Modern Messianic Movements as a Theological and Missionary Challenge Gottfried Oosterwal, 1973 Missionary Movement in Christian History Andrew F. Walls, 2015-03-31 Melanesians and Missionaries Darrell L. Whiteman, 2002-05-10 In Melanesians and Missionaries one of the best of the younger generation of missionary anthropologists demonstrates that a commitment to the missionary enterprise on the part of a solid scholar facilitates rather than hinders the anthropological study of a missionary topic This is better anthropology because Dr Whiteman is able to probe more deeply into his topic and demonstrates that he understands and appreciates both Melanesians and missionaries Charles H Kraft Professor of Anthropology School of World Mission Fuller Theological Seminary Pasadena

Transcendence and Violence John D'Arcy May, 2003-06-19 The first two parts of this book present four detailed historical studies filled with Geertzian thick description of the encounters of Christianity and Buddhism universal religions with a high quotient of transcendence with various primal religious traditions biocosmic or immanentist of the Asian Pacific region namely Aboriginal Australia and Melanesia Christianity and Sri Lanka and Japan Buddhism In each case the encounters represented a failure of the great traditions In the third constructive and theological part of the book the author shows how an acknowledgment of these failures may provide a back door to dialogue Spiritwind: For The Spiritually Adventurous Rev. Mission from the Margins David A. Shank, 2019-05-14 David A Shank has been reflecting on the mission of the church from an Anabaptist perspective for more than half a century His writings represent among the best biblical theological and missiological study on the matter shaped by two primary contexts Europe and Africa where his ministry took place This collection will be of particular interest to global church leaders wanting to know more about how to contextualize the gospel message to mission and church historians interested in examining how missiological thought and practice evolves over time and to pastors students and mission workers seeking insights from a wise elder as they serve the church through its mission efforts in the twenty first century

A Spirituality of the Road David J. Bosch, 2001-10-26

Prophet Harris, The 'Black Elijah' of West Africa David A. Shank, 2023-12-28 Prophet Harris The Black Elijah of West Africa offers the only comprehensive study of the thought of William Wade Harris the Glebo Liberia loyalist whose prophetic mission from 1910-29 moved tens of thousands of West Africans out of traditional religion into the stream of Christianity and modernization particularly in the Ivory Coast It reviews that unparalleled breakthrough thoroughly examines traditional African Western missionary and colonial influences which helped determine religious innovation and shape his vocation as prophet of Christ's reign of peace and prosperity. Heretofore unused sources enriched by documents and photos expose biblical eschatological and messianic dynamics which tied Harris' words, symbols, and charisma together in a holistic African Christianity. The source of long-standing contentions between Ivoirian Harrists, Methodists, and Catholics is uncovered in the well-intentioned but changing colonial and missionary responses to his impact. Changing Frontiers of Mission Wilbert R. Shenk, 2015-03-24

Currents of Encounter invites scholarly contributions that utilize interreligious, intercultural, comparative, postcolonial, and other contemporary critical interdisciplinary approaches from across all religious traditions to address topical questions on the challenges and opportunities arising from intercultural interreligious engagements or the intersections of cultures and religions. Studies dealing explicitly with the dynamics of the intersection of religious and cultural traditions are increasing every year, and scholars have become aware of the complexity and diversity of interreligious and intercultural relations. Recent literature offers a broad panoply of theoretical approaches from theologies of religions to comparative theologies from discourse analysis to a postcolonial critique focusing on issues of power from feminist readings asking about the specific role of women in interreligious dialogue to interreligious hermeneutics exploring how meaning may travel across cultural and religious traditions. Currents of Encounter welcomes this variety of works in these disciplines and from interdisciplinary perspectives aiming thus to contribute to a better understanding of the complexities of interreligious and intercultural themes. The board welcomes both monographs and edited volumes.

Possible domains: interreligious studies, intercultural theology and philosophy, comparative theology and philosophy, theologies of religions. Insurgent Terrorism Gerald Cromer, 2017-11-30

Terrorists engage in propaganda and rhetoric even though they prefer the power of deed over word. They use a wide variety of mechanisms of moral disengagement to convince themselves of the rightness of their actions, a necessary prerequisite for taking up arms. The articles collected together in this excellent volume focus on the rhetoric and propaganda used by insurgent terrorists to justify their resort to violence. The volume includes a thoughtful introduction which summarizes the main findings of the literature, drawing attention to the many different kinds of terrorist propaganda and the underlying similarity between them. Earthen Vessels Joel A. Carpenter, Wilbert R. Shenk, 2012-12-01

Contrary to popular impressions, the days of the missionary are far from over. North American churches send more missionaries than ever before, and 90 percent of them are evangelicals who are not affiliated with the mainline Protestant mission boards. The first major historical treatment of the distinctly evangelical wing of twentieth-century American missions, Earthen Vessels truly breaks new ground, covering territory that missions histories have scarcely explored. Yet the distinguished historians contributing to this volume portray the North American, including Canadian, evangelical missionary enterprise from the Student Volunteer Movement to the very recent past. The book traces the influences of premillennial eschatology, the fundamentalist-modernist controversies, the rise of independent missions, and conservative denominational boards, the role of World War II and America's rise to world power the recent development of a distinctly evangelical theology of missions and the growing influence of the Two Thirds World's evangelical leaders While this volume certainly does not contain the last word on these subjects in a number of areas it does offer very nearly the first look With its fresh subject matter and new historical interpretations Earthen Vessels will interest church history scholars and students missionaries and ministers and any others who wish to know more about American missions Missiology, 1985 An international review International Mission Bibliography Norman E. Thomas, 2003-10-16 This massive reference is the key to finding the most important works on missiology published from 1960-2000 Representing the research of more than 30 sub editors in mission related disciplines including history theology social aspects education evangelism spirituality and political life and includes sections on Africa the Americas Asia Europe and Oceania Complete publication details and ISBNs are given for each entry
