Modern Culture From A Comparative Perspective:

Modern Culture from a Comparative Perspective Wilfred Cantwell Smith, 1997-07-10 A distinguished historian of religion explores the contemporary culture of the Western world

The Legacy of Wilfred Cantwell Smith Ellen Bradshaw Aitken (1961-2014), Arvind Sharma, 2017-03-15 First work to address the legacy of Wilfred Cantwell Smith and his influence on the development of religious studies and Islamic studies in the twentieth century This is the first work to address the legacy of Wilfred Cantwell Smith 1916 2000 whose intellectual and institutional contributions helped shape the field of religious studies in the latter half of the twentieth century As a young scholar Smith taught Indian and Islamic history in Lahore for several years and witnessed the partition of India Upon his return to North America he obtained his PhD at Princeton University before embarking upon a long and distinguished career He founded the Institute of Islamic Studies at McGill University and served as director of the Center for the Study of World Religions at Harvard University Smith emphasized the place of the scholarly study of Islam in the Western academy long before Islam occupied its current position at the center of global politics challenged the notion of monolithic world religions and argued for the importance of dialogical processes and a personalist approach to the study of religion Contributors to this volume many of whom were Smith's students provide a wide ranging exploration of his influence and legacy

Buddhism and Christianity in Dialogue Perry Schmidt-Leukel, 2005 This book is written for a general as well as a more specialist readership On the one hand it introduces basic topics of Buddhist Christian dialogue on the other hand it opens up new ground particularly insofar as the Buddhist and the Christian contributors all write comparatively

The Culture and Development Manifesto Robert Klitgaard, 2021 With fascinating examples from around the world this inspiring manifesto shows how to account for cultural diversity in reshaping economic and political development Around the world the realities of underdevelopment are harsh and galling and current strategies are not working well enough or quickly enough One reason Robert Klitgaard argues in this pathbreaking book is that the strategies don't take cultural diversity into account Gently but firmly he shows how and why anthropology and cultural studies have not been effectively applied But it need not be so The Culture and Development Manifesto shows how to mobilize knowledge from and for the disadvantaged the indigenous and the voiceless Looking beyond interactions between cultural contexts and particular projects Klitgaard seeks new ways to think about goals new kinds of alternatives new and perhaps hybrid ways to implement or resist and as a result new kinds of politics In short this remarkable book fundamentally re-envisions what development policy can be good or bad by themselves because of the way they influence human life The book advances the thesis that technical artefacts conceived of as physical constructions with a technical function have a dual nature they are hybrid objects combining physical and intentional features It proposes a theory of technical functions and technical artefact kinds that does justice to this dual nature analyses engineering design from the dual nature point of view and argues that technical artefacts because of their dual nature have inherent moral significance

Religious Narratives in Contemporary Culture, 2021-04-26

Religious Narratives in Contemporary Culture Between Cultural Memory and Transmediality analyses the meaning and role of religion in western cultural practices in the twenty first century This inquiry situates itself at the intersection between cultural memory studies and the transmedial study of narrative and art Contributors focus on genres which have yet to receive significant critical attention within the field including speculative fiction films and television series autobiographical prose and poetry and action adventure video games In this time of crisis where traces of religious thinking still persist in the presence or absence of religious faith this volume s collective look into some of their cultural embodiments is necessary and timely The volume is addressed primarily to scholars and students interested in intersections between religious and cultural studies revisions of traditional religious narratives literature as a space of reflection on today s world contemporary media studies and remediation Maria Sabina Draga Alexandru s editing work in the last stages of this volume was supported by a grant of the Romanian Ministry of Education and Research CNCS UEFISCDI project number PN III P3 3 6 H2020 0035

Buddhist and Christian? Rose Drew, 2013-07-03 The last century witnessed a gradual but profound transformation of the West s religious landscape In today s context of diversity people are often influenced by and sometimes even claim to belong to more than one religious tradition Buddhism and Christianity is a particularly prevalent and fascinating combination This book is the first detailed exploration of Buddhist Christian dual belonging engaging from both Buddhist and Christian perspectives the questions that arise and drawing on extensive interviews with well known individuals in the vanguard of this important and growing phenomenon The book looks at whether it is possible to be authentically Buddhist and authentically Christian given the differences in beliefs and practices It asks whether Buddhist Christians are irrational religiously schizophrenic or spiritually superficial or whether the thought and practice of Buddhism and Christianity can be reconciled in a way that makes possible deep commitment to both Finally the book considers whether the influence of Buddhist Christians on each of these traditions is something to be regretted or celebrated

