German Romantic Painting William Vaughan, 1994-01-01 The early 19th century was a period in German art in which painting played a significant part in the cultural resurgence commonly known as the Romantic Movement This Movement and some of its chief exponents are examined against a background of German literature philosophy and music Painterly Enlightenment Thomas DaCosta Kaufmann, 2005 Kaufmann situates Maulbertsch as a fresco painter at a time of transition to easel painting a colorist at a time when color was not fully appreciated by contemporary observers and an interpreter of religious themes at a time when secular subjects were becoming more popular Although he has been dismissed as an eccentric by previous scholars Kaufmann's analysis shows Maulbertsch involved in the intellectual and aesthetic issues of his day BOOK JACKET The Reception of Ossian in Europe Howard Gaskill, 2008-12-22 Collection of international research surveying the reception of James Macpherson's Ossian poems in European literature and culture The Expressionist Roots of Modernism Peter Lasko, 2003 This book explores the beginnings of the interior design profession in nineteenth century France Drawing on a wealth of visual sources from collecting and advice manuals to pattern books and department store catalogues it demonstrates how new forms of print media were used to sell the idea of the unified interior as a total work of art enabling the profession of interior designer to take shape In observing the dependence of the trades on the artistic and public visual appeal of their work Interior decorating in nineteenth century France establishes crucial links between the fields of art history material and visual culture and design history Mark Rothko Anna Chave, Mark Rothko, 1989-01-01 A visual analysis of the New York School painter which examines the structure of Rothko's paintings while arguing that they implement traces of certain basic symbolically charged pictorial conventions A Landscape of Architecture, History and Fiction Jonathan Hill, 2015-12-22 Architecture can be analogous to a history a fiction and a landscape We expect a history or a novel to be written in words but they can also be cast in concrete or seeded in soil The catalyst to this tradition was the simultaneous and interdependent emergence in the eighteenth century of new art forms the picturesque landscape

the analytical history and the English novel Each of them instigated a creative and questioning response to empiricism s detailed investigation of subjective experience and the natural world and together they stimulated a design practice and lyrical environmentalism that profoundly influenced subsequent centuries Associating the changing natural world with journeys in self understanding and the design process with a visual and spatial autobiography this book describes journeys between London and the North Sea in successive centuries analysing an enduring and evolving tradition from the picturesque and romanticism to modernism Creative architects have often looked to the past to understand the present and imagine the future Twenty first century architects need to appreciate the shock of the old as well as the shock of the new

"Art, Technology and Nature " Camilla Skovbjerg Paldam, 2017-07-05 Since 1900 the connections between art and technology with nature have become increasingly inextricable Through a selection of innovative readings by international scholars this book presents the first investigation of the intersections between art technology and nature in post medieval times Transdisciplinary in approach this volume s 14 essays explore art technology and nature s shifting constellations that are discernible at the micro level and as part of a larger chronological pattern Included are subjects ranging from Renaissance wooden dolls science in the Italian art academies and artisanal epistemologies in the followers of Leonardo to Surrealism and its precursors in Mannerist grotesques and the Wunderkammer eighteenth century plant printing the climate and its artistic presentations from Constable to Olafur Eliasson and the hermeneutics of bioart In their comprehensive introduction editors Camilla Skovbjerg Paldam and Jacob Wamberg trace the Kantian heritage of radically separating art and technology and inserting both at a distance to nature suggesting this was a transient chapter in history Thus they argue the present renegotiation between art technology and nature is reminiscent of the ancient and medieval periods in which art and technology were categorized as aspects of a common area of cultivated products and their methods the Latin ars the Greek techne an area moreover supposed to imitate the creative forces of nature Redeeming Transcendence in the Arts Jeremy

Begbie, 2018-02-14 How can the arts witness to the transcendence of the Christian God Many people believe that there is something transcendent about the arts that they can awaken a profound sense of awe wonder and mystery of something beyond this world even for those who may have no use for conventional forms of Christianity In this book Jeremy Begbie a leading voice on theology and the arts employs a biblical Trinitarian imagination to show how Christian involvement in the arts can be shaped by the distinctive vision of God s transcendence opened up in and through Jesus Christ "Rival

Rubin, 2017-07-05 Introducing the concept of music and painting as rival sisters during the nineteenth century this interdisciplinary collection explores the productive exchange from rivalry to inspiration to collaboration between the two media in the age of Romanticism and Modernism The volume traces the relationship between art and music from the opposing claims for superiority of the early nineteenth century to the emergence of the concept of synesthesia around 1900 This collection puts forward a more complex history of
