Reproducing The State:

Reproducing the State Jacqueline Stevens, 1999-08 People are said to acquire their affiliations of ethnicity race and sex at birth Hence these affiliations have long been understood to be natural independent of the ability of political societies to define who we are Reproducing the State vigorously challenges the conventional view as well as post structuralist scholarship that minimizes state power Jacqueline Stevens examines birth based theories of membership and group affiliations in political societies ranging from the Athenian polis to tribes of Australia to the French republic to the contemporary United States The book details how political societies determine the kinship rules that are used to reproduce political societies Stevens analyzes the ways that ancestral and territorial birth rules for membership in political societies pattern other intergenerational affiliations She shows how the notion of ethnicity depends on the implicit or explicit invocation of a past present or future political society She also shows how geography is used to represent political regions including continents as the seemingly natural underpinning for racial taxonomies perpetuated through miscegenation laws and birth certificates And Stevens argues that sex differences are also constituted through membership practices of political societies In its chronological and disciplinary range Reproducing the State will reward the interest of scholars in many fields including anthropology history political science sociology women s studies race studies and ethnic studies The State, Specially the American State, Psychologically Treated Denton Jaques Snider, 1902 The Rules of Programming Chris Zimmerman, 2022-12-09 This philosophy of programming guide presents a unique and entertaining take on how to think about programming A collection of 21 pragmatic rules each presented in a standalone chapter captures the essential wisdom that every freshly minted programmer needs to know and provides thought provoking insights for more seasoned programmers Author Chris Zimmerman cofounder of the video game studio Sucker Punch Productions teaches basic truths of programming by wrapping them in memorable aphorisms and driving them home with examples drawn from real code This practical guide also helps managers looking for ways to train new team members The rules in this book include As simple as possible but no simpler Let your code tell its own story Localize complexity Generalization takes three examples Work backward from your result not forward from your code The first lesson of optimization is don t optimize A good name is the best documentation Bugs are contagious Eliminate failure cases Code that isn t running doesn t work Sometimes you just need to hammer the nails State and Statehood in the Global South Miriam Fahimi, Elmar Flatschart, Wolfram Schaffar, 2022-04-19 This book focuses on critical approaches to the state and state theory in the Global South In light of the reemergence of the post colonial and peripheral state as a crucial institution and actor in the 21st century s capitalist world system the book examines the nature functions and development dynamics of the state in the periphery as well as its constituting interests and struggles Drawing on the works of Poulantzas and Gramsci dependency and world systems theory as well as the regulation school and the German Ableitungsdebatte stategraphy and critical realism it analyzes the development of different theoretical perspectives on the state elaborates on their theoretical ontological and epistemological presuppositions and illustrates their methodological practical and ethical implications The book is divided into three parts the first of which provides an overview of recent global capitalist developments and challenges for state theory and lays the theoretical ontological and hermeneutic foundation for studies of the state and statehood in the Global South In turn the second part introduces readers to different schools of state theory including critical theory and materialism as well as approaches derived from postcolonial anthropological and feminist thought Lastly the third part presents various empirical studies highlighting concrete methodological and practical experiences of conducting critical state theory Indian

Foreign Policy Priya Chacko, 2013-06-17 The rise of India as a major power has generated new interest in understanding the drivers of its foreign policy This book argues that analysing India's foreign and security policies as representational practices which produce India's identity as a postcolonial nation state helps to illuminate the conditions of possibility in which foreign policy is made Spanning the period between 1947 and 2004 the book focuses on key moments of crisis such as the India China war in 1962 and the nuclear tests of 1972 and 1998 and the approach to international affairs of significant leaders like Jawaharlal Nehru The analysis sheds new light on these key events and figures and develops a strong analytical narrative around India's foreign policy behaviour based on an understanding of its postcolonial identity It is argued that a prominent facet of India's identity is a perception that it is a civilizational state which brings to international affairs a tradition of morality and ethical conduct derived from its civilizational heritage and the experience of its anti colonial struggle This notion of civilizational exceptionalism as well as other narratives of India's civilizational past such as its vulnerability to invasion and conquest have shaped the foreign policies of governments of various political hues and continue to influence a rising India Annual Report Iowa. Sexton, et al., as Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments of the City of New York, Statistical Approaches for Hidden Variables in Ecology Nathalie Peyrard, Olivier Gimenez, 2022-03-08 The study of ecological systems is often impeded by components that escape perfect observation such as the trajectories of moving animals or the status of plant seed banks These hidden components can be efficiently handled with statistical modeling by using hidden variables which are often called latent variables Notably the hidden variables framework enables us to model an underlying interaction structure between variables including random effects in regression models and perform data clustering which are useful tools in the analysis of ecological data This book provides an introduction to hidden variables in ecology through recent works on statistical modeling as well as on estimation in models with latent variables All models are illustrated with ecological examples involving different types of latent variables at different scales of organization from individuals to ecosystems Readers have access to the data and R codes to facilitate understanding of the model and to adapt inference tools to their own data

