Anne Shaw Faulkner

Requiem Mass:

Mozart's Requiem Christoph Wolff, 1994 When was the score of the Requiem completed is a question that everyone has asked but Wolff goes on to ask Where do the technical and stylistic premises for the Requiem lie and to what extent could these be taken into account after Mozart's death This question is rich in implications central to the uniqueness of the work and virtually undiscussed in the Mozart literature Thomas Bauman co author of Mozart's Operas The Encyclopedia of Christianity Erwin Fahlbusch, Geoffrey William Bromiley, 1999 The Encyclopedia of Christianity is the first of a five volume English translation of the third revised edition of Evangelisches Kirchenlexikon Its German articles have been tailored to suit an English readership and articles of special interest to English readers have been added The encyclopedia describes Christianity through its 2000 year history within a global context taking into account other religions and philosophies A special feature is the statistical information dispersed throughout the articles on the continents and over 170 countries Social and cultural coverage is given to such issues as racism genocide and armaments while historical content shows the development of biblical and apostolic traditions This comprehensive work while scholarly is intended for a wide audience and will set the standard for reference works on Christianity Outstanding reference sources 2000 American Libraries May 2000 Comp by the Reference Sources Committee RUSA ALA American Masses and Requiems David P. DeVenney, 1990 Giving brief essential information on some 700 works this guide illustrates the scope of Mass and Requiem compositions of the United States from the early nineteenth century to the present day Messa da requiem Ferdinando Bertoni, The present edition is the second volume of three Collectively these editions form a critical anthology of requiem masses composed by musicians of St Mark's Venice over a long period extending from the late sixteenth century to the closing years of the nineteenth century The featured musician of this volume is Ferdinando Bertoni 1725 1813 who was much celebrated during the classical period as a composer of both sacred and secular music and who gained significant exposure as the master of music at St Mark's Most of the music in the edition can be firmly connected to the funeral of the heroic Admiral Angelo Emo 1731 92 which was held in St Mark's during 1792 Emo was no ordinary Venetian he was Venice's last admiral to lead La Serenissima into battle and a Procuratore de ultra of St Mark's a position placing him in the tier immediately below the ruling doge Lodovico Manin The music assembled here for the first time in a modern critical edition is a valuable relic of this temporal juncture in the history not only of the ducal church but of Venice broadly The requiem stands as one of the last outstandingly sumptuous works performed at the ducal church before Venice's fall from grace in the closing years of the eighteenth century With its kaleidoscopic mixture of styles the work may sit comfortably as the showpiece in a concert program or authentically as the musical backbone of an ecclesiastical setting as it was originally intended The Irish Ecclesiastical Record , 1881 Requiem mass for soli, chorus and orchestra Antonín Dvořák, 1891 Death, Dying, and Mysticism T.
