Modern Landscape Architecture Redefining The Garden:

Modern Landscape Architecture Jory Johnson,1991      Environmentalism in Landscape Architecture Michel Conan,2000 The papers presented in this volume range from proposals for new design approaches historical analysis of the relationship between the practice of landscape architecture and environmentalism to the theories of early practitioners of landscape architecture imbued by an environmentalist outlook The issues above are addressed through topics as eclectic as the design of American zoos the establishment of the Tennessee Valley Authority road design and maintenance in Texas and criticism of relationships between the words and works of select landscape architects This volume provides a fresh approach to encounters between environmentalism and landscape architecture by reframing the issues through self reflection instead of strategic debate      Daniel Urban Kiley William S. Saunders,Anita Berrizbeitia,Dan Kiley,1999 Generally considered to be America s foremost postwar landscape architect Daniel Urban Kiley s earlier work is not well known This book focuses on several of his more creative projects from the 1940s and 1950s including more elaborate alternate plans      The Modern Garden Pierluigi Serraino,2024-10-01 Visionary landscape architecture and garden design at mid century in North America is captured by the greats of the era including Julius Shulman and Ezra Stoller in many previously unpublished photographs The treasures of mid century American architecture have long been celebrated Less appreciated has been the landscape design that provides the framing for these masterworks But more than frame landscape architecture is an art worthy of the spotlight particularly at mid century when the notion that gardens are outdoor spaces for people to live in was championed and brought to the fore now gardens and landscapes are not just external attributes to the house but a continuation of it and its living spaces in a relationship of symbiosis with its pools and terraces its winding lawns and its partly enclosed room like spaces flanked by brick or stone or plantings in a range of colors and forms Approximately seventy five mostly residential projects are thoroughly documented and recounted Landscape architects whose work is featured include Thomas Church Lawrence Halprin and Garrett Eckbo among others Highlights include the dramatic surrounds of Richard Neutra s Perkins House in its Pasadena hillside setting and Frank Lloyd Wright s Marin County Civic Center where environment and building comeingle in an extraordinary modernist vision of the future made real This book is both a wishful gesture toward a realignment of building with nature and a must have for anyone with a visceral appreciation for a designed environment understood as an integrated whole Ultimately the book underlines the fundamental importance of gardens and landscape design intended in the widest possible sense for the quality of living of all individuals      Creating Outdoor Classrooms Lauri Macmillan Johnson,Kim Duffek,2010-01-01 Schoolyards have come a long way from the barren playgrounds that many people remember Today s school campuses often feature gardens in which students can learn about native plants and wildlife grow vegetables and fruit explore cultural traditions practice reading and math skills and use their imaginations to create fun play spaces And for a growing number of urban students these schoolyard gardens offer the best if not the only opportunity to experience the natural world firsthand and enjoy its many benefits This book is a practical hands on guide for creating a variety of learning environments in the arid Southwest Filled with clear easy to use information and illustrated with photographs drawings and plans the book covers everything necessary to create schoolyard gardens An introduction to schoolyards as outdoor classrooms and several types of habitats including art gardens cultural history gardens ecological gardens literacy gardens and vegetable gardens Design theory including a history of garden styles and design principles and design elements Beginning the design process including identifying participants and writing a design program that sets out goals and requirements Conducting site research and synthesizing design elements to arrive at a final design Design essentials including project funding and design features maintenance accessibility safety and project evaluation and revision Wildlife ecology including elements needed for survival such as food and shelter Creating gardens for pollinators and other wildlife including hummingbirds butterflies bees moths bats and flies as well as pest control Lists of native plants for various kinds of habitats and nurseries that sell native plants as well as books web sites and other resources for learning more about native plants and wildlife This guide will be essential for landscape architects school personnel parents and students Indeed its principles can be used in designing schoolyard habitats across the country while its information on gardening with native plants and wildlife will be useful to homeowners across the Southwest

Cornelia Hahn

Oberlander Susan Herrington,2014-01-01 Cornelia Hahn Oberlander is one of the most important landscape architects of the twentieth century yet despite her lasting influence few outside the field know her name Her work has been instrumental in the development of the late twentieth century design ethic and her early years working with architectural luminaries such as Louis Kahn and Dan Kiley prepared her to bring a truly modern and audaciously abstract sensibility to the landscape design tradition In Cornelia Hahn Oberlander Making the Modern Landscape Susan Herrington draws upon archival research site analyses and numerous interviews with Oberlander and her collaborators to offer the first biography of this adventurous and influential landscape architect Born in 1921 Oberlander fled Nazi Germany at the age of eighteen with her family going on to become one of the few women to graduate from Harvard University's Graduate School of Design in the late 1940s For six decades she has practiced socially responsible and ecologically sensitive planning for public landscapes including the 1970s design of the Robson Square landscape and its adjoining Provincial Law Courts one of Vancouver's most famous spaces Herrington places Oberlander within a larger social and aesthetic context chronicling both her personal and professional trajectory and her work in New York Philadelphia Vancouver Seattle Berlin Toronto and Montreal Oberlander is a progenitor of some of the most significant currents informing landscape architecture today particularly in the area of ecological focus In her thorough biography Herrington draws much deserved attention to one of the truly important figures in landscape architecture

