Lords And Laborers Of The Press Men Who Fashioned The Modern British Newspaper:

Lords and Laborers of the Press Linton Andrews, Henry Archibald Taylor, 1970 Sir Linton Andrews Editor Emeritus of the Yorkshire Post and H A Taylor a noted British author and journalist have here contributed a notable chapter to the history of journalism The first book of its kind their work adds new dimensions to the men who created the modern British press Beginning with the era of the 1890 s when William Thomas Stead s initiative in exposing prostitution created the public trust the press today holds dear the authors systematically portray the men and events of modern times among them Lord Northcliffe Lord Thomson of Fleet Sir William Haley Cecil Harmsworth King and Hugh Cudlipp The authors have brought to their accounts special knowledge of events such as the Edward VIII Mrs Simpson story which adds interest to this extraordinary history of modern British journalism A New Horizons in journalism series book The British Press and the Greek Crisis, 1943-1949 Gioula Koutsopanagou, 2020-02-01 This book provides the first detailed analysis of how interactions between government policy and Fleet Street affected the political coverage of the Greek civil war one of the first major confrontations of the Cold War During this period the exponential growth of media influence was an immensely potent weapon of psychological warfare Throughout the 1940s the press maintained its position as the most powerful medium and its influence remained unchallenged The documentary record shows that a British media consensus was more fabricated than spontaneous and the tools of media persuasion and manipulation were extremely important in building acceptance for British foreign policy Gioula Koutsopanagou examines how this media consensus was influenced and molded by the British government and how Foreign Office channels were key to molding public attitudes to British foreign policy These channels included system of briefings given by the News Department to the diplomatic correspondents and the contacts between embassies and the British foreign correspondents Visions of the Press in Britain, 1850-1950 Mark Hampton, 2004

Hampton surveys a diversity of sources to demonstrate that British theories of the press were intimately tied to definitions of the public and the emergence of mass democracy in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries International

Bibliography of Business History Francis Goodall, Terry Gourvish, Steven Tolliday, 2013-12-16 The field of business history has changed and grown dramatically over the last few years There is less interest in the traditional company centred approach and more concern about the wider business context With the growth of multi national corporations in the 1980s international and inter firm comparisons have gained in importance In addition there has been a move towards improving links with mainstream economic financial and social history through techniques and outlook The International Bibliography of Business History brings all of the strands together and provides the user with a comprehensive guide to the literature in the field The Bibliography is a unique volume which covers the depth and breadth of research in business history This exhaustive volume has been compiled by a team of subject specialists from around the world under the editorship of three prestigious business historians Journalism Jo A.
