Love Disconsoled Timothy P. Jackson, 1999-11-25 Few concepts are more central to ethics than love but none is more subject to false consolation This 1999 book explores several theological philosophical and literary accounts of love focusing on how it relates to matters such as self interest and self sacrifice and invulnerability and immortality Timothy Jackson first considers key aspects of what the Bible says about love then he further examines the meaning of love and sacrifice through a close reading of novels by Fitzgerald and Hemingway Lastly he evaluates how love constrains and is constrained by other traditional moral concepts Throughout Jackson defends the moral priority of what the Christian tradition calls agape He argues that a proper understanding of agapic love rejects both moral relativism and the comfort of believing that good people cannot be harmed or that God causally necessitates every historical action and event When love is thus disconsoled it neither fears death nor despises life discussion about the new concept used by the physics science and more thoroughly the personal conception of metaphysical time and the time line as something real and subjective in contrast to the imaginary nature of time in Modern Physics Title III focuses on the Equation of Love Newton's gravity and its interrelations with Modern Physics and in particular with Einstein's equation of the mass energy equivalence In other words the new theory attempts to replace the correct duality of subjective and objective reality in the realm of philosophy separating them from other let's say imaginary realities It is not to say that imaginary realities are completely incorrect but they do not correspond to the standard common and simpler form of the operation of human logic and as a epistemological result of the scientific method

Weisenburger, 2011-03-15 Adding some 20 percent to the original content this is a completely updated edition of Steven Weisenburger's indispensable guide to Thomas Pynchon's Gravity's Rainbow Weisenburger takes the reader page by page often line by line through the welter of historical references scientific data cultural fragments anthropological research jokes and puns around which Pynchon wove his story Weisenburger fully annotates Pynchon's use of languages ranging from Russian and Hebrew to such subdialects of English as 1940s street talk drug lingo and military slang as well as the more obscure terminology of black magic Rosicrucianism and Pavlovian psychology The Companion also reveals the underlying organization of Gravity's Rainbow how the book's myriad references form patterns of meaning and structure that have eluded both admirers and critics of the novel The Companion is keyed to the pages of the principal American editions of Gravity's Rainbow Viking Penguin 1973 Bantam 1974 and the special repaginated Penguin paperback 2000 honoring the novel as one of twenty Great Books of the Twentieth Century

Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch Julia T. Meszaros, 2016-03-03 In an age of self affirmation and self assertion selfless love can appear as a threat to the lover's personal well being This perception jars with the Biblical promise that we gain our life through losing it and therefore calls for a theological response In conversation with the Protestant theologian Paul Tillich and the atheistic moral philosopher and novelist Iris Murdoch Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch enquires into the anthropological grounds on which selfless love can be said to build up rather than undermine the lover's self It proposes that while the implausibility of selfless love was furthered by the modern deconstruction of the self both Tillich and Murdoch utilize this very deconstruction towards explicating and restoring the link between selfless love and human flourishing Julia T Meszaros shows that they use the modern diagnosis of the human being's lack of a stable and independent self as manifest in Sartre's existentialism in support of an understanding of the self as relational and fallen This leads them to view a loving orientation away from self and a surrender to the other as critical to the full flourishing of human selfhood In arguing that Tillich and Murdoch defend the link between selfless love and human flourishing through reference to the human being's ontological selflessness Meszaros closely engages Søren Kierkegaard's earlier attempt to keep selfless love and human flourishing in a productive dialectical tension She also examines the breakdown of this tension in the later figures of Anders Nygren Simone Weil and Jean Paul Sartre and addresses the pitfalls of this breakdown Her examination concludes by arguing that the link between selfless love and human flourishing would be strengthened by a more resolute endorsement of a personal God and of the reciprocal nature of selfless love
