ers from previous forms of combined media in that the bits that represent text images animations and audio video and other signals can be treated as data by computer programs One facet of this diverse data in terms of underlying models and formats is that it is synchronized and integrated hence it can be treated as integral data records Such records can be found in a number of areas of human endeavour Modern medicine generates huge amounts of such digital data Another ample is architectural design and the related architecture engineering and construction AEC industry Virtual communities in the broad sense of this word which includes any communities mediated by digital technologies are another example where generated data constitutes an integral data record Such data may include data about member profiles the content generated by the virtual community and communication data in different formats including e-mail chat records SMS messages videoconferencing records Not all multimedia data is so diverse An example of less diverse data but data that is larger in terms of the collected amount is that generated by video surveillance systems where each integral data record roughly consists of a set of time stamped images the video frames In any case the collection of such integral data records constitutes a multimedia data set The challenge of extracting meaningful patterns from such data sets has led to the research and development in the area of multimedia data mining

Formal Aspects in Security and Trust Theo Dimitrakos, Fabio Martinelli, 2005-10-04 Second International Workshop on Formal Aspects in Security and Trust is an essential reference for both academic and professional researchers in the field of security and trust Because of the complexity and scale of deployment of emerging ICT systems based on web service and grid computing concepts we also need to develop new scalable and more flexible foundational models of pervasive security enforcement across organizational borders and in situations where there is high uncertainty about the identity and trustworthiness of the participating networked entities On the other hand the increasingly complex set of building activities sharing different resources but managed with different policies calls for new and business enabling models of trust between members of virtual organizations and communities that span the boundaries of physical enterprises and loosely structured groups of individuals. The papers presented in this volume address the challenges posed by ambient intelligence space as a future paradigm and the need for a set of concepts, tools and methodologies to enable the user's trust and confidence in the underlying computing infrastructure. This state of the art volume presents selected papers from the 2nd International Workshop on Formal Aspects in Security and Trust held in conjunction with the 18th IFIP World Computer Congress August 2004 in Toulouse France. The collection will be important not only for computer security experts and researchers but also for teachers and administrators interested in security methodologies and research.
