Seasons And Nutrition At The Kenya Coast African Studies Center Leiden:

Seasons and Nutrition at the Kenya Coast Jan Hoorweg, D. Foeken, Wijnand Klaver, 1995 Examines the seasonal variations in food consumption and nutrition that occur in Kenya's Coast Province Discusses the strategies developed by the study population to cope with diminishing food stocks at the end of the agricultural year Analyzes the respective influences of climate productive organization and household income The findings are reviewed in relation to the changes in livelihood that have occurred in rural Africa in respect of resource management and diversification strategies and in relation to existing theories of child growth Discusses implications for development and policy Digging Deeper: Inside Africa's Agricultural, Food and Nutrition Dynamics, 2014-11-06 This volume attempts to dig deeper into what is currently happening in Africa's agricultural and rural sector and to convince policymakers and others that it is important to look at the current African rural dynamics in ways that connect metropolitan demands for food with value chain improvements and agro food cluster innovations It is essential to go beyond a development bureaucracy and a state based approach to rural transformation such as the one that often dominates policy debate in African government circles organizations like the African Union and the UN and donor agencies Food Consumption and Nutrition in the Kenya Coast Wijnand Klaver, Robert K. N. Mwandime, 1998

Kenya Coast Handbook Jan Hoorweg, D. Foeken, 2000 Kenya Coast Handbook is dedicated to the Kenya Coast and its hinterland The region a popular tourist destination is considered by many to be relatively undeveloped despite the presence of Mombasa the country's second largest town and a key East African seaport This book explores developmental possibilities in the region taking into account physical resources and environment ethnicity politics tourism education and nutrition Its twenty five chapters detail the region's history economy human resources and prospects for development The book which contains a large bibliography and statistical information section is a standard work for anyone with a professional interest in the East African coastal region in general and the Kenya coast in particular Seasonality, Rural Livelihoods and Development Stephen Devereux, Rachel Sabates-Wheeler, Richard Longhurst, 2013-07-03 Seasonality is a severe constraint to sustainable rural livelihoods and a driver of poverty and hunger particularly in the tropics Many poor people in developing countries are ill equipped to cope with seasonal variations which can lead to drought or flood and consequences for agriculture employment food supply and the spread of disease The subject has assumed increasing importance as climate change and other forms of development disrupt established seasonal patterns and variations This book is the first systematic study of seasonality for over twenty years and it aims to revive academic interest and policy awareness of this crucial but neglected issue Thematic chapters explore recent shifts with profound implications for seasonality including climate change HIV AIDS and social protection Case study chapters explore seasonal dimensions of livelihoods in Africa Ethiopia Kenya Malawi Asia Bangladesh China India and Latin America Peru Others assess policy responses to adverse seasonality for example through irrigation migration and seasonally sensitive education The book also includes innovative tools for monitoring seasonality which should enable more appropriate responses

Trading the Fruits of the Land Tjalling

Dijkstra,2018-12-20 First published in 1997 this volume contributes to the knowledge for the trade of vegetables fruits and tubers so called horticultural commodities As African policy makers try to keep pace with new developments in private food trade they require knowledge of the structures of private trade systems and the factors that govern their long term development The study analyses the structure and development of horticultural marketing channels in Kenya It is based primarily on surveys of some 500 farmers in four districts and 750 horticultural traders in 18 market places Commercial horticultural farmers domestic traders export traders agents facilitators marketing cooperatives and processors are all reviewed The study devotes special attention to the efficiency of collecting wholesalers and to the development of rural assembly markets It develops a model which can elucidate vertical differentiation processes in the Kenyan horticultural channels The analyses show that marketing channel theory can be of great relevance to the developing world The proposed vertical differentiation model can aid in predicting future changes in horticultural marketing systems in Kenya as well as in other African countries Artisanal Fishers on the Kenyan Coast Jan Hoorweg,Barasa Wangila,Allan Degen,2009-08-15

Overexploitation of natural resources is often associated with poverty among local populations A multi disciplinary team studied artisanal fishers along the Kenyan coast on the Indian Ocean The main focus of the research was on income diversification of fishers the pressure on marine resources and the relation between the two Income diversification did not reduce the pressure on the marine environment Rather indications are that many part time fishers are entering the profession Moreover fishers with alternative employment stayed in shore and used damaging gear more often Policies to stimulate employment opportunities for coastal communities cannot be expected to lessen the pressure on marine resources and need to be planned carefully in terms of industry location labour requirements and degree of coastal pollution

Socio-economic and Nutritional Studies in Coast Province D. Foeken,1991

Re-distribution from Above Karuti Kanyinga,2000 Using empirical evidence from the coastal district of Kenya an area with a long history of private land owner ship this report challenges the key assumptions of the proponents of land individualization The author points to the many dysfunctionalities associated with land privatization and reinforces the growing critique that customary land tenure is far more complex and flexible than its critics are prepared to concede

Inside Poverty and Development in Africa Marcel Rutten,André Leliveld,Dick Foeken,2008-10-15 When discussing development issues in Africa it is not sufficient to simply stress the ubiquity of failure malnutrition disease predatory states and war one also has to recognize that important aspects in the lives of millions of ordinary people have been transformed over the last five decades The contributions in this book are rooted in extensive empirical research at local regional and or national level in different African countries Chad Ethiopia Kenya Lesotho South Africa and Uganda while some take a pan

African view All however offer insight from different analytical perspectives into the heterogeneity of poverty and development processes in Sub Saharan Africa and confront the ideas concepts and assumptions that lie behind pro poor policies The volume also encourages policy makers to choose realistic policy prescriptions in an attempt to move people out of poverty

Tourism and African Development Isaac Sindiga,2018-12-20 First published in 1999 this book is a contribution to the debate on tourism and Third World development The general goal of the study is to assess whether tourism is a viable development strategy for Africa using the example of Kenya More specifically the book assesses the contribution of tourism in development documents the development of tourism in Kenya examines the outcomes of international tourism on the environment and society in Kenya examines the response of Kenyan communities to international tourism and makes recommendations for alternative tourism strategies with applicability to other African countries

Markets of Well-being Marleen Dekker,Rijk van Dijk,2010-12-07 Drawing on extensive fieldwork in nine African countries this volume offers different perspectives on the emerging markets for well being The chapters discuss how medical staff patients and citizens navigate markets for health and healing

Overtly Muslim, Covertly Boni Mark R.J.

Faulkner,2006-05-01 This volume explores the way of life of the Boni community a hunter gatherer people that straddle the Kenya Somali border in East Africa The Boni converted to Islam some fifty years ago and the reasons for this both internal and external to the community are identified The book argues that former indigenous religious activity far from having died out is now being renegotiated so as to reflect an evolving Boni self identity in a multi ethnic setting as well as allowing the fermentation of resistance in the face of attempts at cultural hegemony advanced by outside forces Employing a phenomenological approach and a methodology based on participant observation this volume identifies three contrasting spheres of religious activity the bush the village centre and individual homesteads
