Strange Liberalism of Alexis de Tocqueville Roger Boesche, 2019-05-15 The Strange Liberalism of Alexis de Tocqueville places Tocqueville's political thought in the context of his time and place and shows why his ideas defy easy classification Responding to the twentieth century tendency to impose anachronistic political categories on Tocqueville Roger Boesche reminds us that like Stendhal Balzac Hugo Lamartine Flaubert and other writers of his generation he was a nineteenth century Frenchman reacting to contemporary French concerns aspirations and anxieties The 1848 Revolutions Peter Jones, 2013-11-14 In 1848 revolutions broke out all over Europe in France the Habsburg and German lands and the Italian peninsular This Seminar Study considers why the revolutions occurred and why they were so widespread The book offers a broad ranging investigation of the social economic and political circumstances which led to the revolutions of 1848 as well as an account of the revolutions themselves First published in 1981 and fully revised in 1991 the study has long established itself as one of the most accessible and valuable introductions to this complex subject Patterns of Policing David H. Bayley, 1990 This study represents the culmination of almost twenty years of personal research on national police institutions The most concentrated effort was devoted to India Japan and the United States the results of which are available in other publications Preface Music, Masculinity and the Claims of History Ian Biddle, 2016-04-29 What does it mean to think of Western Art music and the Austro German contribution to that repertory as a tradition How are men and masculinities implicated in the shaping of that tradition And how is the writing of the history or histories of that tradition shaped by men and masculinities This book seeks to answer these and other questions by drawing both on a wide range of German language writings on music sound and listening from the so called long nineteenth century circa 1800 1918 and a range of critical theoretical texts from the post war continental philosophical and psychoanalytic traditions including Lacan Zizek Serres Derrida and Kittler The book is focussed in particular on bringing the object of historical writing itself into scrutiny by engaging in what Zizek has called a historicity or a way of writing about the past that not merely acknowledges the ahistorical kernel of historical writing but brings that kernel into the light of day takes account of it and puts it into play The book is thus committed to a kind of historical writing that is open ended though not ideologically naive and that does not fix or stabilize the nature of the relationship between so called primary and secondary texts The book consists of an introduction which places the study of classical music and the Austro German tradition within broader debates about the value of that tradition and four extensive case studies an analysis of the cultural historical category of listening around 1800 a close reading of A B Marx's Beethoven monograph of 1859 a consideration of Heinrich Schenker's attitudes to the mob and the vernacular more broadly and an examination through Franz Kafka of the figure of Mahler's body