Brazilian Agrarian Social Movements Rebecca Tarlau,Anthony Pahnke,2018-02-02 Contradictions between impressive levels of economic growth and the persistence of poverty and inequality are perhaps nowhere more evident than in rural Brazil While Brazil might appear to be an example of the potential harmony between large scale export oriented agribusiness and small scale family farming high levels of rural resistance contradict this vision In this volume individual contributions from a variety of researchers across the field highlight seven key characteristics of contemporary Brazilian resistance that have broader resonance in the region and beyond the growth of international networks the changing structure of state society collaboration the deepening of territorial claims the importance of autonomy the development of alternative economies continued opposition to dispossession and struggles over the meaning of nature By analyzing rural mobilization in Brazil this collection offers a range of insights relevant to rural contention globally Each contribution in this title increases our understanding of alternative agricultural production large scale development projects education race and political parties in the contemporary agrarian context This book was previously published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies contemporary motherhood The tracking of our personal information activities and medical data through our digital devices is an increasingly recognizable field in which the lines between caretaking and control have blurred In this age of surveillance mothers behaviors and bodies are observed made public exposed scrutinized and policed like never before Supervision On Motherhood and Surveillance gathers together the work of fifty contributors from diverse disciplines that include the visual arts legal scholarship ethnic studies sociology gender studies poetry and activism to ask what the relationship is between how we watch and how we are watched and how the attention that mothers pay to their children might foster a kind of counterattention to the many ways in which mothers are scrutinized A groundbreaking collection Supervision is a project about vision and supervision and all the ways in which vision intersects with surveillance and politics through motherhood and personal history as well as through the histories and relations of the societies in which we live Contributors Melina Abdullah Jeny Amaya Gemma Anderson Nurcan Atalan Helicke Sarah Blackwood Lisa Cartwright Cary Beth Cryor Moyra Davey Duae Collective Sabba Elahi Laura Fong Prosper Regina Jos Galindo Michele Goodwin Alexis Pauline Gumbs Lily Gurton Wachter Sophie Hamacher Jessica Hankey Keeonna Harris La titia Badaut Haussmann Jennifer Hayashida Kenyatta A C Hinkle Lisbeth Kaiser Magdalena Kallenberger Caitlin Keliiiaa Anjuli Fatima Raza Kolb Stephanie Lumsden Irene Lusztig Tala Madani Jade Phoenix Martinez M nica Mayer Iman Mersal Jennifer C Nash H ng Ng Erika Niwa Priscilla Ocen Litia Perta Claudia Rankine Viva Ruiz Ming Smith Sable Elyse Smith Sheida Soleimani Stephanie Syjuco H ng n Tr ng Carrie Mae Weems Lauren Whaley Kandis Williams Mai a Williams Carmen Winant Kate Wolf and Hannah Zeavin People's Republic of China, Volumes I and II Frank N. Pieke, 2023-12-31 This title was first published in 2002 This two volume set collects in a conveniently accessible form the most influential articles by leading authorities in the study of China It provides an international reference work combined with an authoritative introduction by the editor The New Intergovernmentalism Christopher J. Bickerton, Dermot Hodson, Uwe Puetter, 2015 The twenty years since the signing of the Maastricht Treaty have been marked by an integration paradox although the scope of European Union EU activity has increased at an unprecedented pace this increase has largely taken place in the absence of significant new transfers of power to supranational institutions along traditional lines Conventional theories of European integration struggle to explain this paradox because they equate integration with the empowerment of specific supranational institutions under the traditional Community method New governance scholars meanwhile have not filled this intellectual void preferring instead to focus on specific deviations from the Community method rather than theorizing about the evolving nature of the European project The New Intergovernmentalism challenges established assumptions about how member states behave what supranational institutions want and where the dividing line between high and low politics is located and develops a new theoretical framework known as the new intergovernmentalism The fifteen chapters in this volume by leading political scientists political economists and legal scholars explore the scope and limits of the new intergovernmentalism as a theory of post Maastricht integration and draw conclusions about the profound state of political disequilibrium in which the EU operates This book is of relevance to EU specialists seeking new ways of thinking about European integration and policy making and general readers who wish to understand what has happened to the EU in the two troubled decades since 1992
