Angiotensin Vol. I E. M. Abdel-Rahman, 2004-03-31 with contributions by numerous experts Angiotensin Vol. I Thomas Unger, Bernward A. Schölkens, 2012-12-06 Nearly thirty years ago in 1974 the volume on Angiotensin edited by Irvine H Page and F Merlin Bumpus expanded the Handbook of Experimental Pharmacology Even after two decades the multiplicity of its actions appears not to have been fully discovered To call attention to its many functions is one of the purposes of this book This new edition of the volume on Angiotensin attempts to provide an updated account of the knowledge and findings accumulated since the complexity of angiotensin was so accurately recognized Protein Interactions Jianfeng Cai, Rongsheng Wang, 2012-03-16 Protein interactions which include interactions between proteins and other biomolecules are essential to all aspects of biological processes such as cell growth differentiation and apoptosis Therefore investigation and modulation of protein interactions are of significance as it not only reveals the mechanism governing cellular activity but also leads to potential agents for the treatment of various diseases The objective of this book is to highlight some of the latest approaches in the study of protein interactions including modulation of protein interactions development of analytical techniques etc Collectively they demonstrate the importance and the possibility for the further investigation and modulation of protein interactions as technology is evolving Laragh's Lessons in Renin System Pathophysiology for Treating Hypertension and Its Fatal Cardiovascular Consequences John H. Laragh, 2002 Here is an essential reference for anyone needing an advanced understanding of the nature and treatment of hypertension Dr Laragh a pioneering clinician and scientist demonstrates the central role of an overactive renin system for causing most hypertension In his new book Dr Laragh discusses his research and its relevance to caring for everything from asymptomatic patients to hypertensive emergencies And he provides visit by visit details of his new pathophysiologically and biochemically guided treatment The result of his work is a specific approach that makes it possible to more effectively prevent arrest and treat hypertension and its consequences including congestive heart failure myocardial infarction kidney failure and stroke

Arterial Hypertension J. Rosenthal, 2012-12-06 It has been a little more than half a century since serious organized research on hypertension began Public and even physician interest in the subject remained minimal until the early forties and even then there were not more than a dozen fulltime investigators worldwide The first organization devoted to communicating regularly the results of hypertension research was created in Cleveland in 1945 it became the Council for High Blood Pressure Research of the American Heart Association in 1949 The early history of hypertension is not a story of progressive achievement Richard Bright is given great credit followed by Mahomed Allbutt Riva Rocci Bergman and Janeway but it was not until Volhard Fahr and Allen that some semblance of order emerged They were followed by a younger much more vigorous group of investigators who in fact initiated modern research in hypertension Two more generations have followed In the course of some fifty years we have seen emerge a magnificent body of evidence that has prescribed good treatment and contributed a considerable understanding of the many complex mechanisms involved in the hypertension. Treatment is now actively promoted by public health agencies including the World Health Organization. This is another case of treatment preceding full understanding of the nature of the disease.

Handbook of Proteolytic Enzymes, Volume 1 Alan J. Barrett, J. Fred Woessner, Neil D. Rawlings, 2012-12-02

Handbook of Proteolytic Enzymes Second Edition Volume 1 Aspartic and Metallo Peptidases is a compilation of numerous progressive research studies on proteolytic enzymes. This edition is organized into two main sections encompassing 328 chapters. This handbook is organized around a system for the classification of peptidases which is a hierarchical one built on the concepts of catalytic type, clan, family and peptidase. The concept of catalytic type of a peptidase depends upon the chemical nature of the groups responsible for catalysis. The recognized catalytic types are aspartic, cysteine, metallo, serine, threonine and the unclassified enzymes while clans and families are groups of homologous peptidases. Homology at the level of a family of peptidases is shown by statistically significant relationship in amino acid sequence to a representative member called the type example or to another member of the family that has already been shown to be related to the type example. Each chapter discusses the history, activity, specificity, structural chemistry, preparation and biological aspects of the enzyme. This book will prove useful to enzyme chemists and researchers.
