The Emergence of International Society in the 1920s Daniel Gorman, 2012-08-20

Imperial Plots Sarah Carter, 2016-10-07 Sarah Carter's

Imperial Plots Women Land and the Spadework of British Colonialism on the Canadian Prairies examines the goals aspirations and challenges met by women who sought land of their own Supporters of British women homesteaders argued they would contribute to the spade work of the Empire through their imperial plots replacing foreign settlers and relieving Britain of its surplus women Yet far into the twentieth century there was persistent opposition to the idea that women could or should farm British women were to be exemplars of an idealized white femininity not toiling in the fields In Canada heated debates about women farmers touched on issues of ethnicity race gender class and nation Despite legal and cultural obstacles and discrimination British women did acquire land as homesteaders farmers ranchers and speculators on the Canadian prairies They participated in the project of dispossessing Indigenous people Their complicity was however ambiguous and restricted because they were excluded from the power and privileges of their male counterparts Imperial Plots depicts the female farmers and ranchers of the prairies from the Indigenous women agriculturalists of the Plains to the array of women who resolved to work on the land in the first decades of the twentieth century

Beyond the state Anna Greenwood, 2015-12-01 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license The Colonial Medical Service was the personnel section of the Colonial Service employing the doctors who tended to the health of both the colonial staff and the local populations of the British Empire Although the Service represented the pinnacle of an elite government agency its reach in practice stretched far beyond the state with the members of the African service collaborating formally and informally with a range of other non governmental groups This collection of essays on the Colonial Medical Service of Africa illustrates the diversity and active collaborations to be found in the untidy reality of government medical provision The authors present important case studies covering former British colonial dependencies in Africa including Kenya Malawi Nigeria Tanzania Uganda and Zanzibar They reveal many new insights into the enactments of colonial policy and the ways in which colonial doctors negotiated the day to day reality during the height of imperial rule in Africa The book provides essential reading for scholars and students of colonial history medical history and colonial administration An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence

Militarism, Hunting, Imperialism J.A. Mangan, Callum McKenzie, 2013-10-18 The late Victorian and Edwardian officer class viewed hunting and big game hunting in particular as a sound preparation for imperial warfare For the imperial officer in the making the bloody hunting ritual was a visible hallmark of stirring martial masculinity Sir Henry Newbolt the period poet of subaltern self sacrifice typically considered hunting as essential for the creation of a masculine sporting spirit necessary for the consolidation and extension of the empire Hunting was seen as a manifestation of Darwinian masculinity that maintained a pre ordained hierarchical order of superordinate and subordinate breeds

Militarism Hunting Imperialism examines these ideas under the following five sections martial imperialism the self sacrificial subaltern bloodying the middle class martial male the imperial officer hunting and war martial masculinity proclaimed and consolidated martial masculinity adapted and adjusted This book was published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport

Hoorweg,Barasa Wangila,A. Allan Degen,2009 Overexploitation of natural resources is often associated with poverty among local populations A multi disciplinary team studied artisanal fishers along the Kenyan coast on the Indian Ocean The main focus of the research was on income diversification of fishers the pressure on marine resources and the relation between the two Income diversification did not reduce the pressure on the marine environment Rather indications are that many part time fishers are entering the profession Moreover fishers with alternative employment stayed in shore and used damaging gear more often Policies to stimulate employment opportunities for coastal communities cannot be expected to lessen the pressure on marine resources and need to be planned carefully in terms of industry location labour requirements and degree of coastal pollution The Government and Administration of Africa, 1880-1939 Vol 2 Casper Anderson,Andrew Cohen,2017-07-05 This collection makes available rare sources on the aims functions and effects of British administration in Africa Topics examined include land and urban administration law and jurisprudence taxation and administration of natural resources "The Government and Administration of Africa, 1880?939 Vol 2 " Casper Anderson,2017-07-05 This collection makes available rare sources on
