Poe Journalist Critic:

Poe, Journalist & Critic Robert D. Jacobs, 1969 Many scholars consider Poe's critical work the most significant aspect of his career

Putnam's Monthly and the Critic, 1909

Settling the Borderland Jan Whitt, 2008-09-05 Settling the Borderland deals with the intimate connection between journalism and literature both fields in which work by women has been underrepresented This book has a twin focus the work of journalists who became some of the greatest novelists poets and short story writers of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in America several of whom are men and contemporary journalists who best exemplify the effective use of literary techniques in news coverage Although five women are emphasized here Katherine Anne Porter Eudora Welty Joan Didion Sara Davidson and Susan Orlean three men whose work was profoundly influenced by journalism also are included Edgar Allan Poe Walt Whitman and John Steinbeck are well known as writers of poetry short stories and novels but they too are among the other voices rarely included in studies of literary journalism In Settling the Borderland Jan Whitt presents a thorough analysis of the increasingly indistinct lines between truth and fiction and between fact and creative narrative in contemporary media

Prospects for the Study of American Literature Richard Kopley, 1997-08 What can there possibly be left to say about This common literary resonant both in and outside of academia reflects a growing sense that the number of subjects and authors appropriate for literary study is rapidly becoming exhausted Take heart admonishes Richard Kopley in this dynamic new anthology for this is decidedly not the case While generations of literary study have unquestionably covered much ground in analyzing canonical writers many aspects of even the most well known authors both their lives and their work remain underexamined Among the authors discussed are T S Eliot Ralph Waldo Emerson William Faulkner Harriet Beecher Stowe Walt Whitman Ernest Hemingway Richard Wright Edith Wharton Nathaniel Hawthorne Zora Neale Hurston Henry James Willa Cather Herman Melville Edgar Allan Poe Henry David Thoreau and Mark Twain

The Latest Early American Literature R. C. De Prosopo, 2016-01-21 The Latest Early American Literature according to readers for the University of Delaware Press is a collection of polemics and manifestoes In it R C De Prosopo bids to follow in the footsteps of the two rare early Americanist dissenters whom Philip F Gura once distinguished as prophets without honor in the field William Spengemann and Michael Colacurcio The book contends that a supposedly retired nationalist modernist telos continues to reign in most of the latest scholarship and even more influentially in all of the current literary histories and anthologies no matter how expansive in gender ethnic racial and hemispheric inclusiveness they profess to be Old teloi in particular that old American exceptionalist one can be cunning Updating and expanding upon essays written over the past thirty years De Prosopo proposes not only negatively to critique how the latest scholarly receptions of early American literature differ insignificantly from the earlier ones but positively to propose how a transnationalist concession that as a neocolonial culture America's lags behind that of Europe might advance post modern historiography by radically repositioning the past as no longer the present's diachronic predecessor but to quote Lyotard's semiotics its synchronic differend Closer to earth De Prosopo tries at the same time to remain mindful of the pedagogical imperative that ultimately to save the texts of early American literature will require making them legible to average non specialist never to become specialist undergraduate general education students To facilitate this he introduces in the concluding section of The Latest Early American Literature what will probably be taken as its most radical intervention the redefinition of Edgar Allan Poe as an early American writer

Margaret Fuller Charles Capper, 2010-02-08 Filled with dramatic ironic and sometimes tragic turns this superb biography captures the story of one of America's most extraordinary figures producing at once the best life of Fuller ever written and one of the great biographies in American history In Volume II Charles Capper illuminates Fuller's public years focusing on her struggles to establish her identity as an influential intellectual woman in the Romantic Age He brings to life Fuller's dramatic mixture of inward struggles intimate social life and deep engagements with the movements of her time He describes how Fuller struggled to reconcile high avant garde cultural ideals and Romantic critical methods with democratic social and political commitments and how she strove to articulate a cosmopolitan vision for her nation's culture and politics Capper also offers fresh and often startlingly new treatments of Fuller's friendships with Ralph Waldo Emerson Thomas Carlyle and Giuseppe Mazzini in addition to many others
