Rabbit Proof Fence Obw 3:

“Rabbit-Proof Fence” as an example of how Australian Aborigines were treated by the British colonial power

Benjamin Roßkopf, 2014-10-22 Pre University Paper from the year 2009 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Miscellaneous grade 13 Punkte language English abstract During the years 1910 and 1970 up to 100 000 Aboriginal children were taken forcibly from their families by police or welfare officers because of a Federal and State Government edict The main motive was to assimilate Aboriginal children into European society over one or two generations by denying and destroying their Aboriginality This issue is also discussed in the novel Rabbit Proof Fence by Doris Pilkington which tells a story about three girls who were also uprooted from their community and taken to a state settlement about 1 500 miles away from their home In this reality based story the girls escaped from their internment camp and tried to run back home by following the rabbit proof fence My term paper is divided into four chapters In the first one a short outline of British colonisation in Australia and its impacts on the Aborigines will be given The second chapter is about the mentioned book and its author and the third part of this term paper analyses some extracts from Doris Pilkington s novel and proves their verity with historical documents until it finally comes to its conclusion in the last chapter which tells us something about the current situation of the Aborigines and the reactions of the Australian government After One Hundred Winters Margaret

D. Jacobs, 2023-10-10 A necessary reckoning with America s troubled history of injustice to Indigenous people After One Hundred Winters confronts the harsh truth that the United States was founded on the violent dispossession of Indigenous people and asks what reconciliation might mean in light of this haunted history In this timely and urgent book settler historian Margaret Jacobs tells the stories of the individuals and communities who are working together to heal historical wounds and reveals how much we have to gain by learning from our history instead of denying it Jacobs traces the brutal legacy of systemic racial injustice to Indigenous people that has endured since the nation s founding Explaining how early attempts at reconciliation succeeded only in robbing tribal nations of their land and forcing their children into abusive boarding schools she shows that true reconciliation must emerge through Indigenous leadership and sustained relationships between Indigenous and non Indigenous people that are rooted in specific places and histories In the absence of an official apology and a federal Truth and Reconciliation Commission ordinary people are creating a movement for transformative reconciliation that puts Indigenous land rights sovereignty and values at the forefront With historical sensitivity and an eye to the future Jacobs urges us to face our past and learn from it and once we have done so to redress past abuses Drawing on dozens of interviews After One Hundred Winters reveals how Indigenous people and settlers in America today despite their troubled history are finding unexpected gifts in reconciliation Contested Communities, 2017-11-01 This interdisciplinary volume investigates community in postcolonial language situations texts and media In actual and imagined communities membership assumes shared features values linguistic codes geographical origin gender sexuality ethnicity religion professional interests and practices How is membership in such communities constructed manifested tested or contested What new forms have emerged in the wake of globalization translocation and digital media Contributions in linguistic literary and cultural studies explore the role of communication narratives memory and trauma in processes of unbelonging One section treats communication and the speech community Here linguistic contributions investigate the concept of the native speaker in World Englishes in socio cultural communities identified by styles of verbal duelling in diaspora communities physical and digital where identification with formerly stigmatized linguistic codes acquires new currency Divisions and alignments in digital communities are at stake in postcolonial African countries like Cameroon where identification with ex colonizer and ex colonized is a hot issue Finally discourse communities also exist in such traditional media as newspapers e g the Indian tabloid in English In a section devoted to narrative and narration the focus is on literary perspectives post colonial memory trauma and identity in Caribbean literary works by David Chariandy and Pauline Melville and in Australian Aboriginal fiction narratives of banditry in colonial India xenophobia and urban space in South Africa human animal community crossings and anthropomorphism in Life of Pi A third section on linguistic crossings in transnational music styles in global and Ugandan music industries examines language style and belonging in music cultures The volume closes with a controversial debate on the agendas of academic non academic and postcolonial Western communities with regard to homophobia in Jamaican dancehall culture
