Reporting The Campaign Election Coverage In Canada:

Media And Voters In Canadian Election Campaigns Frederick J. Fletcher, 1991-01-01 Taken together the five studies provide a useful overview of the effectiveness of various forms of campaign communication in informing voters Much of the material presented here is not readily available elsewhere Parties, Candidates, and Constituency Campaigns in Canadian Elections Anthony Sayers, 2011-11-01 Political scientists have traditionally examined the democratic process at the macro level With its unique micro level focus Parties Candidates and Constituency Campaigns in Canadian Elections provides the first systematic analysis of the local constituency campaigns that are the basis of elections and democracy in Canada By taking a detailed look at campaigns in seven B C ridings during the 1988 free trade election the last under the old three party system Anthony Sayers develops a typology of candidates and campaigns The dynamics of local associations nominations and campaigns including those of former prime minister Kim Campbell and New Democrat Svend Robinson as well as key strategic events and the role of the media are reconstructed from interviews with candidates campaign managers party strategists volunteers and journalists The 1993 and 1997 elections are then invoked to show that the insights drawn about the nature of constituency politics remain relevant to the new party system This important contribution to the study of Canadian elections forcefully argues that knowledge of the dynamics at the local level is essential to a full understanding of Canadian polity its underlying social basis and the factors that determine successful election campaigns As such Parties Candidates and Constituency Campaigns in Canadian Elections will intrigue not only political scientists and students of Canadian politics but also election candidates and party strategists Reporting the Campaign Frederick I. Fletcher, Canada. Royal Commission on Electoral Reform and Party Financing, 1991 The objective of the research program was to provide Commissioners with a full account of the factors that have shaped the electoral democracy This document presents discussions on the following topics journalistic practice in covering federal election campaigns in Canada relations between political parties and the media in Quebec election campaigns free to be responsible the accountability of the print media smaller voices minor parties campaign communication and the news media and the mass media and the reproduction Interest Groups and Elections in Canada F. Leslie Seidle, 1991-01-01 The two studies in this book of marginalization explore the nature and influence of special interest groups They consider different aspects of the question In the context of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms how can the laws intended to secure a fair electoral process be reconciled with Media, Elections, And Democracy: Royal Commission on Electoral Reform Frederick J. freedom of expression Fletcher, 1991-01-01 Media Elections and Democracy examines campaign communication in selected industrial democracies Klaus Schoenbach Karen Siune Doris Graber and a host of authors around the world contribute critical overviews of the systems in their countries. The studies deal with a wide range of issues in modern communication including the principles and practices of news and public affairs coverage and the impact of new technologies Aboriginal Peoples and Electoral Reform in Canada Robert A. Milen, 1991-01-01 This volume features differing views of past present and possible future roles for Aboriginal people in the Canadian political and electoral system The studies address the issues facing Aboriginal people and the efforts to increase their involvement in the federal electoral system Robert Milen examines the development of Aboriginal political consciousness since the 1970s with attention to recent constitutional and electoral initiatives and aspirations Augie Fleras study considers the New Zealand system of guaranteed representation for the Maori and suggests how Canada might follow this example Valerie Alia studies how the media deal with Aboriginal issues basing her recommendations on interviews with Aboriginal people who offered her their views Roger Gibbins critiques the idea of guaranteed Aboriginal representation in the House of Commons Women in Canadian Politics Kathy Megyery, 1991-01-01 Women are the most under represented social group in the elected assemblies of the worl Women everywhere constitute m ore than one half of the population and rarely are more than a handful of the political elite The studies in this volume examine women s involvement in political parties both past and present Empirical studies identify the roles Canadian women play in parties the opportunities and barriers they face and their progress toward greater representation in the political process The questions addressed in this volume include What are the major barriers to women s entry into federal politics Janine Brodie Do large numbers of women remain confined to pink collar work at the expensive of executive positions Sylvia Bashevkin What is the impact of the candidate selection process on the election of women to the House of Commons Lynda Erickson How does incumbency affect the number of women elected to federal office Lisa Young What is the influence of media coverage on women in politics Gertrude Robinson and Armande Saint Jean The authors agree that the under representation of women in politics undermines the democratic credibility of our governing institutions Nonetheless they are cautiously optimistic regarding the prospects for the third generation of women entering politics

Youth in Canadian Politics Kathy Megyery, 2013-12-30 The studies in this volume uncover a wide range of opinion about young people and their involvement in politics Comparative Issues in Party and Election Finance F. Leslie Seidle, 1991-01-01 This book is one of 23 volumes of research commissioned by the Royal Commission on Electoral Reform and Party Financing and one of five volumes within this series dealing specifically with party and election finance

Ethno-Cultural Groups and Visible Minorities in Canadian Politics Kathy Megyery, 1996-08-08 The studies in this volume examine the nature and extent of their participation in Canadian politics in both political parties and the House of Commons While these groups feel marginalized they believe strongly in the objectives of democracy and want to participate in a Canada that realizes those ideals more successfully Election Broadcasting In Canada Frederick J.
