Modern Construction Of Myth:

The Modern Construction of Myth Andrew Von Hendy, 2002-01-30 Andrew Von Hendy offers an integrated critical account of the career of myth in modernity. He takes as its starting point some crucial moments in the 18th century reinvention of the concept and then follows the major branches of theorizing as they appear in the work of theologians, philosophers, literary artists, political thinkers, folklorists, anthropologists, psychologists, and others. Narrative, Social Myth and Reality in Contemporary Scottish and Irish Women's Writing Tudor Balinisteanu, 2009-10-02 This book offers an original interdisciplinary analysis of the relations between myth, identity, and social reality involving elements of narratology, theory, linguistics, philosophy, anthropology, and social theory, harnessed to support an argument firmly located in the area of literary criticism. This analysis yields a fairly extensive reinterpretation of the concept of myth, which is applied to the examination of the relationship between narrative and social reality as represented in texts by contemporary Scottish and Irish women writers. The main theoretical sources are Mikhail Bakhtin's theories of heteroglossia, Jacques Derrida's theories of citationality, and Judith Butler's theories of subjectivity. The analysis framework developed in the book uses these theories to create a new way of understanding how literary texts change readers' worldviews by enticing them to accept alternative possibilities of cultural expression of identity and social order. The texts analysed in this book reconfigure naturalised stories that have become normative and constraining in conveying identities and visions of legitimate social orders. The book's focus on feminine identities places it alongside feminist analyses of reconstructions of fairy tales, myths, or canonical stories that establish what counts as legitimate feminine identity. Studied here for the first time together are the writers whose texts form the interest of this book, continuing the revisionist work begun by other women writers who engage with the male-generated literary, philosophical, and humanist tradition. They share a view of narratives as tools for continually negotiating our identities, social worlds, and socialisation scenarios. While the high-level theoretical discourse of the first part of the book requires specialised knowledge, the second part of the book, offering close readings of the texts, is both lively and accessible and should engage the interest of the general reader and academic alike. This book is written for all those who are interested in the power words have to hold sway over our inner and outer social worlds. Myth in the Modern Novel Liisa

Steinby, 2023-03-20 Myth in the Modern Novel Imagining the Absolute posits a twofold thesis. First, although Modernity is regarded as an era dominated by science and rational thought, it has in fact not relinquished the hold of myth, a more primitive form of thought which is difficult to reconcile with modern rationality. Second, some of the most important statements as to the reconcilability of myth and Modernity are found in the work of certain prominent novelists. This book offers a close examination of the work of eleven writers from the late eighteenth century to the beginning of the twenty-first, representing German, French, American, Czech, and Swedish literature. The analyses of individual novels reveal a variety of intriguing views of myth in Modernity and offer an insight into the modernizing transformations myth has undergone when applied in the modern novel The study shows the presence of the subconscious the mythic layer in modern western culture and how this has been dealt with in novelistic literature Plato and the Mythic Tradition in Political Thought Tae-Yeoun Keum, 2020-12-08 Winner of the Gustave O Arlt Award in the Humanities Winner of the Istvan Hont Book Prize An ambitious reinterpretation and defense of Plato's basic enterprise and influence arguing that the power of his myths was central to the founding of philosophical rationalism Plato's use of myths the Myth of Metals the Myth of Er sits uneasily with his canonical reputation as the inventor of rational philosophy Since the Enlightenment interpreters like Hegel have sought to resolve this tension by treating Plato's myths as mere regrettable embellishments irrelevant to his main enterprise Others such as Karl Popper have railed against the deceptive power of myth concluding that a tradition built on Platonic foundations can be neither rational nor desirable Tae Yeoun Keum challenges the premise underlying both of these positions She argues that myth is neither irrelevant nor inimical to the ideal of rational progress She tracks the influence of Plato's dialogues through the early modern period and on to the twentieth century showing how pivotal figures in the history of political thought More Bacon Leibniz the German Idealists Cassirer and others have been inspired by Plato's mythmaking She finds that Plato's followers perennially raised the possibility that there is a vital role for myth in rational political thinking Early Chinese Religion: Part One: Shang Through Han (1250 BC-220 AD) (2 Vols) John Lagerwey, Marc Kalinowski, 2008-12-24 Together and for the first time in any language the 24 essays gathered in these volumes provide a composite picture of the history of religion in ancient China from the emergence of writing ca 1250 BC to the collapse of the first major imperial dynasty in 220 AD It is a multi faceted tale of changing gods and rituals that includes the emergence of a form of secular humanism that doubts the existence of the gods and the efficacy of ritual and of an imperial orthodoxy that founds its legitimacy on a distinction between licit and illicit sacrifices Written by specialists in a variety of disciplines the essays cover such subjects as divination and cosmology exorcism and medicine ethics and self cultivation mythology taboos sacrifice shamanism burial practices iconography and political philosophy Produced under the aegis of the Centre de recherche sur les civilisations chinoise japonaise et tib taine UMR 8155 and the cole Pratique des Hautes tudes Paris Dramatic Revisions of Myths, Fairy Tales and Legends Verna A. this might mean for us as human beings created in the image of God literally descended from a common ancestor albeit one who lived in the remote past

Material Mystery Karmen MacKendrick, 2021-08-17 Material Mystery considers three apparently anthropocentric myths that are central to Abrahamic religions those of the primal human the incarnated and possibly divine redeemer and the resurrected body At first glance these stories reinforce a human centered theology and point to a very anthropomorphic God Taking them seriously seems to ignore the material turn in the humanities entirely with the same sort of willful ignorance that some of our politicians show in declaring that their myths count as facts or that the point of the rest of the world is to further human consumption But it is possible Karmen MacKendrick shows to read these figures through a particular tradition that emerges from the Hebrew Bible the tradition of Wisdom as a creative force Wisdom texts are common across the ancient Near East As the idea of creative Wisdom develops from antiquity into the middle ages it gathers philosophical influences from a range of philosophical traditions This exuberantly promiscuous impurity intellectual artistic and theological generates new interpretive possibilities In these interpretations each human like figure opens up onto the world s matter as an interdependent part of it and matter is thoroughly mixed with divinity Such mythic readings complement our factual scientific understanding of the material world to engage wider kinds of knowing and affective attention particularly Wisdom s combination of care and delight
