Area Handbook for Malaysia Nena Vreeland, 1977 Malaysia in the World Economy (1824-2011) Azlan Tajuddin, 2012-06-14 Does the industrial development of a country entail the democratization of its political system Malaysia in the World Economy examines this theme with regards to Malaysia in the period between 1824 and 2011 Capitalism was first introduced into Malaysia through colonialism specifically to supply Britain with much needed raw materials for its industrial development Aside from economic exploitation colonial rule had also produced a highly unequal and socially distant multicultural society whose multifaceted divisions kept the colonial rulers in supreme authority After independence Britain ensured that Malaysia became a staunch western ally by structuring in a capitalist system specifically helmed by western educated elites through what appeared to be formal democratic institutions In such a system the Malaysian ruling elites have been able to manage the country s democratic processes to its advantage as well as preempt or suppress serious internal challenges to its power often in the name of national stability As a result an increasingly unpopular National Front political coalition has remained in power in the country since 1957 Meanwhile Malaysia s marginal position in the world economy which has maintained its economic subordination to the developed countries of the west and Japan has reproduced the internal social inequities inherited from colonial rule and channeled the largest returns of economic growths into the hands of the country s foreign investors as well as local elites associated with the ruling machinery Over the years however the state has lost some of its political legitimacy in the face of widening social disparities increased ethnic polarization and prevalent corruption This has been made possible by extensive exposures of these issues via new social media and communications technology Hence informational globalization may have begun to empower Malaysians in a new struggle for political reform thereby reconfiguring the balance of power between the state and civil society Unlike other past research Malaysia in the World Economy combines both macro and micro theoretical approaches in critically analyzing the relationship between capitalist development and democratization in Malaysia within a comparative historical and world systemic context Handbook of Ethnic Conflict Dan Landis, Rosita D. Albert, 2012-02-14 Although group conflict is hardly new the last decade has seen a proliferation of conflicts engaging intrastate ethnic groups It is estimated that two thirds of violent conflicts being fought each year in every part of the globe including North America are ethnic conflicts

Unlike traditional warfare civilians comprise more than 80 percent of the casualties and the economic and psychological impact on survivors is often so devastating that some experts believe that ethnic conflict is the most destabilizing force in the post Cold War world Although these conflicts also have political economic and other causes the purpose of this volume is to develop a psychological understanding of ethnic warfare More specifically Handbook of Ethnopolitical Conflict explores the function of ethnic religious and national identities in intergroup conflict In addition it features recommendations for policy makers with the intention to reduce or ameliorate the occurrences and consequences of these conflicts worldwide

From British to Bumiputera Rule Shamsul A B,1986 Based on two years of intensive fieldwork this detailed community study breaks new ground Combining anthropological and historical disciplines it deals with village politics amongst rural Malays growing oil palm and rubber This study traces the continuing influence of the colonial and post colonial state policies on contemporary rural development It shows that village political cleavages are not just the result of modern electoral practices introduced after World War II but are responses to politico economic events at the national and even international levels It examines not only inter party rivalry between the United Malays National Organization UMNO and Parti Islam SeMalaysia PAS but also the intra party politics of both organizations at the local level

Transforming Malaysia Anthony Milner,Abdul Rahman Embong,Tham Siew Yean,2014-02-28 In the wake of Malaysia s 13th General Election some commentators speak of a sharpening of ethnic politics with Prime Minister Najib blaming a Chinese tsunami for his government s polling setbacks others are optimistic about the arrival of a new non racialized form of politics and the emergence of transethnic solidarity This book which engages with both the race paradigm and its opponents warns that change is likely to come slowly but is not impossible Malaysia s race paradigm is a man made ideological construct one that has been contested in the past and could realistically be contested in the future In confronting the continuing challenge of globalization Malaysians should not neglect the history of ideas and ideology as they search for new options

The Malay World of Southeast Asia Patricia Lim Pui Huen,1986 Over 5 000 entries arranged in four parts Part I comprises reference and general works to provide a guide to information on Southeast Asia Part II provides the setting of space and time Part III features the people and Part IV the many facets of culture and society language ideas beliefs values institutions creative expression and social and cultural change Within each section the arrangement is geographical beginning with Southeast Asia as a whole followed by the various countries in alphabetical order