Philosophical and Cultural Interpretations of Russian Modernisation Katja Lehtisaari, Arto Mustajoki, 2016-09-13 In this book the expert international contributors attempt to answer questions such as How far is it possible to attribute change in contemporary Russia as due to cultural factors How does the process of change in cultural institutions reflect the general development of Russia Are there certain philosophical ideas that explain the Russian interpretation of a modern state This edited volume elaborates on processes of Russian modernisation regarding a wide range of factors including the use of modern technology elements of civil society a reliable legal system high levels of education equality among citizens freedom of speech religion and trade The main focus is on the Putin era but historical backgrounds are also discussed adding context The chapters cover a wide spectrum of research fields from philosophy and political ideas to gender issues language the education system and the position of music as a constituent of modern identity Throughout the book the chapters are written so as to introduce experts from other fields to new perspectives on Russian modernisation and de modernisation processes It will be of great interest to postgraduates and scholars in Philosophy Politics IR Music and Cultural Studies and of course Russian studies

Learning Strategies and Cultural Evolution during the Palaeolithic Alex Mesoudi, Kenichi Aoki, 2015-04-30 This volume is motivated by the desire to explain why Neanderthals were replaced by modern humans in terms of cultural differences between the two sub species It provides up to date coverage on the theory of cultural evolution as is being used by anthropologists archaeologists biologists and psychologists to decipher hominin cultural change and diversity during the Palaeolithic The contributing authors are directly involved in this effort and the material presented includes novel approaches and findings Chapters explain how learning strategies in combination with social and demographic factors e g population size and mobility patterns predict cultural evolution in a world without the printing press television or the Internet Also addressed is the inverse problem of how learning strategies may be inferred from actual trajectories of cultural change for example as seen in the North American Palaeolithic Mathematics and statistics a sometimes necessary part of theory are explained in elementary terms where they appear with details relegated to appendices Full citations of the relevant literature will help the reader to further pursue any topic of interest

Modern Gnosis and Zionism Yotam Hotam, 2013-05-20 In the late nineteenth and early twentieth century the German intellectual world was challenged by a growing distrust in the rational ideals of the enlightenment and consequently by a belief in the existence of a radical cultural crisis One response to this crisis was the emergence of Life Philosophy which celebrated the irrational expressive instinctive and spontaneous while rejecting the rational conscious and logical Around the same time and place Zionist thought crystallized It discussed issues like the Jewish essence the creation of a new Jewish person and a new Jewish community return to the Jewish homeland and the negation of the diasporic way of life This book explores the connections between Zionism and Life Philosophy and argues that Life Philosophy represents a modern secularized version of gnostic dualism between God and world and that this was a particular secular impulse that lay at the core of the Zionist political mission Consisting of two main sections the book first shows the manner in which Life Philosophy should be understood as a modern secularized gnostic theology before concluding by discussing its political Zionist interpretation Drawing on published works of a wide range of thinkers and intellectuals alongside a variety of unpublished materials this book will be welcomed by students and scholars of Jewish studies the philosophy of Judaism and religion and philosophy more generally

Mapping

World Anglophone Studies Pavan Kumar Malreddy, Frank Schulze-Engler, 2024-10-30 This book explores core issues in the emerging field of World Anglophone Studies. It shows that traditional frameworks based on the colonial and imperial legacies of English need to be revised and extended to understand the complex adaptations, iterations and incarnations of English in the contemporary world. The chapters in this volume make three significant interventions in the field. First, they showcase the emergence of Anglophone literatures and cultures in parts of the world not traditionally considered Anglophone: Cuba, the Arab world, the Balkan region, Vietnam, Algeria, and Belize, among others. Second, they feature new zones of contact and creolization between Anglophone literatures, cultures, and languages such as Swahili, Santhali, Ojibway, and Hindi, as well as Anglophone representations of colonial encounters and contemporary experiences in non-Anglophone settings such as Cuba, Angola, and Algeria. And finally, the volume turns to Anglophone literary and cultural productions on new platforms such as social media and Netflix, and highlights the role of English in emergent sites of resistance involving women, Indigenous populations, queer, and other non-heteronormative sexualities, as well as post-conflict societies. Mapping linguistic transgressions and the transmigration of cultural tropes between Englishes, vernaculars, and a wide variety of other languages, with a rich set of case studies, this volume will be essential reading for courses such as world literatures in English, postcolonial studies, Anglophone studies, literature and culture, Indian Ocean worlds, Global Englishes, and Global South studies.

Between Manuscript and Print Sylvia Brockstieger, Paul Schweitzer-Martin, 2023-07-24 A cross-cultural comparative view on the transition from a predominant culture of handwriting to a predominant culture of print in the late medieval and early modern periods is provided here, combining research on Christian and Jewish European book culture with findings on East Asian manuscript and print culture. This approach highlights interactions and interdependencies instead of retracing a linear process from the manuscript book to its printed successor. While each chapter is written as a disciplinary study focused on one specific case from the respective field, the volume as a whole allows for transcultural perspectives. It thereby not only focusses on change but also on simultaneities of manuscript and printing practices, as well as on shifts in the perception of media, writing surfaces, and materials. Which values did writers, printers, and readers attribute to the handwritten and printed materials? For which types of texts was handwriting preferred or perceived as suitable? How and under which circumstances could handwritten and printed texts coexist even within the same document, and which epistemic dynamics emerged from such textual assemblages?
