professional biologists for many years to come The Birds of Gwent Gwent Ornithological society,2009-01-01 The County Avifauna series provides detailed information on the range and status of bird species at county level Areas covered so far include Norfolk Suffolk Dorset the Shetland Islands and the Isles of Scilly with The Birds of Essex in press Each title includes a breakdown of rarity records and there are introductory sections describing the area s ecology climate ornithological history and conservation record as well as a gazeteer of the best sites to visit Gwent contains a wide range of habitats in a relatively small area including estuarine wetland in the south valleys in the west and uplands in the north with heavily wooded areas in the Usk and Wye valleys Major sites include the Newport Wetlands which attracts visitors from throughout Wales and the west of England to its wet grassland saline lagoons and freshwater reedbeds Other important sites include Peterstone Wentlooge along the Severn Estuary west of Newport and Llandegfedd Reservoir

Irish Birds ,1998 Conserving Bird Biodiversity Ken Norris,Deborah J. Pain,2002-06-06 The earth s biodiversity currently faces an extinction crisis that is unprecedented Conservationists attempt to intervene in the extinction process either locally by protecting or restoring important species and habitats or at national and international levels by influencing key policies and promoting debate Reliable information is the foundation upon which these efforts are based which places research at the heart of biodiversity conservation The role of research in such conservation is diverse It includes understanding why biodiversity is important defining units of biodiversity priority setting for species and sites managing endangered and declining populations understanding large scale processes making predictions about the future and interfacing with training education public awareness and policy initiatives Using examples from a wide range of bird conservation work worldwide researchers consider the principles underlying these issues and illustrate how these principles have been applied to address actual conservation problems for students practitioners and researchers in conservation biology
