what it meant to be international during this time By viewing internationalism through the lens of the individual and the body both as initiator and subject it is repositioned as an integral part of everyday life rather than simply understood to be concerned with geopolitical relations between nations and their institutions The book furthers a research methodology that is multidisciplinary and transnational It will therefore be of interest to researchers and students of architecture and international history Philip Johnson and the Museum of Modern Art Philip Johnson,1998 This volume focuses on the architect Philip Johnson's long association with The Museum of Modern Art with essays examining his roles as patron as curator and as the institution's unofficial architect from the late 1940s to the early 1970s Modern Architecture International Exhibition ,1932 The Bauhaus and America Margret Kentgens-Craig,2001 After the Bauhaus's closing in 1933 many of its protagonists moved to the United States where their acceptance had to be cultivated In this book Margret Kentgens Craig shows that the fame of the Bauhaus in America was the result not only of the inherent qualities of its concepts and products but also of a unique congruence of cultural supply and demand of a consistent flow of information and of fine tuned marketing Thus the history of the American reception of the Bauhaus in the 1920s and 1930s foreshadows the patterns of fame making that became typical of the post World War II art world BOOK JACKET Modern Architecture Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.),1969
