The Intellectual and Cultural Worlds of Rubén Darío Kathleen T. O'Connor-Bater,2022-12-29 Nicaraguan poet Rub n Dar o 1867

1916 has had a foundational influence on virtually all Spanish language writers and poets of the twentieth century and beyond. Yet while he is a household name among Hispanophone readers, the seminal modernista remains virtually unknown to an English readership. This book examines the writings of Rubén Darío as both poet and chronicler as he renovates language drawing lessons from ancient mythologies to embrace the ideal of art for art's sake all the while opposing United States aggression in the hemisphere along with the pseudo Bohemian European bourgeoisie in poetry and prose at the cusp of the Great War.

Re-reading Jose Martí (1853-1895) Julio Rodríguez-Luis, 1999-01-01 Re-evaluates Jose Martí's contribution to Latin America's literature and political evolution.

Selected Writings Ruben Dario, 2005-12-06 Born in Nicaragua Rubén Darío is known as the consummate leader of the Modernista movement, an esthetic trend that swept the Americas from Mexico to Argentina at the end of the nineteenth century. Seeking a language and a style that would distinguish the newly emergent nations from the old imperial power of Spain, Darío's writing offered a refreshingly new vision of the world, an artistic sensibility at once cosmopolitan and connected to the rhythms of nature. The first part of this collection presents Darío's most significant poems in a bilingual format and organized thematically in the way Darío himself envisioned them. The second part is devoted to Darío's prose, including short stories, fables, profiles, travel writing, reportage, opinion pieces, and letters. A sweeping biographical introduction by distinguished critic Ilan Stavans places Darío in historical and artistic context, not only in Latin America but in world literature. For more than seventy years, Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English-speaking world. Modernism, Rubén Darío, and the Poetics of Despair Alberto Acereda, Rigoberto Guevara, 2004 Modernism Rubén Darío and the Poetics of Despair presents a detailed study of a neglected facet of Rubén Darío and, in general, of Hispanic Modernism: metaphysical and existential dimensions as preludes to Modernity. Alberto Acereda and Rigoberto Guevara approach the life and death issues in Darío's works with special emphasis on his poetry. The authors demonstrate how the Nicaraguan poet takes the first steps towards poetic modernity. The tragic component of Darío's works is examined in the light of Nineteenth Century philosophy, especially the work of Arthur Schopenhauer. Various thematic proposals are also formulated for the study of the works of Rubén Darío.

A Companion to Spanish American Modernismo Aníbal González, 2007 Modernismo, a literary movement of fundamental importance to Spanish America and Spain, occurred at the turn of the nineteenth century, roughly from the 1880s to the 1920s. It is widely regarded as the first Spanish language literary movement that originated in the New World and that became influential in the Mother Country, Spain. Characterized by the appropriation of French Symbolist aesthetics into Spanish language literature, modernismo's other significant traits were its cultural cosmopolitanism, its philological concern with language, literary history and literary technique and its journalistic penchant for novelty and fashion Despite the splendor of modernista poetry modernismo is now understood as a broad movement whose impact was felt just as strongly in the prose genres the short story the novel the essay and the journalistic crónica chronicle Conceived as an introduction to modernismo as well as an account of the current state of the art of modernismo studies this book examines the movement's contribution to the various Spanish American literary genres its main authors from Martí and Neruda to Darío and Rodó its social and historical context and its continuing relevance to the work of contemporary Spanish American authors such as Gabriel García Márquez Sergio Ramírez Vargas Llosa AN BAL GONZ LEZ P REZ is Professor of Modern Latin American Literature at Yale University Modernism Astradur Eysteinnsson, Vivian Liska, 2007-10-04 The two volume work Modernism has been awarded the prestigious 2008 MSA Book Prize Modernism has constituted one of the most prominent fields of literary studies for decades While it was perhaps temporarily overshadowed by postmodernism recent years have seen a resurgence of interest in modernism on both sides of the Atlantic These volumes respond to a need for a collective and multifarious view of literary modernism in various genres locations and languages Asking and responding to a wealth of theoretical aesthetic and historical questions 65 scholars from several countries test the usefulness of the concept of modernism as they probe a variety of contexts from individual texts to national literatures from specific critical issues to broad cross cultural concerns While the chief emphasis of these volumes is on literary modernism literature is seen as entering into diverse cultural and social contexts These range from inter art conjunctions to philosophical environmental urban and political domains including issues of race and space gender and fashion popular culture and trauma science and exile all of which have an urgent bearing on the poetics of modernity Gothic Imagination in Latin American Fiction and Film Carmen A. Serrano, 2019-05-15 This work traces how Gothic imagination from the literature and culture of eighteenth and nineteenth century Europe and twentieth century US and European film has impacted Latin American literature and film culture Serrano argues that the Gothic has provided Latin American authors with a way to critique a number of issues including colonization authoritarianism feudalism and patriarchy The book includes a literary history of the European Gothic to demonstrate how Latin American authors have incorporated its characteristics but also how they have broken away or inverted some elements such as traditional plot lines to suit their work and address a unique set of issues The book examines both the modernistas of the nineteenth century and the avant garde writers of the twentieth century including Huidobro Bombal Rulfo Roa Bastos and Fuentes Looking at the Gothic in Latin American literature and film this book is a groundbreaking study that brings a fresh perspective to Latin American creative culture Woman and the Infinite Vialla Hartfield-Méndez, 1996 Woman and the Infinite demonstrates how Pedro Salinas's poetry and frequently overlooked narrative and theater reveal a preoccupation with the nature of time especially extraordinary moments that transcend space and time Many of these moments are intimately connected with the man woman yo tu relationship Salinas's exploration of this theme is best understood in the context of other modern literary evocations of epiphanic moments. Such literary phenomena as William Wordsworth's spots of time and James Joyce's epiphanies are among the precursors of Salinas's moments of eternity as are moments of timelessness in works by Marcel Proust and the French Symbolist poets. Salinas's reception of the Symbolists was direct but also refracted through his reading of the Latin American modernistas, especially Rubén Darío. In his well-known commentary on Darío, Salinas connects the perception of woman with a visionary moment of extraordinary lucidity, a connection found in his own works. Woman is elusive for Salinas. She has a multiplicity of forms and varying identities that are expressed with mirrors and shadows or Classical and Biblical mythological archetypes. All of these are found in Aurora de verdad from Vispera del gozo, a narrative piece which can be read as representative of Salinas's work as a whole. Specific images in the story, including mirrored figures and references to mythological goddesses, are also key elements in a trajectory in Salinas's works in general toward an all-encompassing absolute and infinite moment.

Aníbal González, 2018-05-03 In Search of the Sacred Book studies the artistic incorporation of religious concepts such as prophecy, eternity, and the afterlife in the contemporary Latin American novel. It departs from sociopolitical readings by noting the continued relevance of religion in Latin American life and culture despite modernity's powerful secularizing influence. Analyzing Jorge Luis Borges's secularized narrative theology in his essays and short stories, the book follows the development of the Latin American novel from the early twentieth century until today by examining the attempts of major novelists from María Luisa Bombal, Alejo Carpentier, and Juan Rufo to Julio Cortázar, Gabriel García Márquez, and José Lezama Lima to sacralize the novel by incorporating traits present in the sacred texts of many religions. It concludes with a view of the desacralization of the novel by more recent authors from Elena Poniatowska and Fernando Vallejo to Roberto Bolaño.
