consumer and business growth in developed cities Cities in China Brazil India and throughout the Middle East and Latin America are rising to become major players in the global marketplace Philip and Milton Kotler argue that an inversion is taking place and top cities are growing economically faster than their national rate of growth These emerging city markets are critical to company growth and City Centered Marketing Why Local is the Future of Global Business provides the vital information and guidelines that companies need to plan accordingly Asia's Credit Markets Florian Schmidt, 2004-04-27 Publisher Description MarkPlus on Marketing , MarkPlus on strategy , 2002 Emerging Urbanity Richard Marshall, 2013-09-05 Discussions on the global economy focus on the hyper mobility of capital the possibility of instantaneous transmission of information and money around the globe the centrality of information outputs to our economic systems and emphasise the neutralisation of geography and of places What is ignored however is that even the most advanced information industries need a material infrastructure of buildings and work processes and considerable agglomeration in order to operate in global markets Further the globalisation of economic activity has brought with it not only a vast dispersal of offices and factories but also a growing importance of central functions to manage and coordinate such worldwide networks of activities The development of global urban projects is one manifestation of this move towards centrality in urban situations These large scale urban projects are the result of governments seeking competitive advantage in the global economy They are critical components of a nation's global infrastructure In the booming economies of the Asia Pacific Rim prior to the Asian Economic Crisis these urban developments were seen as key components of national economic policies In their making they require a conscious effort to arrange material infrastructure and reinforce that there is a role for urban design in this making Emerging Urbanity is an exploration of this role in nine global urban projects in the Asia Pacific Rim
