Philosophy and Friendship Sandra Lynch,2019-08-05 A philosophical exploration of the meaning and significance of friendship This book explains the persistence of friendship today in the light of the history of philosophical approaches to the subject It considers ideals of intimacy and fusion in the context of claims that such ideals are unrealistic and even dangerous Cicero's scepticism about friendship in the public realm is compared with the Aristotelian view of friendship as a genuine political bond and with Derrida's development of that view via an exploration of Aristotle's alleged and provocative announcement O my friends there is no friend Tensions between love and respect identity and difference a focus on the self and a focus on the other are closely examined From Aristotle to contemporary theorists the book explores the conditions that enable the development of self understanding in friendship the delicate and unstable pairing of concepts like inclination and duty and distinctions between self love self esteem and self concern in relations between friends Key Features Recognition of the variety of the term friend in the history of philosophy The treatment of the tension between identity and difference in relations between friends Discussion of the contribution of friendship to self understanding

Corot and His Friends

Everard Meynell, 1909 A Convergent Model of Renewal C. Wess Daniels, 2015-02-20 A Convergent Model of Renewal addresses a perceived crisis for faith traditions How do we continue to value tradition while allowing for innovative and contextual expressions of faith to emerge How do we foster deeper participation and decentralization of power rather than entrenched institutionalism Drawing on insights from contemporary philosophy contextual theology and participatory culture C Wess Daniels calls for a revitalization of faith traditions In A Convergent Model of Renewal he proposes a model that holds together both tradition and innovation in ways that foster participatory change This convergent model of renewal is then applied to two case studies based in the Quaker tradition one from the early part of the tradition and the second from an innovative community today The model however is capable of being implemented and adapted by communities with various faith backgrounds

Adolescents and risk Silvia Bonino, Elena Cattelino, Silvia Ciairano, 2006-01-16 Over the past several decades the field of adolescent health and development has undergone a profound and pervasive transformation in the knowledge and understanding of young lives Popular myths about adolescent that they are hapless victims of raging hormones or risk takers who see themselves as invulnerable have been laid to rest But even more important has been the emergence of a new scientific perspective about this stage of life It is a perspective that recognizes that adolescents are active participants in the shaping of their own development that the influence of context family peers school media neighborhood workplace is as important in determining the life course as are the attributes of the individual and indeed that it is the interaction between context and individual attributes that is really crucial that there is remarkable diversity in the pathways that can be taken by youth as they traverse between late childhood and young adulthood and that the adolescent life stage is itself an extended one a full decade of the life trajectory with very different tasks opportunities and challenges in the later years than in the earlier years It is this new scientific perspective that so thoroughly informs the present volume by Silvia Bonino Elena Cattelino and Silvia Ciairano The volume is an impressive contribution to understanding risk behavior among contemporary Italian adolescents but it goes far beyond that to advance understanding of adolescent behavior and development as a whole