Gardens at the Frontier James Beattie, 2019-12-18 Gardens at the Frontier addresses broad issues of interest to architectural historians environmental historians garden writers geographers and other scholars It uses different disciplinary perspectives to explore garden history's thematic geographical and methodological frontiers through a focus on gardens as sites of cultural contact The contributors address the extent to which gardens inhibit or further cultural contact the cultural translation of garden concepts practices and plants from one place to another the role of non written sources in cultural transfer and which disciplines study gardens and designed landscapes and how and why their approaches vary Chapters cover a range of designed landscapes and locations periods and approaches medieval Japanese roji tea gardens a seventeenth century garden of southern China post war Australian natural gardens iconic twentieth century American modernist gardens international willow pattern design geology and designed landscapes gnomes and landscape authorship of a public garden Each chapter examines transfers of cultural ideas and their physical denouement This book was originally published as a special issue of Studies in the History of Gardens Designed Landscapes

Public Garden Management: a Global Perspective BIJAN DEHGAN, 2014-04-15 Public Gardens Management A Global Perspective provides essential information about public gardens and what is involved in designing managing and maintaining one Although suitable as a textbook its audience will include anyone with direct or peripheral responsibility for administration or supervision of a complex organization that requires scientific knowledge as well as public relations and business acumen It may also prove useful for homeowners for there is no fundamental difference between growing plants in a public garden or a home garden a fact reflected in the extensive reference citations The topic is multidisciplinary and as old as the beginning of human civilization when the concept of mental and physical restoration was realized by early man while he she was in a natural but well ordered garden environment Thus began the art of garden making Many volumes have been written on every applicable subject discussed in this and similar publications Indeed the voluminous literature on history design horticulture and numerous related subjects is nothing short of overwhelming Accordingly anyone involved in management of public gardens whether as a director or area supervisor and irrespective of the type and size of such facility would have to have familiarity with various aspects of garden organization and administration However despite the enormous number and diversity of such publications there are very few books that deal with the multiplicity of the topics in such a manner as to be practical in approach and cover most relevant and unified issues in a single book These volumes provide the essential background information on plants animals management maintenance fundraising and finances as well as history art design education and conservation They also cover a host of interrelated subjects and responsible organization of such activities as creating a childrens garden horticultural therapy conservatories zoological gardens and parks hence administration of multidimensional public gardens Nearly 500 full color plates representing illustrations from gardens in more than 30 countries are provided to assist and guide students and other interested individuals with history and the fundamental issues of public garden management The 15 chapters begin with the need for public gardens types of public gardens historical backgrounds as well as design diversity Numerous quotations are included from many garden lovers landscape architects philosophers and others The authors primary aim in writing this book was based on the confidence that a relevant reference between the encyclopedic nature of some and the specific subject matter of others could be used to provide fundamental information for management of public as well as private gardens The boundary between botanical and zoological gardens and parks is no longer as distinct as it once was In part it is because a garden is not a garden without plants and in part it has become apparent that for all practical intents and purposes all animals need plants for their survival Visitors of zoological gardens expect to see more than just animals zoos are landscaped grounds Moreover most communities find it financially difficult to simultaneously operate a botanical garden or an arboretum as well as a zoological garden and city parks A number of public gardens are currently referred to as botanical and zoological garden Population density and the publics desires and expectations as well as financial requirements are among the reasons for some major city parks such as Golden Gate in San Francisco Central Park in New York City and Lincoln Park in Chicago which integrate botanical or zoological divisions as well as museums and recreational facilities While this book attempts to provide basic principles involved in public garden management it does not claim to be a substitute for broader familiarity

Active Landscape Photography

Anne C Godfrey, 2023-04-28 Diverse Practices the third book in the Active Landscape Photography series presents a set of unique photographic examples for site specific investigations of landscape places Contributed by authors across academia practice and photography each chapter serves as a rigorous discussion about photographic methods for the landscape and their underlying concepts Chapters also serve as unique case studies about specific projects places and landscape issues Project sites include the Miller Garden Olana XX Miller Prize and the Philando Castile Peace Garden Landscape places discussed include the archeological landscapes of North Peru watery littoral zones the remote White Pass in Alaska Sao Paulo and New York City s Chinatown Photographic image making approaches include the use of lidar repeat photography collage mapping remote image capture portraiture image mining of internet sources visual impact assessment cameraless photography transect walking and interviewing These diverse practices demonstrate how photography when utilized through a set of specific critical methods becomes a rich process for investigating the landscape Exploring this concept in relationship to specific contemporary sties and landscape issues reveals the intricacy and subtlety that exists when photography is used actively Practitioners academics students and researchers will be inspired by the underlying concepts of these examples and come away with a better understanding about how to create their own rigorous photographic practices