Personalized Politics In-wŏn Hwang,2003 This book is an innovative analysis of regime maintenance and transformation in Malaysia It goes beyond familiar approaches centred on communal politics or the corporate workings of Malaysia Inc to stress the importance of power maintenance tracing a path from consociational bargaining to authoritarian UMNO dominance to Dr Mahathir s personal dominance The author has synthesized a diverse range of sources and in particular made insightful use of interviews with nearly all the key actors The analysis is up to date including the dramatic challenge to Dr Mahathir s dominance associated with his sacking of deputy Anwar Ibrahim following the Asian economic crisis      Minorities in the Middle Walter P. Zenner,1991-01-01

Throughout the world certain ethnic groups have made a living through trade and have found a place for themselves in their societies middle strata At times these middlemen minorities have aroused the envy of their neighbors and been subjected to a variety of persecutions In this book Walter P Zenner examines explanations for this phenomenon and analyzes such groups as the Jews the Chinese the Scots and the South Asians abroad      Malaysia's Parliamentary System Lloyd D

Musolf,2019-03-08 Malaysia a new nation whose very existence depends on holding disparate ethnic groups in balance is an example of a developing nation whose legislature does influence policy This pioneering survey and analysis of the Malaysian parliament carefully documents and interprets the interaction of legislator party and voter in Malaysia The study ind

Forging a Singaporean Statehood: 1965-1995 Robin Ramcharan,2021-10-25 This work takes an in depth look at the multi faceted contemporary relationship between Singapore and Japan since the end of World War II It is the story of a relationship between an economic superpower Japan and an enterprising city state whose leaders have sought to emulate not only Japan s economic success but several key facets of Japanese society as well No other country surpasses Singapore in its public admiration of Japan How is it possible for a multi ethnic Singapore to emulate a relatively homogeneous Japan What features of economic and political motives behind the attempt to emulate Japan These and other questions are addressed in this work which will be of interest to scholars of the international relations and security of East and Southeast Asia      The Roots of Resilience Meredith L. Weiss,2020-08-15 In The Roots of Resilience Meredith L Weiss examines governance from the ground up in the world s two most enduring electoral authoritarian or hybrid regimes Singapore and Malaysia where politically liberal and authoritarian features blend evading substantive democracy Weiss explains that while key attributes of these regimes differ affecting the scope character and balance among national parties and policies local machines and personalized linkages the similarity in the overall patterns in these countries confirms the salience of those dimensions The Roots of Resilience shows that high levels of authoritarian acculturation amplifying the political payoffs of what parties and politicians actually provide their constituents explain why electoral turnover alone is insufficient for real regime change in either state      Cleavage, Connection and Conflict in Rural, Urban and Contemporary Asia Tim Bunnell,D. Parthasarathy,Eric C. Thompson,2012-12-11 Asia the location of the world s fastest growing economies is also home to some of the fastest rates of urbanization humanity has ever seen a process whose speed renders long term outcomes highly unpredictable This volume contrasts with much published work on the rural urban divide which has tended to focus on single case studies It provides empirical perspectives from four Asian countries India Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand and includes a wealth of insights that both critique and expand popular notions of the rural urban divide The volume is relevant not just to Asian contexts but to social scientific research on population dynamics more generally Rather than deploying a single study to chart national trends three chapters on each country make possible much more complex perspectives As a result this volume does more than extend our understanding of the interplay between cities and hinterlands within Asia. It enhances our notions of rural urban cleavages, connections and conflicts more generally with data and analysis ready for application to other contexts. Of interest to diverse scholars across the social sciences and Asian studies, this work includes accounts ranging from rural youth real estate entrepreneurs in Hyderabad, India, to social development in Aceh province in Indonesia, devastated by the 2004 tsunami, to the relationship between urban space and commonly held notions of the supernatural in Thailand's northern city of Chiang Mai.

Bibliography on Ethnic Relations with Special Reference to Malaysia and Singapore Chee Beng Tan, 1992

The State and Ethnic Politics in SouthEast Asia David Brown, 2003-09-02

Ethnic tensions in Southeast Asia represent a clear threat to the future stability of the region. David Brown's clear and systematic study outlines the patterns of ethnic politics in Burma, Singapore, Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand. The study considers the influence of the State on the formation of ethnic groups and investigates why some countries are more successful in managing their ethnic politics than others.

Malaysia, Quest for a Politics of Consensus Kiran Kapur Datar, 1983

Discourses, Agency and Identity in Malaysia Zawawi Ibrahim, Gareth Richards, Victor T. King, 2021-10-23

This book seeks to break new ground both empirically and conceptually in examining discourses of identity formation and the agency of critical social practices in Malaysia. Taking an inclusive cultural studies perspective, it questions the ideological narrative of race and ethnicity that dominates explanations of conflicts and cleavages in the Malaysian context. The contributions are organised in three broad themes: Identities in Contestation, Borders, Complexities and Hybridities, takes a range of empirical studies, literary translation, religion, gender, ethnicity, indigeneity and sexual orientation to break down preconceived notions of fixed identities. This then opens up an examination of Identities and Movements, Agency and Alternative Discourses, in which contributors deal with counter-hegemonic social movements of anti-racism, young people, environmentalism and independent publishing that explicitly seek to open up greater critical democratic space within the Malaysian polity. The third section, Identities and Narratives, Culture and the Media, then provides a close textual reading of some exemplars of new cultural and media practices found in oral testimonies, popular music, film, radio programming and storytelling, who have consciously created bodies of work that question the dominant national narrative. This book is a valuable interdisciplinary work for advanced students and researchers interested in representations of identity and nationhood in Malaysia, and for those with wider interests in the fields of critical cultural studies and discourse analysis. Here is a fresh, startling book to aid the task of unbinding the straitjackets of Malay, Chinese and Indian, with which colonialism bound Malaysia's plural inheritance and on which the postcolonial state continues to rely. In it, a panoply of unlikely identities: Bajau liminality, Kelabit philosophy, Islamic feminism, refugee hybridity and more, finds expression and offers hope for liberation. Rachel Leow, University of Cambridge. This book shakes the foundations of race thinking in Malaysian studies by expanding the range of cases, perspectives and outcomes of identity. It offers students of Malaysia an examination of identity and agency that is expansive, critical and engaging, and its interdisciplinary depth brings Malaysian studies into conversation with scholarship across the world Sumit Mandal University of Nottingham Malaysia This is a much needed work that helps us to take apart the colonial inherited categories of race which informed the notion of the plural society the idea of plurality without multiculturalism It complicates the picture of identity by bringing in religion gender indigeneity and sexual orientation and helps us to imagine what a truly multiculturalist Malaysia might look like Syed Farid Alatas National University of Singapore Competitive Elections in Developing Countries Myron Weiner, Ergun Özbudun, 1987 This is the latest in the At the Polls series in which Duke University Press has joined with the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research to publish studies on the electoral process as it functions around the world Cited by Choice for its high standard of scholarly analysis and objectivity the series provides both a chronicle of events and a thorough analysis of the election results Ethnicity and Ethnic Relations in Multi-Ethnic Malaysia Hock-Tong Cheu, 2020-12-06 Hock Tong Cheu received his Masters and Ph D degrees from Cornell University Ithaca N Y and had lectured in Anthropology and Sociology in Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia from 1976 till mid 1995 From mid 1995 till 2000 he taught in the Malay Studies Department and the Southeast Asian Studies Center National University of Singapore He was a Senior Fellow at the Institute for Southeast Asian Studies Singapore in 1984 and a Fulbright Visiting Scholar in Residence at the Center for South and Southeast Asian Studies University of Michigan Ann Arbor from August 1987 to October 1988 He has made several in depth studies of the Nine Emperor Gods Spirit Medium Cults as well as the Chinese Locality Saints the Nadugong and the Malay Keramat in Southeast Asia Dr Cheu who is effectively trilingual in English Chinese and Malay wrote prolifically and had contributed numerous articles in all three languages to professional and academic journals magazines and newspapers He had also presented numerous academic papers for discussion in local and international conferences
